Nebraska can now be said to be on the self supporting list. The recent rains redeemed her to a very great extent.

An attorney was disbarred at Casper a short time ago. It seems that there are some things which even a lawyer cannot do with impunity.

The Women's edition of the Lincoln Journal appeared last Wednesday and bore ample proof that the ladies can get up a good paper when they go at it.

The Mosher prison contract is ended and the state has taken control of the prison affairs. That contract should have been annulled by never being made. The appraisers found that Dorgan was entitled to $33,408.90.

Frank R. Wingfield, one of the editors of the Chadron Citizen, was married at Hot Springs a few days ago to a Crawford lady. Frank was very shy about it but he will have the good wishes of the fraternity just the same for a happy and prosperous married life.

Irrigation by means of pumps and windmills can be made almost universal in western Nebraska, where the water supply from the great Platte river water basin is inexhaustible. The result will be, must be, and should be smaller farm, better cultivated farms, and more profitable farms.—Kearney Hub.

A man by the name of Thomas Burns shot and killed his brother-in-law, A. C. Jones, about twelve miles south of Crawford on last Friday morning. The shooting was the result of an old quarrel and the man who did the killing claims to have done so in self-defense. The probabilities are that another expensive trial will be added to the woes of Dawes county.

Parties in New York have been making inquiries of the people of this part of the state in regard to the quality of sugar beets which can be produced. Their letters have been addressed to the banks of different towns along the line. They claim to have a process by which sugar can be produced with a plant which costs but little. They seem to want to find out how much the various towns will give in the way of a bonus. If it is good a proposition can be made. Now is the time for Chadron to obtain something of what it missed in its recent attempt to secure factories.

Some years ago a writer prepared an article for a bookkeepers' journal describing an imaginary piece of apparatus for insuring the honesty of bank employees. He was thunderstruck to find after awhile that an inventor had been impressed by the feasibility of his plan and had laboriously worked out a machine that would do everything outlined in the fanciful article. The machine has been installed in the Union Dime Savings Bank of New York city, and the bank people say it is a great success. When a patron makes a deposit, the receiving teller takes his book, thrusts it open between two rollers, depresses cash register keys bearing the proper figures, turns a wheel, and the book comes out with the deposit recorded in indelible ink and also with the figures punched into the paper to make alteration impossible. At the same instant the figures at the top of the machine show the amount of the deposit and the total deposits for the entire day. A similar machine is placed at the paying window. The bank officers need only to glance at these figures to find how they stand at any hour of the day. When the bank closes the cash must correspond to the figures on the machines. There is no chance for changing passbooks or manipulating the figures in any way as the machine cannot be tampered with, cannot be turned back and records the transactions of the day with the unerring intelligence of machinery. The device is called the "arithmologautotype."—Lincoln Journal.

Irrigation Makes Land Valuable.
Kearney Hub.
Lawrence Kelly, of this city, is one of the strongest believers in irrigation in this section, and in addition was early converted to the saving grace of alfalfa. He has several tracts of land in the vicinity of Elm Creek, near the Elm Creek ditch, and put into alfalfa all that he was able to seed this season. This land could not have been sold a year ago for fifteen dollars an acre and in fact was not salable for less money. Saturday he sold ten acres to an Iowa party for fifty dollars an acre. Irrigation did it and the alfalfa helped along the sale. It is now more than ever before an irrigationist and his faith and example should be a bright and shining light for every farmer in the valley.

The Campaign for "Honest Money."

There is seldom a moment when the currency question is not acute in one phase or another. But perhaps at no time since the war has there been more discussion of monetary problems than during the past two months. Conferences of greater or less pretensions are assembling in various parts of the land, and the opposing elements are beginning missionary movements on a vast scale. The free silver coinage men are the most enthusiastic and aggressive, but the gold standard forces, in close alliance with President Cleveland and the treasury organization, are striking sturdy blows and endeavoring to carry the war into the very southern and western strongholds of the silver men. In our judgment the defenders of the existing monetary standard are making a serious mistake in organizing their campaign under the one battle cry of "Honest Money." They use this phrase on all occasions as their watchword, and seem to count upon carrying the day by mere virtue of impugning the motives of their opponents. It is, after all, certain questions of fact and opinion that are in issue. To urge the cry of "honest money" begs the whole question. There are many thousands of American citizens who are declaring that the demonization of silver was an improper thing, and that the existing gold standard rests upon an international conspiracy of bankers and gold brokers. It is best to assume honest intentions in both camps. The pretense that in this great monetary contest the virtue and intelligence is all on the gold side, is as dangerous as it is false and irritating. We do not ourselves believe for a moment that the United States could safely attempt on its own unaided account to open the mints to the free coinage of legal tender silver dollars. But we must decline to impugn the sincerity and good faith of that movement as a whole. It would not be formidable if it were not based upon honest convictions.—From "The Progress of the World," Review of Reviews for June.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter by Rev. J. Gunderson, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at the Pioneer Pharmacy. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Sioux County,

THE LAND OF THE HOME-STEADER.

Free Homes for More Than 5,000 Men.

A new county with schools, churches, railroads, etc., AND 800,000 ACRES YET OPEN TO HOMESTEAD ENTRY.

Contains over forty-five miles of railroad and has no county bonds.

NO BONDS, NO DEBTS, LOW TAXES.

Fuel, Posts, Logs and Lumber Cheaper Than at any Other Place in Nebraska.

Sioux county is the northwest county of Nebraska. It is about thirty miles east and west by about seventy miles north and south and contains OVER 1,300,000 ACRES of land. There are more bright, sparkling, small streams in the county than can be found in the same area elsewhere in the state. It has more pine timber than all the rest of the state combined. Its grasses are the richest and most nutritious known so that for stock-growing it is unexcelled.

The soil varies from a heavy clay to a light sandy loam and is capable of producing excellent crops.

The principal crops are small grain and vegetables, although good corn is grown in the valleys. The wheat, oats, rye and barley are all of unusually fine quality and command the highest market prices.

The water is pure and refreshing and is found in abundance in all parts of the county.

The county is practically out of debt and has over forty-five miles of railroad within its borders, has a good brick court house and the necessary fixtures for running the county and there has never been one dollar of county bonds issued and hence taxes will be low.

The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad crosses Sioux county from east to west and the R. & M. has about fifteen miles of its line in the northeast part of the county.

The climate is more pleasant than that of the eastern portion of Nebraska. There is still OVER 800,000 ACRES of land in Sioux county yet open to homestead entry. It is better land and more desirably located than that for which such rushes are made on the opening of a reservation. There is no railroad land in the county and for that reason its settlement has been slow for no special effort to get settlers was made, as was done in the early days of the settlement of the eastern part of the state.

Good decided land can be purchased at reasonable rates with government land adjoining so that a person who wants more than one quarter section can obtain it if he has a little means.

There are about 2,500 people in the county and there is room for thousands more.

Harrison is the county seat and is situated on the F. E. & M. V. railroad, and is as good a town as the thinly settled country demands.

School houses and churches are provided in almost every settlement and are kept up with the times.

All who desire to get a homestead or buy land cheap are invited to come and see the country for themselves and judge of its merits. Homesteads will not be obtainable much longer and if you want to use your right and get 160 acres of land from Uncle Sam free it is time you were about it.
