A bank failure in these later summer days is a rarity. The comptroller of the currency finds his entire time taken up with the banks that are ready to reopen their doors.—Omaha Bee.

From what State Supt. Goudy wrote, as published in the Independent, County Superintendent Southworth was not posted when he said that there was no appropriation with which to supply teachers' records.

The letter of Governor Crouse declining to appoint delegates to the sectional convention to be held at St. Louis is almost good enough to stone for his having retained Garment as worlds fair commissioner.

The government's experiments at the beet sugar station at Schuyler, Neb., show that beets grown from Nebraska seed are ten per cent richer in sugar than the beets originally grown from imported seed. This is a most important demonstration which will be encouraging to beet growers in Nebraska.—Kearney Hub.

The Argus claims that Sampson was a populist, but Colonel D. R. Anthony, of the Leavenworth Times, goes him several sooner. He says: "Satan was the first populist. He taught the people to be dissatisfied with their lot and led them to believe that they were abused when they were not given the whole earth with a fence around it."—Albion News.

Never has so many train robberies been reported as of late. Almost daily the papers contain accounts of attempts in that line, so that it has come to be referred to as an epidemic of train robbing. Express and railroad companies are taking steps to protect themselves and their patrons. In a number of instances the robbers have been repulsed with loss of life at the hands of those in charge of the train. There will likely be some sharp fighting if the attempts are continued.

Charles Weston, of Hay Springs, is a candidate for regent of the state university and his name will be presented to the republican state convention backed by a number of the northwest counties. He is highly spoken of by those who know him, and if the northwest ever expects to get anything it must get in a solid mass and it will be well for Sioux county to stay with the crowd.

Steps are being taken to have a test well for artesian water put down at Alliance. A great many people in northwest Nebraska are very anxious to have such an experiment made, but so far it has proven too expensive for any locality to tackle. It is hoped that the thing will be made a go at Alliance and that a gusher will reward the venture.

Senator Stewart does not explain the meaning of the Fremont Tribune in reference to the contests. It must be that he was into so many dirty schemes that he is afraid that he might try to explain the wrong one and get tangled in a web of his own weaving. What has become of the "honor" about which he was so sensitive a short time ago?

The Tucker bill the object of which is the repeal of the federal elections law is causing a good deal of stir in congress and a hard fight will be made by the members from the south to carry the bill through. It is the measure by which the democrats hope to be enabled to maintain their supremacy, but its passage is considered doubtful.

The crop report for August shows a large decline in all of the principal grain crops throughout the United States, while fruit and potatoes are out of sight. The result of such a condition in other years would be advanced prices, but in these good old democratic times the purchasing ability of the people has decreased just about as much as has the amount of the products so that there is not likely to be any material change in prices.

Terrence Powderly is out with a demand for the government control of railroads in order that the men employed on them may receive higher wages and pensions at the close of their term of service. The pops have been out for three years now clamoring for government control in order that the cost of transportation may be reduced. When Terrence and the pops finally get on top and begin putting their theories into practical application there will be a halcyon on tap.—Lincoln Journal.

It looks as if the silver advocates in the senate had talked repeal to death. It is claimed that the administration is now attempting to bring about a compromise. The situation proves that neither free silver nor a single gold standard will be the result. The business of the country is resuming its normal tone and the money is getting back into the channels of trade for the people have become satisfied that good money will continue to be the currency of the nation. Now if congress will take some action which will show that it does not intend to force free trade on the people, the factory wheels will once more begin to move and the cry of hard times would soon be extinguished by the hum of industry.

The wild attempt of the editor of the Omaha Bee to secure the nomination of his pet candidate for another term on the supreme bench has brought out some peculiar things. One of the most amusing is the statement by the "Pilate" of the republican party that he did not seek to be made member of the national committee and that the position was forced upon him. The people of the state have not forgotten the warfare waged by Rosewater on his predecessor on the committee for a long time before the selection of a new man was made and any one who has watched the tactics adopted by the Bee man knows what such a course under such circumstances means. Again it has been shown that Rosewater secured a renewal of the lease of the apartments used as army headquarters by democratic endorsement on the grounds that he had helped to elect John A. McShane to congress and had done as much to elect Boyd governor as any democrat in Nebraska. It is about time that the republican party should cease to bow down to such a creature. His pitiful whine is pretty well shut out by the scorings given him by Ross L. Hammond and L. D. Richards. If Maxwell was the best man to have been nominated a short time ago he has lost his availability by the action of Rosewater. It is to be regretted that the fight has been forced in the republican ranks by Rosewater in his attempt to force the party to do an unwise thing. The democrats and pops have been predicting dire disaster to the republican party if it does not make Maxwell its candidate. The leaders of the opposition know full well that Maxwell is weak and hence they want him put up in hopes of electing one of their own kind of people. It would be a credit to the aged chief justice if he would step aside and give some good, young western man a chance to throw himself into the breach and lead the party to victory in November.

As predicted in these columns last week Chas. E. Verity has become the editor of the Independent, having resigned as cashier of the Bank of Harrison and he proceeds—like all his predecessors who have run the opposition paper—to waste into the editor of THE JOURNAL. As the opposition paper has devoted more space to that subject for something over four years than to say other its readers will no doubt appreciate a series of articles on the topic. A case is cited where editor of this paper did not meet a note when due and has since spoken of the cashier of the bank from whom the money was obtained as inconsistent in advocating pop doctrines and continue in the banking business. Of course it is a high crime not to be able to meet debts promptly and it is certainly ungrateful after having paid the debt and good interest, not to always uphold the cashier in all of his political moves, and should any of the homesteaders to whom Mr. Verity has loaned money at 6 per cent a month fail to help him carry on his selfish, contemptible schemes they will be forever branded as being "ungrateful."

Because Simmons did not pay a note when due it is all that is needed to justify all the acts of treachery on the part of the reformer-for-6-per-cent-a-month. It is all the excuse necessary for the conspiracy of Verity, Lindeman, Guthrie and their strikers in the village election last spring.

Because the editor of THE JOURNAL did not pay a note promptly is probably the excuse Senator Stewart will give for his dishonorable tricks during the legislative session.

Because Simmons did not pay a note promptly is all the reason necessary why men who can be controlled by the grand dictator of the little ring of cute people should be elected to office at the coming election, regardless of the interests of the people.

It is the same old cry of "look at Simmons" in order to detract attention from the acts of those sham reformers who are under the thumb of Mr. Verity. But the people have become aware of the fact that office or boodle is all that Verity and his strikers have "reformed" for and will act accordingly.
