MYSTERY OF A LOST SHIP.

It Is Believed that She Has Been Found, but Her Crew Is Missing. Local shipping men are deeply interested in a search that is now being made for information regarding the Philadelphia bark, Mary P. Kitchen, which sailed from Penarth roads, England, Jan. 1, 1889, for Montevideo, and has long been given up as lost, ing sugar manu actories works of in- spective counties. No question as to the loss of the Kitchen was ever raised until yesterday, when a letter was received from Lloyds at London stating that a bark which was believed to be the Kitchen, had arrived at Montevideo May 2, 1889, and was still affont under the name of Kisson. Nothing had been learned, however, of the whereabouts of the officers or crew that sailed originally on the Kitchen. There has, however, been received a suggestion that Capt. James Ryan, who commanded the bark, together with young Aarons, had been murdered by the crew, who afterwards sold the boat in the Argentine Republic after changing her name.

Capt. James Ryan, who formerly commanded the old cape ship Tonawanda, has not been heard from since the Kitchen was reported missing The Kitchen was purchased for him Senate file No. 173, by Watson, legal- by John Diehl, a cooper, doing business at 119 Water street, this city, and had visited this port several times. William Diehl believes that the vessel was lost in 1889 in the North Atlantic Ocean. Capt. Ryan changed the bark's name to the Lottle Diehl, but on her visit to Penarth the British Board of Trade ordered her name changed back to the Kitchen, and it so remained when she left Penarth. Her cargo consisted of coal. Capt. Ryan's life was insured in the Equitable Insurance Company, and the claim was paid soon after the vessel was given up for lost.

Mr. Aaron's letter was sent to the French Consul at this port, and in it he inquired what had become of his son, whose term of five years' sea service had expired and who was daily expected at his father's home in Parls. This letter, with other information, was transmitted to Secretary Sharwood of the marine exchange for an investigation, which is now being carefully
