One of the greatest railroad strikes ever known has grown out of the trouble between the Pullman car company and its employees and there are few if any towns in the country which are not effected thereby. It does not seem just. fair or reasonable that the people and business of the entire country should be made to suffer because of a difficulty between a local company and its men, and some means should be devised to pretent it.

The assessination of the president of France is but another proof of the fact Nime a wave of grankism is now prevailing mall parts of the world and that it is but right and proper that those who are exposed to the dangers of their post- the county the hist of the week. tions use due care to protect themselves. And yet there are a class of people and papers which still kick because the authorities would not let Coxey and his crowd do as they pleased on the government property at Washington. It is well known that a number of cranks have gained admission to the presence of the president since he has been in office and the next one who does so is just as apt to shoot him as to make a request for something to which he is not entitled or qualified.
