Laborers and Unions.

There are to-day 5,000,000 day laborers in this country. One and one fourth million belong to national labor unions, another million to local unions not yet national in scope and the remainder compose the army of unorganized labor.

Minerals in Manchuria.

The mineral resources of Manchuria as shown even by the surface scratching that has been done, are simply stupendous. As a wealth-giver it may send more to St. Petersburg for the next half century than it will to London.

Blades of Even Length.

In days when tavern brawls were frequent and swords were out on the slightest provocation, common fairness demanded that the blades of chance combatants should be of equal length. In a sudden affray there would be no thought of measuring swords, so the authorities took the matter into their own hands at the gates of the city of London, where every gallant was liable to be challenged, and if the public official found any blade beyond thirty-six inches the smith stood by to snip off the steel to the required length. In Queen Elizabeth's reign this was the common practice.

Most Important Point in Bringing Up Children. In bringing up our children, we have learned that in regard to religious matters, the sacred needs to be diluted with the secular. In other words, religious instruction in the abstract is not nearly so efficacious as character building as the making of principles of righteousness a vital part of life. Practice is better than precept, says Good Housekeeping. If boy quickly learned the Bible's injunctions as to kindness and generosity, but when he gave ten cents or had earned money to help a poor man, the act made a greater impression upon his nature than all his Sunday schooling. Most of us parents need to realize that action speaks louder than words—that a good example and right deeds by parents during the week have more effect upon the child than church-going.
