Nebraska republican editors in response to a question of the Chicago Tribune as to their presidential preferences responded to the number of eighty-eight and seventy-three of them were for McKinley. That is a pretty good indication of the general sentiment in Nebraska. —Seward Reporter.

After a great deal of fuss in arranging the details and finding a place where to fight, Robert Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher met in a prize ring just across the line in Mexico, on last Friday. It cost twenty dollars to gain admission and it took the former just a minute and a half to knock out his antagonist and become the heavy weight champion of the world. Less than 200 people were in the enclosure as witnesses.

Edgar W. Nye, known to the public as "Bill" Nye, died few days ago and was buried on Tuesday. There is a pathetic side to the incident not attached to death ordinarily. As a humorist he was expected to furnish amusement to many, but his health failed and it needed rest to regain what he had lost, but being in straitened circumstances he felt impelled to continue his labors to provide for his loved ones. It is hard for a person to pursue the ordinary vocation of life when racked with disease and pain, but to sit down and produce funny sayings for the public under such conditions in order to win bread for ones family is a phase of life out of the ordinary.

Among the constitutional amendments to be voted on at the coming legislative election is one increasing the membership of the supreme court from three to five. According to the provisions of the amendment the electors may elect two judges at the same election, to take their seats on the bench in case the amendment carries. The republican state convention will therefore nominate two candidates for the supreme court. Those most prominently mentioned for these places are Hon. Robert Ryan, of Lincoln, one of the supreme court commissioners and Judge Alfred Bartow, of Chadron, of the district court of the fifteenth judicial district.—Lincoln Journal.

The indications are that the sentiment of the republicans of Nebraska is too strongly in favor of McKinley as first choice for president to be switched to any other man. Had Gen. Manderson expressed the wish for the support of his state some months ago he would have had most loyal and hearty support, but his silence has allowed the Mc-Kinley sentiment to crystallize thoroughly, and to turn the delegation over would save so strongly of machine work that it would prove detrimental to the interests of the republican party. All Nebraska would rejoice to see Manderson made the choice of the St. Louis convention, and the proper thing to do is to send a delegation which is not instructed, and composed of men who have brains enough to advance the interests of the home man if occasion offers.

COMMISSIONERS' RECORD.

HARRISON, NEB., Feb. 19, 1890.

Board of county commissioners met as per call of clerk.

Present: Commissioners Thirkham, Weber and Johnson and clerk.

The board proceeded to obtain the information necessary to order to select the names of persons from which to draw a petit jury to serve at the March, 1890, term of the district court. The names of all persons who were drawn as jurors for the past two years was first obtained. The abstract of the votes cast at the last general election was examined and the total number of votes polled in this county was found to be 494, which divided by 60, the number of persons to be listed for jury purposes, it was found that one person could be listed as juror for each six and eleven different elections found to be present.

Appearing to the board that the boundary line of Montrose, Five Points and Sugar Loaf precincts have been exchanged since the last vote of the several precincts was laid, by reason of which fact it is impossible for the board to ascertain the proportionate number of jurors to be selected from said precincts as now constituted, it was decided by the board to proportion the drawing of the jury for the March, 1890, term of the district court by drawing the list on the basis of the last vote of the last several precincts.

The following list of names of persons eligible for jurors was then selected from the several precincts as constituted at the last election:

SIOUX COUNTY is the northwest county of Nebraska. It is about thirty miles east and west by about seventy miles north and south and contains of land. There are more bright, sparkling, small streams in the county than can be found in the same area elsewhere in the state. It has more pine timber in it than all the rest of the state combined. Its grasses are the richest and most nutritious known so that for stock-growing it is unequalled.

The soil varies from a heavy clay to a light sandy loam and is capable of producing excellent crops.

The principal crops are small grain and vegetables, although good corn is grown in the valleys. The wheat, oats, rye and barley are all of unusually high quality and command the highest market prices.

The water is pure and refreshing and is found in abundance in all parts of the county.

The county is practically out of debt and has over forty-five miles of rail road within its borders; has a good brick court house and the necessary fixtures for running the county and there has never been one dollar of county bonds issued and hence taxes will be low.

The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad crosses Sioux county from east to west and the B. & M. has about fifteen miles of its line in the northeast part of the county.

The climate is more pleasant than that of the eastern portion of Nebraska.

There is still

OVER 800,000 ACRES

of land in Sioux county yet open to homestead entry. It is better land and more desirably located than that for which such rushes are made on the opening of a reservation. There is no railroad land in the county and for that reason its settlement has been slow but no special effort to get settlers was made, as was done in the early days of the settlement of the eastern part of the state.
