Russell, the boy actor, who niuch of the part of "Little Lord an to b is now quite a big boy, of," is now quite a big boy, and is now at school sludving table d gengineering. Another "Little oming to runtleroy" was Elsie Lestie aft the stage, but only tem and wa Else expects to make her Else expects to make her a woman actress when she a les," m warm; time w stabl. e day b at mig to the di ling she ld und lidge to otate hi There elication. - White.

BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

work and Indigestion go rated thought, continued in tobach of necessary blood, and this is a hard physical labor of pard physical labor

for horse power engine is made horse power work something is heak. Very often the hard hear coming from the field or the bolt "his food in a few mindwill take hours to digred. Then foods are about as useful in the is a keg of nails would be in a re boiler. The ill used atomach a do its work without the proper which it gets from the blood and The nerves are weak and leady because they do not get the

because they do not get the they require from the blood, I used brain is mortally wide the overworked man at rest in bed feet in bed

to the busy man the full en e and healthy digestion when Pierce's Pleasant Fellers to us stomach or after a too and Dr. Pictor's Golden

est. The "Pellete" are tiny pills made of highly concen-dde ingredients which relieve of all offending matters easily aly. They need only be taken time to cure the billousness.

and slothfulness, or torpor of hen the "Medical Discovery" be taken in teaspoonful closes to me the blood and enrich it. It has a effect upon the lining membranes assuach and howely toning up and pening them for all time. The tland in Hand.

farm ill will e crop e year grown, luced to hem, or e mann

ie grap the soil nd trees derive a year them e into s fa. Pa., as illy in I iavana friend the the gh, and in leng at can b cultivat

g bushe ed of the w at the first p rs and ets, If f ber eller pieces be choke g no s in and growing

vhich, i would ltivated varieti

o time

vely gr OWn tme of Sept. 1 nter on clove develo in Not e delive n. The apples rchang m the 3¼c per The p $6 to the fi er. vils.

make

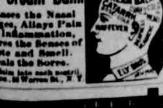

mbing uddenly

an el

dden d is mine ago Ariz ni a mesi ituatio ed the of the inted A with pl taken.

g piece ented i esitated behind of the ast exp made azed at on to kineraly first thing to-morrow; I only wish you would come and spend ou must really come there too. You must indeed. There is no one but my usin, a little girs, to whom the place grandmother, Mrs. Cambell, and my belongs. Mrs. Campbell is a most hos-will be a downpour by and by. I can

"I upon my word, you are too kind."

seen the castle yet. It is a huge place.

can't it? Anything more? Rugs.

CHAPTER IV.

PLAYFELLOWS.

And which am I mest like? she said: Your chies, or your nut-brown maid?"

Driving along, Cecil chatted merrily, upon the stables whenever he visited

He was now in the apolegetic vein.

The property, he confined, was being nursed at present. There was a good deal of retrenchment going on.

The grounds were not kept up as they had been its grandfather had knowled off a lot of under-strappers and use cas hangers on The gardens tee, than been ridl alously expensive, and she had curtailed them consider-

of course, when his consincame of age.

could then do as she chose! but for the present he thought his granumother to almost anything at the moment.

The relief of getting away from the hovel, the thought of which had

A respectable elderly ma or-domo cuten wim lingered for a moment affecting to be a capted with his be-too logs, but in reality to allow a mo-satisfaction of seeing the stately dame morge from a distant doorway, es-was very wise to spend as little as need these things would be different.

the ladies of inchmarew."

with a sense of doing the honors nat

on the sub ecl

assure you, you may trust me that it must indeed.

is an increasing tendency to mer combs in plain shell and the ornament on the shell. The takes definite floral forms, and ers in tinted gold.

CHAPTER DIL-Continued.

She had equipped and seen him off ing where he should not have gone, norm doing what he should not have one, until informed by Donald, or rather by Donald's liege lady of his high mistemeanur.

He was now disposed to return evil for good, and instead of saying "Thank to his landings for a meery afternoon a excellent sport, to sin through her ingers, and let her cook her unsavory dinner for some one alse.

I should like to see the Haywonds again," was, however, all he said "Then come up and disc with me," replied Jerry promptly. The I am sure you may. I am sure grains would let me ask you."

Are you sure?" said Belienden, un help smiling at the childleh form the invitation had taken. "But then you see, I do not know your It is not granny's house, you know:

if is mine, "anxiously, "Oh. I upderstand"
"And if I ask you." the spoilt child again asserting itself in her tone; "if I

I need prother invitation certainly, said he courieously. Only, you see you are really too kind. You do not even know my name." Well, what is your name?" Belongion. But I will tell.

"Bellegien. But I will ! what I can do. Miss Campbell-Don't call me Miss Campbell; it makes me feel foolish."

But in my tirn, I don't know your name. I mean your other name." this Geraldine, but no one calls me that except Cecil.

"Cerli again," thought ne. Cerli is privileged. I presume. What am I to call you, then "he inquired aloud. Way, Jurry, of course, Every one Vary well Jerry." But she saw he was laughing. She was so changeful, so whemsical this sprite of a chieftainess that one moment it would be tainess that one moment it would be high pools herself."

my eastle, "my moor," my every Really. Oh, you have met Geralthing, and the next she was asking him dine herself, then? Put the gun case to call her Jerry" One thing, howmust be done and amazed at himself for the readiness with which he fell in with her humors, Bellendenonly hoped the adventure would proceed as cheerily as it had begun.

-Well then, Jerry, what am 1 to do did it seem to be in young Haymond's now" he dutifully proceeded. "Am I to get your cousin to bring me up with Am I to tell him you invited

'If you could, do without telling him

"Oh. I could, of course. But why do you mind? Will you not tell your grandmother?" for it struck nim that unices some one were told, he could not very well accept of such haphazard hospitality.

"Of course I'll tell granny." child's eyes opened. I tell granny everything. She doesn t matter. explained the candid grandchild: "and I don't see why I should mind the H. either, added she bravely, only that don't like to sex my poor dear, and it he were to lecture me, it would ver her. It is not for myself I mind, conluded she with exceed emphasis

She sha'n the re ed. said Bellenden guletty it can manage that Good by then (ii) we meet again. must go down now or I shall be: too la it straight down through the hye Dinner is at hall-past xeven. And he felt the pairs of a warm, we: little hand in his or a moment, and all perception of unrooth garb and eccontrib headgear vanished in the light be it was not as if they were living of a pair of bright eyes looking till in in the world with more of the kind.

To all of this his companion cheer.

14) love what a use walld he fully assented as he would have done

He was only just in time when the hoat care in long is here the lew pass hovel, the thought of which had sengers had landed, the sim figure of grown more insupportable than ever cell Raymond, arrayed in the long during the past half-hour was so inght traveling roat which was then tense that he would have permitted be mode, was clearly discernible on Mrs. (amphel) to knock off every the mode was clearly discernible on Mrs. (amphel) to smook of every the gangway while the usual para gardener on the place, and curtail her the gabgway while the usual para phermalian assertimen the gun case rost smart portunanceau, and railway as he was even a decent dinner to ent and a decent bed to sleep.

There was however, no call for such have belonged to no one else on board as existive as he was himself board as existive as he was himself board as existive as he was himself fired to show that the borish brag of a string dished did he distinguish that, the riest life Guards, the principal guest and smarlest man of all connected with him, was on the the principal greet and smartest man or all connected with him, was on the of the party assembled at a bachelor present occasion making a great deal cousins for the Asod week the pre- not of a very little. There might be

Turns June the state of the sta cascally mentioned as occupie will bewarrival and a trim lad in a quiet there.

He had not mer Hellenden since, and detr. dispatch. Mrs. Campbell, Mr. the boint now was would Bellenden have never awaiting the new parties.

Had the meeting taken place there when anywhere held by that anely spot, he would hard y have - . be ted recognition but per age as he was - orbiting among theing, He was ever od by her nephew, all eagerness is mind was night, of the free comnot only known but majed, and but of the present his friend. with remarkable root allie and lerter. For an expected guest she could his hand warmly grasped, and his acneglightest shape of heatation. He has been the veriest nonentity at the feet at once ad that he might. the Ascot meeting who had not extraor may hope for. His own manner, al-charged above a docen or two sens ways easy and engaging, at once therees with the great man of the rose with the occasion, and he bowed party and who had felt the distance over the hand held out to him with part) and who had left the distance over the ham held out to him with between him, a lad of nineteen in his the reverence of a courtier.

"He is charming," thought she world and certain y "Never was such luck," thought he would be world and certain y "Never was such luck," thought he would be world and certain y "Never was such luck," thought he would be world be world be world by the subject and the goal. den. a man of the world and certain y thought he world and certain y thought he world and certain y thought he was years, if not more, his senior, as ten years, if not more, his senior, as ten years, if not more, his senior, as ten years, if not more, his senior, as the world was complete, understanding was complete.

"It is going to be a very wet night,"

I tear," said Mrs. Campbell, glancing oniside, as the raindrops now beg n to beat heavily against the tall, narrow fear, ( ecil that there is not much chan e of your having a fine day or the noor to-morrow. Suited or weather wise old gardener Macdonald on the subject, and he shook his head. Unfortunately for you We have had a long spell of the weather it has been really too ne of late. suppose he suggested at once, with and every one began to fear it could this thought in his mind, that some not last much longer. You know that one must have send the traveler there. August is never our best month, and for a slight + beigning on his way to one cannot expect summer weather to more congenial names. Of course last for ver. Inchmaren Cartle would a ways be a "No, we can

"No, we can't, grandmamma," Cecil re pertable piace to send any one to, only smiled to himself, and only smiled and some friend had probably given to remember now often he had heard Bellenden an introduction, and bit the ame before it seemed to him the land before here. Bellenden's first words dispelled the that he had heard it ever since he idea. Indeed | am not so happy," he said, ogy for the mists of nehmarew. And carelessly. There is where I am stope ping. pointing to the wretched little its inmates. Its very raises, and coods, into at the head of the pier. "I am on my way farther up the loch and am sacred in his e es, and he would not fairly caught and landed here for the have let I ellenden into the secret of want of the means of proceeding." He its infirmity for the world. Who could want of the means of proceeding." then explained his sad plight more say but what the morning might see fully, though affecting to treat the glorious sunshine and melting warmth; whole as a jest, and without throwing out hint or suggest on of any possible for it? "have no doubt it will clear amendment. "Oh, I shall do well by and by," he said readily. "and let it shough," he con luded, "and I can get rain as much as it will to night, there's no harm one. Grandmamma, can we have a fire in the billiard-room this evening? I dare say Capt. Bellenden would like a game of billiards after the evening with me. But you are going on to briends. I suppose?"

"To Inchmarew-over there-yes. I'll teil you what," said Ce ii suddenly, "Certainly, my dear." And the order was given. "And let the fire be lit at once," added the old lady, anx-ious to do everything well. "The room may be a little damp;" in explanation to Bellenden, "for it has not been used pitable old lady, and if I were to go up this summer."

without you, directly I told her you 'Not been used this summer! Good were here, it would only be a case of sending down the dog-cart again at eavens." inwardly e aculated he. And I am to play on a table not used his summer." It was a blow, and he heavens." once. And see the rain is beginning this ummer. again. It is going to be a beastly night. You had much better come up was only just able to avoid showing that it was one. alle it is only as slight as this; there

"lam afraid it will not be in very good condition, 'continued Cecil Ray-mond, who was but half a degree more learned on the subject than his grandmother. "But you must make allowances, and, anyway, it's better than do-

"I upon my word, you are too kind.
"Not at all, I am only my grandmother's spokesman. Here you, Hector, get out Capt. Bellenden's things from the lin, and put them into the dog dart with mine. And, I say, tell Mrs. Maconochie it will be all right."
"But supposing the house is full."
"Inchimarch tell! Oh, you have not peat-reek and whisky at the "Ferry Inn" reflected his friend. And the thought restored his former equanim-Inchmarew full! Oh. you have not ity at if by magic.

He had as he was wont to say of him-But at present they have notonly, for my cousin is so young that they are liv-ing as quietly as possible."
If have met your cousin already, and self, the knack of being civil. Accustomed to luxury, and courted by prosperity, he was yet of so happy a tem-perament, that ill-fortune could not daunt, nor a verse circumstances ruffle she gave me permission to fish in the stream. I have had a capital after-noon's tro-ting in consequence." "Have you? I'm glad of that, if the boat had come in sooner. I had him. To escape either, he would, in-deed, as we know, exert ingenuity and address but, had these tailed, no one would have heard more of the matter. He would have smoked aphilosophical cigar, gone to bed, and proceeded on meant to run up to some of the high pools before dinner. I knew the water his loorney the next day without an oath or a grumble. He was by no means a bad sort of fellow. Would be good."
"Your co-sin kindly showed me the

He now dressed himself for dinner serenely, with scarce a moment's regret for the services of the valet, who in here, Hector, along with mine. The portmaneau can go at William's feet, had been sent on to Kincraig by another and a swifter route. and whose Why, yes, they can stav here, if you like, but there's lots of room. Now, absence had been a real satisfaction to his master during the terrible ant ciwill you get up? And the two mounted; and of so little consequence pations of the afternoon. He was not by any means so dependent on the very fine gentleman as Monsieur Pierre supeyes whether or no his young cousin had been casual y met for a passing posed, and could calmly pack his own portmanteau, and put on his own coat minute or had been spent the whole afternoon with that Bellenden did not when compelled by necessity to do so. By nature he was a very nandsome think it worth his while to inform him ter, hair-cutter, and boot-maker in town, and he could do no more. the result was not satisfactory, it was ural to one who, as their nearest male misgiving nor uneasine s on the subrelative, took the bottom of the table, ject ever disturbed his mind. inspected the kennels, and reported

Sooner than any other person, he now descended to the drawing room. "Oh, I'm the first," he began, half fisher-lassie, I wonder? Is she going to give me the slip? Or-stop: here she

It was, however, no fisher-lassie who act, it was Jerry, in the very best Sunand crimped till it stood out on every side: Jerry with the fleece of hair brushed and smoothed and shining, with a little gold chain round her plumb arm.

TO BE CONTINUED.

tired, and it was getting hotter every Frank knew the only way to do was to go on and on. whether you were F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

By the time erry had made up his mind to be stubborn, the driver stopped the horses on a switch to chain held together by diamond bars. wait until the car a square away had light there on the curbstone sat a a little bootblack. On the pavement lay his torn cap, and he let people go by unnoticed as he rubbed an apple on his jacket to make it shiny. A sweet lady had given it to him, and he was just over his surprise and getting ready to eat, when he looked up and saw Jerry standing near and looking at the apple longingly with his pitiful eyes. The little bootblack understood. There was not much time to think. the other car was not far away, but he wondered how he would feel if he was that horse; and quick as a flash he broke the apple in two and put one piece in Jerry's mouth and the other in Frank's. It was delicious.

Jerry forgot about being stubborn as they started on, and Frank forgot his aching bones, while the little ragged bootblack ran away, calling after a man with dusty shoes, "Have a shine, mister?"-Youth's CompanHighest of all in leavening strength. - Latest U. S. Gov. Food Report

Baking

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Economy requires that in every receipt calling for baking powder the Royal shall be used. It will go further and make the food lighter, sweeter, of finer flavor, more digestible and wholesome.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

Apple Custard.

Pare, core and stew 6 apples until tine and add half cup of sugar. Beat must pray for others." "None of us 3 eggs very light, add half cup of sugar liveth to himself," and none of us and 11/2 pints of milk. Stir well and should pray for himself alone. The add the apples. Stir again, pour into first word of the pattern prayer taught s baking pan and bake a few minutes by our Lord is "our," and when we until the custard is set. If liked, a pray we should think of those who are little graved nutmeg may be added just included in that term. A cry for before it is put in the oven. This is a nice dessert and possesses the advantage of being so quickly prepared that it may be classed among the emergency Times.

Beautifying the Home.

For the bric-a-brac mantel a long narrow picture does excellent duty when hung just over the top shelf. A black and white print can be seen to advantage in this position.

If you have a character bit in oil, let it be unframed and place it on the And, anyway, it is a very great middle of the small ledge below the deal better than sitting in the midst of shelf proper, and you have a fine bit of coloring on entering. Over low bookcases pictures should be large, and in this form they give a style to the room. Water colors look admirable if treated in this manner, and, if two bookcases are put together so as to form one, divide the pictures by a bracket, on which place a jar of some unique pat-

> If a door is required to be closed on account of space, throw a silk curtain over the door and at the left side place a picture. Any still life will answer, and you will find it a wonderful bright scheme. Small rooms require moderate size pictures, which can be hung one above the other, and three may even be placed on line with good effect.

In a small apartment, where the ra diator is an objection, hang on the wall a large picture, placing before the unsightly heater a screen of not toe high dimensions. If a space is too large for your picture hang on either side a bracket, on which place a jug or jar. For an ideal head in oil the frame should be of broad gilt. Hang it in a good light, and on one side group two small water color pieces in the fash-Colds, and all tung or Throat affections. man and cared singularly little about it. By art he was a perfectly dressed man and that he considered, was every one's business rather than his oblong picture a small sketch under it own. He went to the best tailor, hatlooks well equipped.

In corners of rooms pictures can be hung by twos or threes, either in gilt, no fault of his, and, in consequence, no walnut, or ash and form a capital combination. Three pictures can be framed as one if rightly chosen. Select for your center a figure subject. On either side a landscape. I'lace all in a mat a "What has become of my little with a broad ash frame and hang in a large space. Over it put a quaint Japanese fan of natural colors.

Palms form an excellent decoration now appeared. It was the daintiest little maiden in the world, shy and rosy, half pleased, half frightenest, and altogether charming, who advanced up the room. To be more expectation over pictures and especially for halls, if you are a householder in any apartment, decorate your halls with good pictures, bits of color which from time to time you have gathered and it will day trock she could muster, starched add quality to the narrow space given you by the architect .- New York Her-

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put to-gether, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great supposed to be incurable, For a great family. I find to use Hood's Sarsaparilla An Apple.

Jerry and Frank were two horses hitched to a yellow car. All the morning they had gone back and forth, patiently, with only a rest now and then, but now Jerry was teginning to feel rebellious; he was tired, and it was getting hetter every cure on the market. It is taken internally square. Jerry was not by nature such a meek horse as was Frank, but then, too, he had not been a city carborse as long as Frank had been, horse as long as Frank had been, here the only way to do was

The prettiest necklace observed was made of numerous strands of fine gold

The only form of the bowknot seen is double rosette shaped. The broad enamel ribbons are ornamented with gold. In the center is a jewel.

We have not been without Piso's Cure for Consumption for 20 years. Lizzie Frenzi, Camp St., Harrisburg, Pa., May Be as gentle as possible in your judgments; as severe as justice in your survey of self .- Chicago Interior.

You can't give a man money enough to enable him to declare that he will never lack for bread, but God has N. N. U. No. 313--50. promised that the righteons shall never come to want.

What Constitutes a Whole Prayer

In order to pray for ourselves, wa personal belo in an emergency is at the best but part of a prayer; a whole prayer takes in others.-S. S.

/ Dangerous Sport.

I consider wolf hunting the most dangerous sport there is, says a correspondent in Russia. Tiger hunting in India is tame beside it. If you go into the jungles of India to shoot a tiger, you are accompanied by a long retinue. You shoot your prey from the howdah of an elephant. If you miss your victim there are 20 bullets ready for him before he springs. A person might as well go tiger hunting in a menagerie. The only unsatisfactory part of the sport which wolves afford is that after you are all through you havn't any thing to show for your efforts.

Shows in Hard Luck

Sydney Drew has ceased trying to star in "The Gilded Age." "The Tide of Life" ceased ebbing and flowing. Fanny Rice closed her season, but expects to start out again a month hence with a new play. Emmet Corrigan has laid off his "After the Ball" company. Dockstader's minstrels drew so little money at the New York Bijou that Manager Kosenquest canceled the second week of their engagement and closed the house.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Sygur for child-renteething, softens the gums, reduces inflam-mation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c bottle.

A soft answer has often been the means of breaking a hard heart .-Ram's Horn.

CROUP IS QUICKLY RELIEVED, and Whoopgenerated by friction. Matches are tipped with phosphorus and sulphur both highly inflammable substances.

Helpless Ten Weeks

"I was a tacked with acute rheumatism id was laid up in the house ten weeks

My right arm was withered away to skin and bone and I bad almost lost the use of it. A friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and by the time the first bottle was psed I was feeling a little better. I could see Mr. R. Forrestall and feel a great change. The flesh was returning to my arm and the soreness was leaving my body

Hood's Sararilla Cures which will help a man who has r cuma-tism. It keeps me in good health." RICHARDFORRESTALL, Oelwein, Iowa,

NEW SHORT LINE

1. FRANCIS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, OMAHA, NEB WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please may you saw the advertisement in this paper.

KNOWLEDGE

to personal enjoyment and to personal enjoyment when ty used. The many, who live bet-tan others and enjoy life more, with expenditure, by more promptly ting the world's best products to hade of physical being, will attest hade to health of the pure liquid see principles embraced in the edy. Syrup of Figs. Secondary is due to its presenting to form most acceptable.

form most acceptable and pleasis the taste, the refreshing and truly social properties of a perfect laxie; effectually cleaning the system, elling colds beadaches and fevers ling colds, headaches and fevers permanently curing constipation. m given satisfaction to millions and ion, because it acts on the Kid-Liver and Bowels without weak-them and it is perfectly free from objectionable substance. by of Figs is for sale by all drug-brup of Figs is for sale by all drug-hin 50c and $1 bottles, but it is man-stared by the California Fig Syrup inly, whose name is printed on every riage, also the name, Syrup of Figs, I being well informed, you will not opt any substitute if offered.

DOUCLAS S. CORDOVAN, STOFINE CHE & KANGARIA $ 3.49 POLICE, 3 50L13. 131249 12 LTD DOMEOLA be one cave money by wearing the W. L. Doegine $3.00 shoe.

Mayo, we are the largest manufacturers where the manufacturers are the second of shoes in the world, and guarantee the
by stamping the name and price to
by stamping the name and price to
by stamping the name and price to be grown than profest you against high prices to biddieman's profits. Our shoes equal cust is style, accy fitting and wearing qualitations them sold swery where allower prices; the given than any other make. Take no to a life your dealer cannot supply you, we can

