RANCH SUPPLY HOUSE.

The Toledo Weekly Blade and Campaign of 1896.

With a great presidential campaign coming next year, every thoughtful citizen will need, besides his local paper, a great national weekly.

The club had its dance in Andrews hall last Saturday night. For the highest cash price for wheat see Grant Guthrie. Fine line of jewelry and clocks at Pioneer Pharmacy. County Superintendent Davis lost one of his cows the last of the week. Geo. H. Turner received a large invoice of clothing and invites all to call when in need of such goods. J. W. Scott has arranged his room so as to put in a lunch counter and refreshment department. Horehound compound cough syrup the great remedy for coughs and colds at the Pioneer Pharmacy. If you want a farm paper get one published in Nebraska. The JOURNAL clubs with the Nebraska Farmer. Call and see a copy of it. Don't forget that THE JOURNAL has a large clubbing list and when selecting reading matter for the coming year call and give us your order. We can save you money. Born, to Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Connell of Chadron circuit, Dawes county, on Saturday, Jan. 18, 1896, a girl. Hay Springs Leader. By an order of County Judge Wilson C. Augustine Paddy is appointed administrator of the estate of his father, Charles James Paddy. The revival meetings at the Methodist Church have been quite successful in arousing the interest of the community in religious matters and will be continued. The editor and his wife are absent for a few days and County Attorney Guthrie is in charge. He will take your orders for any job work or advertising and he is an expert at making out receipts to delinquents. W. D. Lafferty was up from Bodare Saturday and called at this office. He expects to leave in a few days for northern Wyoming to locate. He will go by rail and leave his family here until he gets settled. Stock owners, especially those who had only a limited supply of feed put up, are feeling good over the kind of winter we have had thus far. Cattle have rustled all they have had to eat and are in fine condition and they will go through the rest of the winter all right. Geo. Glinger informs us that he expects to move to southern Missouri in the spring. He will make the trip overland and will take quite a number of horses with him. He says several others are talking of going with him but have not definitely decided as yet. In the report of the county superintendent as appeared in the commissioner's record in the last issue of THE JOURNAL a figure eight got into the item "Received from examination fees and certificates endorsed" making it appear that he received $85 whereas he only collected $35. The proof-reader is the one to blame for it. In spite of the fact that, according to published reports several of the insurgent chiefs are daily led into traps and killed, the war in Cuba goes merrily on and the power of the Spanish government is taxed to its utmost extent to maintain a foothold on the island. It is rumored that Spain is "on a cruise" with England, to give the latter possession of the island, rebels and all, and that Uncle Sam does not look on the deal with kindly eyes, claiming a lien prior to England's mortgage under the Monroe Doctrine or some other diplomatic formula.

Correspondence. BODARE, NEB., Jan. 28, 1896. Mr. B. F. Thomas has been very busy for the past few days, surveying the Bodare Cemetery and the people around here will fence it forthwith. Daniel Mont from Hemingford, Box Butte county is visiting with Elder Harr and family. We are glad to announce that Mrs. Tom Holly has recovered from la grippe. Mr. Holly and family expect to leave in the near future for Crawford, where he will run a section on the B. & M. R. R., having rented his farm to Mr. Mulkins.

The New South Carolina Constitution.

After much discussion South Carolina convention decided to adopt the Mississippi plan for the period of two years, and to keep on the enrollment lists for life the entire body of those who should be fortunate enough to get themselves enrolled before Jan. 1, 1895. After that date the loophole is closed; and the qualifications become rigid. No new voter can be registered after 1897 unless (1), he can both read and write any part of the constitution, or else (2), as the only alternative, he can show that he owns and has paid taxes upon property assessed at not less than $500 by the official assessor of his township or district.

The new constitution was not submitted for ratification to the voters of the state, but was directly promulgated by the convention itself. It is fair to estimate that from two-thirds to three-fourths of the colored voters will be at once disfranchised. It is probable that twenty-five per cent of the white voters deliberate. How many of these will be denied enrollment on the ground that they cannot understand and explain a portion of the constitution when read to them, it would not be possible to estimate in any way. It should be observed that by its expressed terms the new constitution discriminates against nobody. On its face it merely calls either for a limited amount of learning, or a moderate degree of intelligence without any learning at all. Any man who will take the trouble to learn to read within two years may get himself enrolled. If he waits longer than two years he must learn writing in addition to reading, or as an alternative he must cultivate industry, frugality, and temperance, and save up $500. This is by no means an easy thing to do, but it is possible. However much or little one may sympathize with the action taken by this convention, it can hardly be doubted that the premium thus placed upon a rudimentary education and upon the acquisition of property will almost certainly supply a definite and positive incentive to the individual and to parents, which must immensely stimulate the colored race to more rapid progress in civilization.

Just From the Press.

A very attractive publication has just been issued by the passenger department of the Burlington Route. It bears the title "The Newer North-west" and describes in a most interesting and readable fashion those portions of northern Wyoming and the Black Hills of South Dakota which are reached by this company's lines. The scenery, towns, mines, people and industries of these two remarkable sections of country are treated of with absolute fidelity. 200 pages with illustrations, sent on receipt of 10 cents in stamps.
