—Hides bought at the harness shop.
—Don't forget the dance Friday evening, April 21st.

—Highest market prices paid for wheat. GRANT GUTHRIE.

—Harrison needs a shoemaker. Who will induce one to come here and open a shop?

—J. H. Bartell, Harrison, Neb., deals in pumps and windmills. Satisfaction guaranteed.

—If you want to sell your land, list it with Simmons & Smiley, real estate agents.

—C. R. Wadsworth will move to the Cook place in a few days to engage in gardening.

—100 acres adjoining Harrison for sale at a bargain, if taken soon.

SIMMONS & SMILEY.

—There will be a large amount of the prairie of Sioux county broken this season. That means prosperity.

—Take out a policy in the Preferred Mutual Accident Association. It is cheap and reliable. L. J. SIMMONS, Agent.

—J. W. Scott is doing the work of assessing Brown precinct in the absence of W. E. Moore. It is the season of the year when people feel very poor.

—For real estate at a bargain, a business lot and building in a good location in Harrison. SIMMONS & SMILEY.

—The local sawmills are not able to supply the demand for lumber and Hester has to ship in to provide for the demands of his customers.

—Four or five press drills will be in use in this locality this season and a test will be made on spring and fall grain. All will watch the result with interest.

—People are rolling from almost all directions and Sioux county is being settled faster now than at any stage of its existence and the tide has just started.

—The quality of horses which the new settlers have brought to Sioux county will do much to help develop the county. There is little use trying to subdue wild land with small horses.

—A dance will be given at the court house hall, on Friday evening, April 21. This will likely be the last dance of the season and all are invited to attend and enjoy themselves. Good music will be furnished and a good time is assured.

—Rev. Glasner dropped in one day last week just long enough to say "How do." He and Mrs. Glasner were on their way from Harrison to Mrs. G's homestead in Sheridan county to make arrangements to prove up.—Hemingford Guide.

—C. R. Glover of Long Pine, was in Harrison on Monday looking after some real estate matters. He says that this part of the state is bound to receive a heavy immigration this season and vacant land will soon be a thing of the past.

—A horse belonging to E. E. Smiley got tangled up in a wire fence a few days ago and injured itself so that it had to be shot.

—Robert Neece has purchased the land formerly owned by E. W. Downey in the eastern part of the county. Mr. Downey expects to spend the summer in the east.

—In the tie for trustee between J. W. Scott and W. E. Bridgman the former pulled the long straw and so will be one of the "city dads" for the ensuing municipal year.

—Supt. O'Brien writes that the next delivery of trout will be made some time in May. The supply will be limited, hardly sufficient to fill the applications that have been sent in. Those who have not applied will have to wait until next season for trout.

—The increased number of farmers in this locality and the increased acreage being cultivated together with the erection of new farm houses and barns is giving the country a much more pleasing and attractive appearance. At the present rate the change in a couple of years will be so great that those who have known the country in the past will not be able to recognize it. All it needs is plenty of people.

—Early Ohio seed potatoes for sale by J. H. Bartell.

—Old papers for sale at THE JOURNAL office. 5 cents per dozen.

—Do you want to rent your farm? Put it in the hands of the real estate firm of Simmons & Smiley.

—J. H. Bartell is putting up a Steel Giant windmill for C. W. Crouson on his farm south of town.

—Rev. Glasner will preach at Badre next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at Harrison, at 7 o'clock.

—Capt. Smith, a noted character in the early settlement of Sioux county, passed through on the eastbound train Monday evening.

—The farmers are pushing their spring work as rapidly as possible. There was little plowing done last fall and hence there is a good deal to do this spring and it is making the farmers get a hump on themselves.

—Commissioner Knott met with a mishap while returning home from the meeting of the board last week. His horse went through a bridge and he was somewhat hurt by being thrown from his wagon.

—Too much care cannot be taken to prevent prairie fires. The damage done to grass and timber, to say nothing of buildings, hay, etc., by a fire is hard to estimate and every precaution should be used to prevent them.

—I will run a herd on Duck creek, near Ardmore the coming season. The stock will be well taken care of and kept on good grass. Only 75 cents a head for cattle and $1.00 a head for horses for the season of six months.

J. W. OSTRANDER.

—Last Friday Robert Keel and bride arrived from Texas. They will reside on the farm of T. O. Williams until Mr. Keel can build a house on his own place. All extend best wishes to Mr. Keel and lady for a long and happy married life.

—Foss & Eason, the well-known photographers of Chadron, will be in Harrison on April 20th, prepared to do all kinds of work in their line. They will only remain until May 5th. Those desiring photos should take advantage of this opportunity. First-class work guaranteed.

—Will Phillips arrived on Tuesday. The man whom he expected to come with him was so sick that he was unable to come, but he and others are expected in a short time. Will says it is very dry in that part of the state, the winter wheat being damaged to quite an extent already.

—Henry Covey, J. C. Ambrose and Jack Bogart arrived yesterday from Seward with two cars filled with stock, machinery and household goods and are now full fledged citizens of Sioux county. They say that more will follow in the near future.

—Last Thursday W. A. Randolph, a cousin of Mrs. J. M. Smiley and two Phillips boys, arrived from Le Sueur, Minn., to see the country. He is so well pleased that he has written for his father to come and he is expected here in a few days. All that is needed is to get people to come here to see the country and they are almost certain to be pleased.

—It is reported that a corps of rail road engineers are at work in the vicinity of Casper, Wyo., surveying a line of road from that place to some where, but just where does not seem to be known, neither is it at all certain what company they represent. Let all hope it will lead to improved train service along this line in spite of the Newberry bill.

—On last Monday the editor of THE JOURNAL received a bran new, first-class type writer. It is expected that the next report of the officials of the hospitals for the insane will show a great decrease in the number of persons sent to them for treatment after this date, as parties to whom the editor is compelled to write will not be driven stark mad by attempting to decipher the marks he makes on paper to represent letters.

—C. D. Plimpton intends to complete his fish pond in the near future and will stock it with fish. James Nolan has a pond which he will stock and Irving Wilson and J. W. Earnest will do likewise. There are many fine trout now in White river and J. H. Cook and A. McGinley have carp of good size in their ponds on Running Water. To have plenty of fish will be an added attraction to Sioux county.

—On Monday night quite a rain fell in this locality and Tuesday was a genuine April day. It rained and snowed at the same time and amid clouds and sunshine, and a good strong breeze was blowing most of the time and Wednesday was about the same kind of a day. The rain wet the top of the ground so as to help start the grass in good shape and still did not interfere with farm work to any extent. Thus far the season has been very favorable for the farmers.

PERSONAL.

W. E. Brown went north Saturday.

E. C. House was in Harrison yesterday.

Rev. Giffen returned to Crawford last evening.

E. W. Downey called Saturday and gave us some cash on subscription.

Mrs. C. R. Wadsworth returned last evening from a visit at Lusk.

W. W. Wood, of Rushville, was a passenger on the eastbound train last night.

C. F. Coffee and J. W. Earnest returned yesterday from a trip down the road.

L. S. Foss was up from Chadron on Monday to arrange to come here with a photographer outfit.

Asa Davis returned to Custer Monday night and will bring his family here as soon as Mrs. Davis is able to travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Day arrived from Jackson, Mich., on Saturday to make their home here. They are now at Agate Springs.

Time for Action.

It is time some arrangement was by the people of this place for a cemetery. All will admit that this is a healthy climate and people stand an excellent chance of living to a good old age, but time is fleeting and people will die and have to be buried. So far this place has existed without a cemetery. Those who have died have been buried on a little hill south of town, and it was generally supposed that the ground could be secured and platted and be made the last resting place of those whose life ended here. Such, however, was not the case, for when written in regard to the matter the owners of the land declined to entertain a proposition to sell it for the use desired. That will necessitate the removal of the bodies buried there and prompt action should be taken to get a piece of land and have it laid out and set apart for burial purposes. If some one has a piece of land suitable for such use which he would dispose of it would be well for him to let it be known in order that an association may be organized and get in shape to care for it. It looks rather haphazard to allow such matters to drift along now that the facts are known.

Warbonnet News.

J. B. Y. has been appointed road supervisor for Warbonnet precinct and will look after the highways.

Most of the farmers in the valley are all through sowing wheat and are ready for growing weather.

It is reported that the fire east of town last week destroyed 100 cords of wood belonging to J. T. Mason, and a quantity of lumber belonging to Mr. Cox.

Rev. Giffen is engaged in Sabbath school work in the valley.

Some one started a fire on the breaks of Monroe, but the rain put it out before it did any damage.

Robert Keel will cultivate T. O. Williams' farm this season.

—Last week appears to have been an unusual one for storms and high winds. At New York and Boston from six to eight inches of snow fell. At Chicago trees and buildings were laid low and a great deal of window glass broken by hail stones. Hail storms also prevailed in Michigan. South Dakota suffered from wind and snow storms. Western and northwestern Nebraska experienced a high wind and a great deal of damage was done by prairie fires. In the sand hill country east of Alliance a large tract of country was burned over and much hay and grass and some buildings destroyed. At Fort Robinson a fire came sweeping along before a very high wind last Friday afternoon and the troops had hard work to keep it out of the buildings. The buildings on the farm of N. C. Hufelings, a few miles from Ft. Robinson in this county, were destroyed. On Saturday afternoon a fire was noticed a few miles east of town and a number of men went out and assisted the settlers in back firing so as to prevent it from coming any nearer town. It is singular how so many fires get started. Great care should be taken in future to prevent fires.

—While there was no increase in the number of beet sugar factories in this country last year, the production was nearly doubled, reaching a total of 2,783,333 pounds, against 1,504,838 pounds the previous year. Although it is not to be expected that the number of factories will be much increased this year, owing to the uncertainty in regard to bounties and tariffs, the production for 1893 will undoubtedly show another large advance. The western states adapted to the cultivation of the sugar beet, among which Nebraska is one of the first, are capable of an almost unlimited production of sugar. Under favorable conditions the industry is a profitable one and there is every reason to believe that it will become very extensive and important in this state within a few years.—Omaha Bee

Polk County Reform.

Lincoln Journal.

Polk county is the old home of I. D. Chamberlain and old anti-monopoly. The farmers of that county have been taught to believe as one of the fundamental truths of their faith that the farmer is the producer of all wealth and that the other fellows manage to absorb it in the distribution. They have been led to believe that the farmer pays all the taxes and bears other burdens too numerous to schedule. The assessors met in Polk county the other day and agreed upon a basis of assessment for the ensuing year. The result is startling. The actual value of land in the county is from $25 to $50 per acre. It will be assessed at from $2.50 to $4.10 per acre—less than one-tenth of its real value. Hogs go in at 50 cents a hundred and other things in proportion, excepting village property, which must be listed at one-fourth its selling price. And the men who agreed to this gross, and as Rosewater would say, high handed outrage upon the state, are for the most part patron saints of the "reformation," elected to save the remnants of the republic from the further ravages of moral, political and financial ruin; put forward in their respective localities as nominees of better government under the new dispensation. This thing is done to avoid paying a fair proportion of the state tax, for the purpose of making their fellow tax payers in other parts of the state pay a part of Polk county's indebtedness to this glorious commonwealth. Is I. D. Chamberlain dead? Is it possible that after his years of doleful howling for the children of Israel to get on their hind legs and preach unselfishness in others, he has taught them to be supremely selfish themselves? If this is reform, if this is that for which we have toiled and waited all the days of our life, then, indeed have we been led astray and righteousness is still afar off.
