ANCIENT LAW STILL STANDS

Edict Issued by Roman Praetor 2,200 Years Ago Held to Be Enforceable in Scotland.

A Roman praetor's edict of 2,200 years ago still affects innkeepers and ostlers in Scotland. A Drainie farmer haggled his horse to an ostler to be stabled, and the ostler placed it into a double stable, where, shortly after, a second horse was placed. These two horses had previously shared a stall, and were known to be quiet and not quarrelsome. The farmer's horse was found when it was put into the stable, but when he returned for it, it was found to be lame on the off fore leg, and two days later, on the advice of a veterinary surgeon, was destroyed. The farmer sued the ostler and the Judge dismissed the case, which was appealed. The appeal Judge held that in law the Praetorian edict of 367 B. C. applied and that the injury was not due to "the act of God." The Lord Justice-Clerk said the case raised questions of importance and difficulty. The first question they had to decide was whether a stabler fell within the praetor's edict. After carefully considering the arguments adduced and surveying the authorities cited, he was unable to find in modern law any warrant for the suggested discrimination. He was of the opinion that stablers, as well as innkeepers, according to the law of Scotland, fell within the edict.

The Missionary Society held a very enjoyable meeting at the Parsonage on Friday afternoon. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. C. J. Pope. Mrs. Frank Smith very ably discussed Women under Non-Christian Religions; Mrs. E. D. McCune told of the many duties of an India Pastor's wife; Mrs. George Pope told of some of our own missionary doings; and Mrs. Harwood read of an American woman's experience in Russia during the war. The following officers were elected: President Emeritus, Mrs. S. Dickson; president, Mrs. G. G. Nelson; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Smith; Sec. Mrs. Alice Tates; Treas. Mrs. Mark McConkey.

Wednesday afternoon of last week, the mistress of the parsonage was very pleasantly surprised when the Ladies Aid came in to spend the afternoon. The second surprise came when the president, Mrs. Wm. Engles, unrolled a bulky package disclosing two rugs and announced that each lady had sewed a ball. This will long be a reminder of a very happy afternoon. The afternoon closed with a delicious lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Why Keep Advertising?

When business is slack why Advertise? Did you ever notice that it takes time and persistence to accomplish anything worth while? You can't advertise today and expect to find your store crowded tomorrow, unless you have through constant advertising educated the public to read your ads. The majority of people are slow to act. You have to tell them the same thing over and over again before they will heed your message. Advertise now for the business you hope to do next month--it is the cumulative effect that brings results.

HOW TO MAKE A WILD WOMAN

THE Sarcophagus, or stone coffin, has been used by the more civilized peoples since the days of the early Egyptians. Its successor today is the Norwalk Vault. Luxuriantly carved and painted were the sarcophagi of the Greeks and Romans, but the Norwalk Vault of moulded granite combines quiet dignity with its rugged strength. Sealed by hand, within the grave, it becomes one solid piece of eternally protecting masonry. For every funeral:
