

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

ANNIVERSARY OF BIG STORM.

Wind Continued for three Days Causing Much Property Loss and Many Fatalities.

On April 13, 14 and 15, 1873, the famous "Easter storm" swept Nebraska. The entire western country was visited by a disturbance which seemed to have its path of greatest intensity across this state. The wind blew with terrific force for three days, causing an immense amount of loss to live stock and property and the destruction of a considerable number of human lives.

The state was in its early pioneer period. Most of the houses were light, shell like affairs or sod houses, dugouts or log cabins. The snow was driven with great force into these poorly constructed buildings and caused more suffering than a similar storm could at the present time.

The storm extended north into Dakota and as far south as Texas, but was more severe in this state than anywhere else. The wind blew from 60 to 70 miles an hour as closely as it could be estimated, and many small structures were destroyed. Nearly all of the residents of the state had recently arrived, and they sent back east thrilling accounts of the nature and severity of the storm. These days are therefore the fiftieth anniversary of the dying down of the fury of one of three of the outstanding meteorological disturbances in the history of the state. The others were the blizzard of January 12, 1888, and the two days of burning heat on July 26-27, 1891.

The Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum will meet in Omaha April 24. The new Masonic ordinance and hospital at Fremont will be dedicated this summer.

Property that had been in possession of the same family sixty-seven years, sold for the first time last week, when John Munch bought the Moe residence and two lots in Fremont from the Rev. Rex Moe.

With but very little debate, the senate recommended for passage H. R. 318, which accepts the offer of the Morton heirs to give Arbor Lodge located near Nebraska City and the home for years of J. Sterling Morton, to the state for park purposes. The bill carries a proviso that the amount spent for maintenance in no one year shall exceed $5,000.

In the Nebraska spelling test conducted by the state university extension division among 264 high schools, four colleges and the University of Nebraska, the highest class average, 98.86 per cent, was made by the seniors in the colleges, and the lowest, 80 per cent, by freshmen in the high schools. The highest general average, 94.7 per cent was made by the colleges students of the state university coming next with an average of 94.4. High school students averaged 86.27, which is said to be from 4 to 6 per cent below the national average.

SWEET BILL AIDS THOUSANDS

Measure Passed at Close of Sixty-Seventh Congress Benefits Many Afflicted Soldiers.

The lives of nearly ten thousand World war veterans will be saved, or at least prolonged, by the passage of the Sweet bill just at the close of the Sixty-seventh congress, according to American Legion officials. The United States veterans' bureau has highly commended the activity of the American Legion in bringing this bill to a vote at the eleventh hour, though National Commander Alvin Owsley was forced to get into the fight himself and, through his organization, insist on the passage of the act.

Countless veterans afflicted with some form of tuberculosis have left their homes and are now wanderers in Western states in hope of seeking out a cure for the disease. Many of these are destitute and the passage of the bill, which permits a greater leniency by the extension of the time in which disability resulting from service origin may be termed as "fitting the veteran to compensation," is one of the beneficial results.

The provisions of the bill, affording more practical, beneficial protection for the veterans, are sweeping. Perhaps that feature which struck out of the former law the word "pulmonary", so that every veteran may come under the extent of the act, is the most far-reaching. The previous law limited the veterans' bureau to a consideration of pulmonary cases alone, and no examination was required, but officers of the bureau were permitted to use their medical knowledge in determining the approximate date when the affliction became active.

In another section of the law the time for securing a certificate of disability has been extended to March 1, 1924. The former ruling terminated this period on August 9, 1922. These retroactive are incontestable evidence of the service origin of the injury, except in cases of fraud, and holders may receive compensation and hospital care; or, if the veteran dies, death compensation.

More elastic rulings affecting disabled veterans were included in the act. These provide that discharge on the grounds of "moral turpitude" and "persistent misconduct" would not disbar the soldier from receiving compensation unless he was found guilty by court-martial. A further provision of this section is that if an injury was incurred in an enlistment previous to the one during which the veteran was discharged, that this would not disbar him from compensation.

The Sweet act also provides that, in cases where a deceased veteran leaves insufficient funds to pay funeral expenses, the government will pay $100, and an additional $5 for the cost of a flag with which to drape the casket. A further provision will keep the bodies of many veterans from potter's fields, for the government will prepare and transport home or to national cemeteries the bodies of ex-service men who were receiving government medical, surgical or hospital treatment.

The previous method of payment of insurance for disability and death only on death of the veteran has been so amended that, instead of the beneficiaries being the only ones to receive the benefits, the veteran will be entitled to the payments, on total or permanent disability, if his uncollected compensation at the time of the disability is sufficient to meet past due insurance premiums at the time the policy elapsed.

Rejection for reinstatement of insurance because of a service disability at the time of application for reinstatement was also so amended as to permit reconsideration of the policy. Eight thousand veterans are believed to be affected by this provision. Further protection is offered those veterans who were mentally incompetent and whose guardians permitted their insurance to lapse while the patient was rated mentally incompetent. Policies of this nature are considered unexpired under the new law.

Everyday Heroes. (Being a few that the War department missed). The man who can get into the bath-tub without knocking off the wire soap-holder. The man who, when the lower drawer of the bureau gets stuck, does not give it a kick. The man who doesn't think that he "stands in" with the garage mechanic. The man who can see a frosty pane, while waiting for a train, and not scratch his initials on it. The wife who, when there are fresh peaches for dinner, does not remind her husband that peach stains won't come out.

The man who does not tell how far he can hear over his home-made radio set.

The wife who does not remind her husband how attentive he was before they were married.

The husband who took down the awnings the first time his wife asked him to.—American Legion Weekly.

AFTER 3,000 LEGION MEMBERS

Syracuse (N. Y.) Post, Headed by H. B. Brewster, in Midst of Strenuous Campaign.

During his World war days, Henry B. Brewster of Syracuse, N. Y., served for a time as a member of the peace commission to assess damages suffered by Rumania from German invaders. He is now commander of the Syracuse post of the American Legion and is leading his comrades in a campaign to obtain 3,000 Legion members.

Although he was well past the draft age, Mr. Brewster began to study military science one month after war was declared. He was commissioned a captain of engineers in July, 1917, and was sent to Camp Belvoir, Va., where he was in charge of a regiment of engineers engaged in constructing the camp.

He served overseas with the Sixty-sixth engineers and while at St.

Henry B. Brewster.

Dizier received an injury. Later he served on the peace commission and was attached to the chief engineers' office at Tours. Major Brewster received a citation from General Pershing "for extraordinary and meritorious service."

IN FAVOR OF STATE BONUS

Oklahoma Legion Men's Referendum Results in Large Majority for Compensation Action.

"They fought not only for the American flag and American institutions but for every section of land in Oklahoma," Gov. J. C. Walton of Oklahoma declared in his inaugural address, referring to ex-service men of the World war.

"There are sections of land in Oklahoma that have produced $50,000,000. I am in favor of giving these soldiers the wealth produced by one section of our land, and I recommend that the bonus bill be again submitted to the people at a special election which it is the power of the legislature to do by joint resolution."

The state bonus bill advocated by Governor Walton during the campaign provided $50 a month for ex-service men for each month of service during the World war. Although the bill had the united opposition of all interests that would be taxed, nearly 25,000 more voted for the measure than against it, but it lost by approximately 4,500 votes, lacking that number of having a majority of all votes cast in the election.

The American Legion of Oklahoma was neutral, taking no stand for or against the measure. Governor Walton recommended resubmission of the same bill with the elimination of the tax on oil refineries.

In view of the large favorable vote cast, the American Legion took a referendum vote of its membership to see whether they favored a "reasonable state adjusted compensation measure." At a meeting of the department executive committee the vote was canvassed and showed a large majority in favor of some sort of a state bonus.

MINNESOTA HOLDS RECORD

Legion Is Co-Operating With State in Planting Memorials to Men Who Fell in War.

The American Legion is co-operating with the state of Minnesota in the reforestation program of the American Tree association to make Minnesota the "State of Tree-Lined Highways."

More trees than have hitherto ever been set out by a single state of the union were planted in Minnesota during 1922, because of the work of the 500 Legion posts in the state. In nearly every instance the trees were of black walnut, a species particularly adapted to southern Minnesota, but during the present year the state forestry department has made available other varieties.

Gerald Barron, commander of the American Legion in Minnesota, has issued a bulletin to Legionnaires throughout the state in which he asks continuance of the planting. The trees are placed at intervals of 50 feet on each side of the road, making about 210 to the mile and affording a welcome relief from glare of the sun and monotony of the road. No charge is made for the trees, and instructions for planting have been issued through the offices of the state forester. The days of planting are usually made holidays observed by the Legion posts, the auxiliary units, boy scout troops, and civic organizations.

Try a pipeful or two direct from the factory

Not that it will be any better than the Edgeworth you buy in a store, but we want you to have your first Edgeworth smoke at our expense.

You may repay us by finding that Edgeworth just suits your taste. And if it doesn't—for there are some few men to whom Edgeworth is not just the thing—there's no harm done.

We are glad enough to send free samples in the same spirit that we'd hand you our pouch if circumstances permitted. We wish it were possible to save you even the little trouble of writing for Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a likable smoke. Men who have tried it and found it to be the right tobacco for them never think of smoking other tobaccos. They'll tell you there are many good tobaccos—and there are. And when you offer them your pouch with "stranger" tobacco in it, they may use up a pipeful just to be friendly.

But notice how quickly they get back to their beloved Edgeworth!

Day after day Edgeworth fans write to us. They tell us human little stories, friendly anecdotes centering around Edgeworth. Often it is the number of years they have smoked Edgeworth that prompted them to write.

Knowing how hard it is for the average man to write letters, we consider these unsolicited messages the greatest tribute to Edgeworth we could possibly have—greater even than the increasing sales. It gives the business of making tobacco a pleasure that runs through the whole gamut—from factory executive to the smoker in the backwoods.

If you have never tried Edgeworth, let us repeat our offer, "Try a pipeful or two direct from the factory." All you have to do is to write "Let me try a pipeful or two" on a postcard, sign your name and address and send the postcard to us. The address is Larus & Brother Co., 80 South 21st Street, Richmond, Va. If you want to add the name of your tobacco dealer, we'll make sure that he has Edgeworth in stock.

To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus & Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-dozen carton of any size of Edgeworth Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.
