It is quite likely that the school district bond will be cancelled in the near future. Available funds are in the treasury.

Gen. Schofield passed through here Tuesday on a special train. He was accompanied by C. C. Higgs, general superintendent of the Elkhorn.

The exercises at the church on Sunday evening passed off very pleasantly. Children's day has become quite a day for the Methodist work and is appropriately observed in almost every place.

A fine poll-augus bull belonging to L. C. Lewis got into a fight with an animal belonging to a neighbor a few days ago and got one of its hind legs broken and had to be shot. Mr. Lewis paid $125 for him a couple of years ago.

There is an unsubstantiated rumor flying round that the sugar-beet factory at Chadron is likely to materialize after all. A syndicate of Chadron capitalists, so says the rumor, has taken hold of the matter and will at once proceed to make things idm.

A healthy appetite, with perfect digestion and assimilation, may be secured by the use of Ayer's Pills. They cleanse and strengthen the whole alimentary canal and remove all obstructions to the natural functions of either sex, without any unpleasant effects.

G. Guthrie, of Harrison, and Chas. Atchison of Alliance, were candidates for admission to the bar at the present session of court in this county. Both of them passed highly creditable examinations and were congratulated upon their proficiency. They are both young men of energy and application and may be confidently expected to succeed in their profession.—Chadron Signal

To judge by the number of prairie schooners which go through town this season people have come to the conclusion that there is a new land of promise somewhere west of here. There is scarcely a day passed but what a number of emigrant wagons go through. It is safe to say that not all of them will find the land just as they expected when they get to the end of their journey.

In addition to his use of the water furnished by a number of springs B. F. Thomas is making an experiment with small fruits and fruit trees by planting them in the small canyons among the natural growth and clearing out around them after they have got to growing so that they need more room. He may not get as straight results as he might under other arrangements but we believe he will have fruit in as few years as any one.

It would be a good plan for some one to get a set of the augers necessary for making pump-logs for use in conducting the water from the springs and small streams to where it can be used on the land. It would be much cheaper than iron piping as the logs cost nothing but the labor and the water thus saved would do a great deal of good, while in many cases it could not be conveyed in an open ditch on account of evaporation and absorption.

If reports are to be taken for anything the danger of violence growing out of cattle rustling is not past. It is said that in one part of the county there are men who do not dare to ride over the prairie for fear of being called to account in a way which would not be pleasant and in another part guns were pulled on account of a beef deal of some kind. Some days some fellow will get shot and then the taxpayers will have to stand a big bill of costs to prosecute the shooter.

The matter from Glen in regard to the finding a part of the remains of a child near the railroad track, mention of which was made in these columns last week, the Fort Robinson Assembly stated that it had investigated the matter and found that it was simply a rabbit which the train had killed. The correspondent of the Crawford Beacon in his last communication insists that a crime has been committed and that the coroner had been notified and that he did not think that it came within the scope of his office. If there is any proof that it was a part of a child found it should be investigated, but the coroner is not supposed to act as a detective.

What it Cost to Run the County.

The fact that the board of county commissioners is now in session as a board of equalization and that before they adjourn they will make the levy to raise the revenue necessary to defray the expenses of the year 1895, it may not be out of place to note what was done last year in the matter of expense in running the county. As the figures in the following statement were taken from the records and considering that there is no political campaign in progress the people of the county can consider the matter coolly and draw their own conclusions.

The levy for the year 1894 for the different funds was as follows: General fund, $4,967.85; bridge fund, $2,652.34; county road fund, $1,103.96; soldiers relief fund, $163.69, making a total of $8,287.75.

Against these levies there have been issued warrants for the following amounts: General fund, $4,431.89; bridge fund, $632.56; county road fund, $116.06; soldiers' relief fund, $56.

As the law allows warrants to be drawn for only 85 per cent of the levy the general fund ran a little low and there was transferred from funds which had accumulated and against which there were no claims outstanding, the sum of $216.13, which gave the total levy given above. The total amount of warrants drawn against the levy is $5,234.72, which leaves a balance of funds still available amounting to $1,811.56 which could be used if needed.

When it is remembered that all the expenses of the year 1894, including the costs of the prosecution of Cobb and Farnum were paid out of the levy for that year, the record certainly proves that the affairs of the county have been economically conducted.

Whether or not the valuation returned by the assessors for this year will exceed that of 1894 cannot be told until the board of equalization completes its work but it is likely that it will be about the same. The costs in the Slattery cases will be somewhat greater than those in the Cobb and Farnum cases, but the additional expense will not exceed a couple of hundred dollars, so that with no unusual expenses for the rest of the year the running expenses of 1895 are not likely to exceed those of 1894.

Largest Circulation in Nebraska.

It isn't much wonder that the State Journal now has the largest circulation in Nebraska. It has reduced its price to 65 cents a month with Sunday, or 50 cents without Sunday; it has been spending more money for Nebraska than any other paper; it has on its staff such men as Bixby, Walt Mason and Annin. The Journal is being pushed at every point and is climbing steadily and surely away ahead of the other state dailies. People like a Lincoln paper. Especially when it is as good as the Journal.
