John Stratton was in town Saturday for the first time since his coon-hunting accident. He still had his head in a sling and the left side of his face is paralyzed, but feeling is gradually returning and he will be all right in time.

Grant Guthrie shipped a car load of wheat from here on Tuesday. It was thought that most of it would be needed here for seed but the demand for seed grain seems to be less this year than ever before.

F. E. Livermore received the necessary blanks a few days ago for the beginning of the organization of a G. A. R. Post at Harrison, and he requests that all old soldiers and sailors in favor of such an organization confer with him. The cost of organizing is small.

On last Saturday Jacob Stoneking succeeded in obtaining bondsman and was released thereon to appear at the November term of the district court, so that expense to the county is stopped until that time. It is understood that new evidence is in the possession of the prosecution which makes a pretty strong case, but the fact that the defendant waived examination allowed both sides to avoid making their side of the case public so that the facts of the case will not be known until the trial.

Fred Leitloff was in town Saturday accompanied by his brother and cousin who recently came out from Iowa, and called at this office. He expects to be living on his claim in Highland precinct in the near future.

Notice: My book is meeting with such universal approval that it will be delayed 2 or 3 weeks, but will be bigger and better than was first intended. Hurry in your orders. Very Respectfully, B. F. THOMAS.

The republican primary for Bowen precinct last Saturday was very lightly attended and passed off without incident. W. O. Patton, A. R. Dew, P. B. Bigelow and W. H. Davis were elected delegates to the county convention.

The village election will occur on next Tuesday. There will be but one ticket on the ballot and that is composed of D. H. Grossold, N. B. Hamlin, W. R. Marsteller, E. Ralston and J. W. Scott.

The storm the first of the week let down several inches of snow but the wind piled most of it in drifts. It was not so heavy a snow as being the lowest reported Wednesday morning, and the sun came out and the snow began to melt and will wet the ground sufficient to start the grass in good shape.

Yen. Fluor, of the village school, showed us some samples of non-drawing in colors executed by some of his pupils which were very creditable. The methods now followed in the public schools by progressive teachers are certainly vast improvements over methods used when the parents of to-day were pupils.

W. B. Lafferty left on Wednesday evening of last week for Omaha to receive treatment at a hospital. He has long suffered from ailments brought on by his army service and of late he has grown rapidly worse, and the demand for treatment became imperative. It is hoped that he will return very much benefited.

A. McGinley informed us on Saturday that he lost nine head of cattle within two days from blackleg, and he attributes the loss to the fact that they ran out of salt, for as soon as a supply of salt was obtained no more cattle were attacked. His stock has been consuming a barrel of salt a week during the winter and kept in health so long as the supply was kept up.

In another column appears the advertisement of L. T. Poole, of Marsland, Neb., agent for water elevators. These elevators have been used in that locality for some years and have proven satisfactory. They are built on scientific principles and will do the work with the least possible expenditure of power. It can be used with windmill, steam, horse power or water power and any who desire to elevate water will do well to investigate this machine.

The attorney general has taken up the matter of protecting the timber on the school lands belonging to the state and THE JOURNAL would advise people to be careful and find out just where the lines of the school sections are before they go to cutting timber. It is much easier to avoid trouble than to get out of it. There is much timber to be had without assuming the risk of prosecution. The price of lumber is not high enough to warrant taking much risk.

Farmers who would be thrifty are paying more attention to the cow, the hog and the hen. Raising grain for the market is uphill business in any county, while those who engage in dairying or hog raising have a little ready cash. Let us look at the hen. She is not considered of much value, yet her output in Nebraska annually exceeds the silver of Colorado. It is estimated that a good hen will produce from 150 to 200 eggs per year. During the year she will consume but over a bushel of grain, worth 20 cents. Eggs average 10 cents per dozen, which at the lowest estimate of 150 during the year, brings $1.25. Deduct from this 20 cents for the grain the hen will consume and we have $1.05 as the net proceeds of one hen, besides we have our working capital, the hen, on hand ready for the market at all she is worth. Farmers are beginning to burn that in looking after the small things around the farm there is a large amount of profit. Friend Telegraph.

DO YOU WANT TO RAISE

WATER?

I will put you a machine which will elevate from 300 gallons to 22,000 gallons per minute with the least possible power. It can be operated by windmill, steam, water or horse power.

It has been tried and its merits are known.

It is just the thing to use in streams where a portion of the water can be used to elevate the other portion.

They are cheap. They are durable. They are simple. They are up-to-date.

Prices on larger machines or on iron work alone, furnished on application.

Worse Than a Brute.

A report reached town last Thursday after THE JOURNAL was out, of most brutal treatment of Mrs. William Noreisch by her husband, and the report has been repeated time and again by different parties, and as all reports are substantially alike it is evident that they do not come far from the truth. The following is the case as reported:

Noreisch became enraged because the dog had killed hog and charged his wife with being responsible for it. He attacked her in the cellar, knocking her down and stamped and kicked her in a horrible manner, and put a rope and was going to hang her. A daughter interfered and he beat her. The woman became unconscious from the inhuman treatment, and being in a delicate condition she was prematurely delivered of a child. In addition to this no medical aid was procured nor even the body of infant removed from the cellar, where it was seen by neighbors, and some days after when a neighbor was there the poor woman would gasp for breath and scream with agony.

If the facts sustain the report as given above something should certainly be done. No civilized community can allow such cold-blooded brutality to go by unpunished, and if the case is as bad as reported, a long term in the penitentiary would properly be the result of his prosecution. This is not the first time that reports have been out of Noreisch ill-treating his wife, and on one occasion the neighbors took action in the matter, and it is time steps were taken to effectually put a stop to it. He seems to have the woman so in fear of him that she will not prosecute him and that will make it necessary for some else to do so. Noreisch has not yet been arrested but it is safe to presume that those who know the facts will take the proper steps to see that he is brought to justice, for if such acts are not punished the next time it may be murder.

E. Richstein has set out a number of young ash trees around his property. He took great care in preparing the ground for them and hopes to be able to make them thrive.

Parties at Fort Robinson have sent to County Clerk Blewett for the necessary blanks for applying for a liquor license. It will likely bring $500 into the school fund of the county.

Editing a paper is a nice business. If we publish a joke people say we are rattled-headed. If we don't—we're an old fossil. If we publish original matter we don't give them enough selections. If we publish selections we are too lazy to write. If we give a man a puff we are partial, if we compliment the ladies the men are jealous; if we don't we publish a paper not fit to make a horse of. If we remain in our office we are too proud to mingle with the "common herd," if we're on the streets we are not attending to our business. If we wear poor clothes business is dull; if we wear good clothes we don't pay for 'em. Now what will we do? Some may say we stole this from our exchanges—and we did.—Newcastle (Wyo.) Democrat.
