NOTICE TO SETTLERS. The rules of the local land office have recently been amended so that settlers to make final proof shall settle with the publisher before sending in their application.

For information read THE JOURNAL. Old papers, five cents per dozen at THE JOURNAL office. Call at THE JOURNAL office and have your final proof papers made out. It will cost you nothing.

Some of the young people had a dance at Woodmen hall on Tuesday evening and a pleasant time is reported. It is E. V. Smith instead of W. R. Smith who has opened the new meat market. Read his advertisement in another column.

A party was given on last Thursday evening by Misses Minnie and Mable Warneke. About forty of their young friends were present and a good time is reported. Philip Unitt started Monday evening with his shipment of cattle for Seward. Mrs. Unitt and their daughter who came up with him also departed the same evening.

M. C. Doane had a horse shot recently. It seems to be getting quite a common method of dealing with neighbors' stock. If some one is convicted of it he will wish that he had gone according to law. P. N. Kirkpatrick and John Finley bagged a five-prong deer on Tuesday, which weighed 140 pounds after it was dressed. THE JOURNAL family enjoyed some fat, juicy venison steaks.

Cards are out announcing that the marriage of Mr. W. L. Hoyt and Miss Rosa DeBook will take place at the Bodarc Presbyterian church on Wednesday, November 18, 1893. A reception will be given at the home of the bride's parents in the evening. A few days ago B. L. Smuck, V. A. Hester and E. E. Smith took in a band of sheep which had drifted down from Wyoming. It was found that they belonged to Brown & Ganz and after the party from whom they had strayed had settled with the boys County Treasurer Biehle took them on a distress warrant for delinquent taxes. Mr. Brown came down and paid up the taxes and the sheep were turned over to him.

It is reported that a special land inspector has been at work in the vicinity of Lusk looking up the government land which is fenced, and it is understood that he will recommend to the department that the fences be torn down. Should the same thing be done in this locality there would be much waiting. It is hard to see any reason for the removal of such fences so long as the land is not filed upon and the rights of the public are not interfered with.

If winter keeps on at the gate it has started it will be a cracker jack. Several inches of snow has been on the ground for some days and it is reported as being deeper in all directions than it is here. The snow interfered with the train so that it did not arrive from the east until the middle of the afternoon on Tuesday and east of Chadron trains were blocked. If this is to be taken as a sample of the weather likely to prevail for the next four months people who have stock for which they have but little feed are likely to sustain considerable loss.

Arrangements are being made for a grand McKinley ball at the court house on Thanksgiving evening, November 26th. The dance will be free and the committee propose to make it as pleasant as possible for all. While it will be in honor of McKinley all are invited to attend and have a good time, as the only advantage the McKinley fellows will have will be that they will pay the bills. Further particulars will be given later. Let every body who enjoys dancing attend.

Arrangements are being perfected for the holding of farmers' institutes all over the state during the winter. Good speakers will be provided to address the gatherings on topics of most interest to the various localities. This part of the state has interests somewhat differing from the eastern part and an address which would help the people get better returns for their efforts would be appreciated. The time of such meetings here and the themes to be discussed will be given in time to allow all interested to attend.

PERSONAL. Mr. and Mrs. James Bourrett arrived home on Saturday. A. F. Christain made a trip to Crawford the first of the week. John Messing was serving his country as a juror this week and remembered to call at this office. John Tinnin was here this week looking after his case against the B. & M. E. D. Satterlee was up from Chadron this week meeting old acquaintances and looking after some matters in court. Train Master Birdsall, Dispatcher Marvin, Conductors Coutant and Dodge of Alliance, Agent Laws, of Spearfish, Roadmaster Dunlap and Section Foreman McCarty were here as witnesses in the case of Tinnin vs. B. & M.

At the meeting of the village board on Saturday evening the chairman was instructed to take action looking to the putting up of a windmill to pump water for the town. It is beyond question that the water supply for Harrison costs more in proportion to the amount used than in any other town in the state, and the machinery now used is getting pretty well used up and will have to be replaced before many years. At present it costs as much, if not more, to have the pumping done for two years as a windmill plant would cost, and now the town has nothing to show for it at the end of the time. With a windmill plant the supply would be more regular and ought to run for years without any expense to speak of. It is hoped that the board will not let up until a windmill is at work.

There is a good deal of talk in relation to the question of free range and herd law and the matter will, in all probability come up in the legislature. There are those who differ on the subject and who have what they consider good reasons for the position they occupy, and if any desire to express their views through the columns of THE JOURNAL, on either side of the question, its columns are open to them. All that is insisted upon is that the articles be free from abuse and personalities and that the writer's name be published with the article. Anonymous articles have but little weight, and a writer should not be afraid or ashamed to let his identity be known. There is no politics in the matter. It is a straight business proposition and should be treated as such.

The vote given to County Attorney Guthrie in the recent election was a compliment worthy bestowed. While his experience as a lawyer has not been extensive his natural ability and careful study enables him to handle the business of the office in a satisfactory manner and Sioux county has never had a more honorable, painstaking county attorney. He has a personal independence which leaves him free from the influence of any ring or gang, and in the performance of his duties he knows neither friend or foe, and he is broad-minded enough so that those with whom he has had controversies in the past will be accorded the same treatment that they would receive from him had they always been on the best of terms. There are those whose minds are so narrow and souls so small that they allow a little difference to rankle within them forever, but County Attorney Guthrie is not constructed on that plan and Sioux county is the gainer thereby.

The result of the election in the first commissioner district wherein Frank Tinkham was re-elected by a majority of thirty over S. L. Ellis, is a compliment to the official record of Mr. Tinkham. Mr. Ellis is a good man and would have made a good commissioner had he elected, but there was a feeling that Mr. Tinkham was entitled to an endorsement, and although the district is strongly populist and Mr. Tinkham is a republican, and Mr. Ellis is a populist still the former got a handsome majority. Another factor in the case was that some of the active ones in the populist party know that in order for them to get any office themselves it is necessary to kill off some of the stronger men in the party. A year ago they forced M. J. Weber to be a candidate for clerk when his defeat was inevitable, and thus laid him on the shelf. Mr. Ellis was known to possess considerable strength in the county and next year might want to be a candidate for one of the offices that are worth fighting for. Some of the schemers of his party recognized that and also knew that whoever ran against Tinkham for commissioner would be defeated. A good opportunity was thus offered to put Ellis out of the way by making him a candidate for commissioner. It worked just as the schemers desired and one more obstacle was removed from their path to office.

Just From the Press. A very attractive publication has just been issued by the passenger department of the Burlington Route. It bears the title "The Newer North-west" and describes in a most interesting and readable fashion those portions of northern Wyoming and the Black Hills of South Dakota which are reached by this company's lines. The scenery, towns, mines, people and industries of these two remarkable sections of country are treated of with absolute fidelity. 200 pages with illustrations, sent on receipt of 10 cents in stamps. DISTRICT COURT. Jacob Stoneking Convicted of Rustling Beef.

Hiram Richardson Forfeits His Bond.

District court convened on Monday with Judge Westover presiding. The Docket was little larger than common, but it proved to be the most important term ever held in Sioux county. The first day was occupied in the ordinary routine way, hearing motions, taking judgements in defaulted cases and other matters which could be attended to by the court without the intervention of a jury.

The outside attorneys who were present were D. B. Jenckes, Judge Crites, A. G. Fisher and E. D. Satterlee, of Chadron, W. H. Fanning and E. W. Daily, of Crawford, and A. W. Agee, of Aurora.

The following is the disposition made of civil cases: John Tinnin vs. C. B. & Q. railroad company, motion of defendant to suppress affidavits sustained and the case continued on showing of plaintiff.

Michigan Saving and Loan Association vs. G. Guthrie, et al., sale confirmed and deed ordered.

Renslow Crosby vs. E. G. Hough, sale confirmed and deed ordered.

Samuel Southworth vs. Lewis M. Babb, sale confirmed and deed ordered.

Michigan Savings Bank vs. Thomas Dunn, decree of foreclosure.

Michigan Saving Bank vs. John Dunn, decree of foreclosure.

M. L. Ayers vs. A. J. Hodge, decree of foreclosure.

G. W. Hester, et al., vs. Henry Lindeman, error in justice court; plaintiff to file petition within 30 days.

Wm. H. Male vs. G. W. Cobb, decree of foreclosure.

James H. Cook vs. Charles Biehle, County Treasurer, to be submitted in chambers.

Michigan Saving and Loan Association vs. H. A. Cunningham, decree of foreclosure.

Louisa J. Jacobey vs. Franklin Jacobey, decree of absolute divorce granted.

Wm. H. Male vs. John Moseley, decree of foreclosure.

Emelia Noreisch vs. C. E. Schilt, et al., plaintiff's motion to include other parties denied, and defendant allowed to re-file answer.

County of Sioux vs. F. E. & M. V. railroad, demurrer of defendant sustained.

Wm. H. Male vs. P. J. Northness, decree of foreclosure.

In the case of the State vs. Harry Brown the prosecution was unable to procure a maternal witness, but the court refused to allow a continuance taking the ground that the prosecution has all the machinery of the law and the right to incur any necessary expense in bringing criminals to justice, and the defendant was discharged.

In the case of the State vs. Hiram Richardson the defendant did not appear and the court declared his bond of two hundred dollars forfeited.

The case of the State vs. Jacob Stoneking, on the charge of cattle stealing was called for trial and the following persons were accepted by both sides as jurors: D. W. Hamaker, J. H. Bartell, John Messing, F. J. Miller, H. Goetts, Z. F. Antrim, H. M. Warneke, L. H. Bowdish, Samuel Beekley, George Gillmor, J. F. Lacroce and Corwin Lewis.

D. B. Jenckes was appointed by Judge Westover to assist County Attorney Guthrie in the prosecution, and E. W. Daily looked after interests of the defendant. The state presented a strong case and the defense made the best showing it could under the circumstances.

The case was given to the jury at noon on Thursday and about ten o'clock that night they brought in a verdict of guilty, and recommended leniency on the part of the court.

Next morning when court convened Mr. Daily asked until after dinner to look up matters relative to asking a new trial. When that time arrived Mr. Daily had decided that there was no grounds on which he could reasonably ask for a new trial.

Judge Westover then asked the defendant if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him. A negative answer was given. The court reviewed at some length the importance of the live stock interests to this part of the state and the necessity of the enforcement of the law in order to protect the property of the taxpayers. He said that considering that this was the first time the defendant had been convicted of a crime and also that the jury had recommended mercy on his part, and the further fact that it was the first conviction ever brought about in Sioux county he would impose a light sentence. He then stated that the defendant should be confined in the penitentiary at hard labor for three years, no part of the confinement to be solitary. Judge Westover then stated to the public that should other convictions be had on the charge of stealing stock, the court would increase the penalty until the maximum of ten years was inflicted or the practice of stealing stock broken up.

Sioux County, THE LAND OF THE HOMESTEADER.

Free Homes for More Than 5,000 Men.

A new county with schools, churches, railroads, etc.,

AND 800,000 ACRES YET OPEN TO HOMESTEAD ENTRY.

Contains over forty-five miles of railroad and has no county bonds.

Sioux county is the northwest county of Nebraska. It is about thirty miles east and west by about seventy miles north and south and contains OVER 1,300,000 ACRES of land. There are more bright, sparkling, small streams in the county than can be found in the same area elsewhere in the state. It has more pine timber in it than all the rest of the state combined. Its grasses are the richest and most nutritious known so that for stock-growing it is unexcelled.

The soil varies from a heavy clay to a light sandy loam and is capable of producing excellent crops.

The principal crops are small grain and vegetables, although good corn is grown in the valleys. The wheat, oats, rye and barley are all of unusually fine quality and command the highest market prices.

The water is pure and refreshing and is found in abundance in all parts of the county.

The county is practically out of debt and has over forty-five miles of railroad within its borders, has a good brick court house and the necessary fixtures for running the county and there has never been one dollar of county bonds issued and hence taxes will be low.

The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad crosses Sioux county from east to west and the B. & M. has about fifteen miles of its line in the northeast part of the county.

The climate is more pleasant than that of the eastern portion of Nebraska.

There is still

OVER 800,000 ACRES of land in Sioux county yet open to homestead entry. It is better land and more desirably located than that for which such rushes are made on the opening of a reservation. There is no railroad land in the county and for that reason its settlement has been slow for no special effort to get settlers was made, as was done in the early days of the settlement of the eastern part of the state.

Good deeded land can be purchased at reasonable rates with government land adjoining so that a person who wants more than one quarter section can obtain it if he has a little means.

There are about 1,500 people in the county and there is room for thousands more.

Harrison is the county seat and is situated on the F. E. & M. V. railroad, and is as good a town as the thinly settled country demands.

School houses and churches are provided in almost every settlement and are kept up with the times.

All who desire to get a homestead or buy land cheap are invited to come and see the country for themselves and judge of its merits. Homesteads will not be obtainable much longer and if you want to use your right and get 160 acres of land from Uncle Sam free it is time you were about it.
