The law provides for the appointment of a state engineer and an assistant. When the time came Senator Akers desired to have the place of state engineer so as to have supervision of the enforcement of the law. He was turned down and the place given to a man from Omaha. The irrigation law lerton. passed more for the western part of the state than any other. It was hoped and supposed that it would be under the supervision of a western man who knew something of irrigation, but Omaha with its usual hoggishness demanded and got it. Is it any wonder that a roar is frequently heard from the western part of the state and the vote of western Nebraska is hard to figure on?

At 1:15 Tuesday morning death laid its chilling hand on the brow of Walter Q. Gresham, secretary of state, at his home in Washington. There are few men in the nation who were more widely known than the deceased and be had hosts of admirers, as he was recognized as a man of more than ordinary legal ability. He has filled many benerable positions, having made a good record during the war as a soldier and officer, box. For sale by Pioneer Pharmacy. while his record as a judge is of the best. In that position he developed more ability than in any other. He was much talked of as a candidate of the republican party a few years ago for president. but failing in that he "mugwumped" during the last presidential campaign and as a reward was given the highest cabinet position by President Cleveland. His administration of the office of secretary of state was not what was expected by many and demonstrated the fact that every lawyer, no matter how proficient in that line, cannot be a great statesman. Deceased had been in poor health for some weeks, but no reports were sent out which indicated that death was likely to result. His ailment was pleurisy at first and later pneumonia set in and he sank rapidly and his last moments were quiet and peaceful. The nation mourns the loss, not only of a high official, but of a man who lad many excellent traits of character and great ability.

There are two sides to the decision of the supreme cou.t of the nation declaring the income tax law unconstitutional. Many are the attempts that have been made to be witty over it, but the thoughtful ones who consider it realize that it was a sweeping decision. From it the indications are that a law of that character cannot be drafted which will stand the crucial tests of the courts. Taking that as true the government has so authority to devise ways and means to raise revenue by putting a tax on incomes. If it was simply the manner in which the income tax law was gotten up or irregularities in its enactment the decides of the supreme court would not he so far-reaching. To the mind of the no law could be made along such which would be constitutional and to the fundamental law of our government which would mieve it of that disability. The men who drafted the constitution of the United States were well qualified for the work and did nobly, but no human foresight was great enough to anticipate the remarkable de velopment that has taken place since that document was adopted. What was good a century ago cannot, in all cases be applicable to-day.

It is a wise man indeed who can look over the field and tell where any political party is at this time on the question Terrible forest fires have been raging of finance. Some of the leading republitinued drouth there has made the fires demning the productions of "Coin," while equally as strong republican papers are making as great efforts to place those While the Russian thistic seems to be same productions in the hands of their recognized as a great enemy to the state readers. of Nebruska. It is about thirty miles east and west by about seventy unles-ling, small streams in the county than can be found in the same area elsewhere in the state. It has more pine timber in it than all the rest of the state combined Its grasses are the richest and most nutritious known so that for stock-growing t is unexcelled.

The soil varies from a heavy clay to a light sandy loam and is capable of producing excellent crops-

The principal crops are small grain as and vegetables, although good corn is grown in the valley .. The wheat, oats rye and barley are all of unusually line quality and commund the highest market prices.

The water is pure and refreshing and is found in abundance in all parts of the

The county is practically out of debt and has over forty-five miles of railroad within its borders, has a good brick court ning the county and there has never been one dollar of county bonds issueed and hence taxes will be low.

The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad crosses Sioux county from east to west and the B. & M. has about lifteen miles of its line in the northeast part of the county.

The climate is more pleasant than that of the eastern portion of Nebraska. There is still

of land in Sioux county yet open to homestead entry. It is better land and more desirably located than that for which such rushes are made on the opening of a reservation. There is no railroad land in the county and for that reason its settlement has been slow for no special effort to get settlers was made, as was done in the early days of the settlement of the eastern part of the Good deeded land can be purchased at reasonable rates with government land adjoining so that a person who wants more than one quarter section can obtain it if he has a little means.

There are about 2,500 people in the county and there is room for thousands

Harrison is the county seat and is setunted on the F. E. & M. V. railroad, and is as good a town as the thinly settled

School houses and churches are provided in almost every settlement and are kept up with the times.

All who desire to get a homestead or buy land cheap are invited to come and see the country for themselves and judge of its merits. Homesteads will not be obtainable much tonger and if you want to use your right and get 160 acres of land from Uncle Sam free it is time you were about it.
