WHY TAKE LAXATIVES?

Discovery by Science Has Replaced Them.

Pills and salts give temporary relief from constipation only at the expense of permanent injury, says an eminent medical authority.

Science has found a newer, better way—a means as simple as Nature itself.

In perfect health a natural lubricant keeps the food waste soft and moving. But when constipation exists this natural lubricant is not sufficient. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

As Nujol is not a medicine or laxative, it cannot gripe and, like pure water, it is harmless and pleasant.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals. Get a bottle from your druggist today.—Advertisement.

Volumes About Shakespeare.

In the last 200 years more than 3,000 literary men and women have devoted themselves to the production of books dealing with Shakespeare and his works, and of these some five or six hundred have been foreigners who have written in their own tongues. Sir Sidney Lee estimated that six million volumes dealing with the poet were published during the Nineteenth century.

Shut That Door! This common command will soon be out of date, if a recent inventor has his way. His device slips over the hinge of any door and prevents it from standing open; and at the same time it can be slipped off the hinge and under the door to serve as a door stop and hold it in any desired open or partly open position. In connection with this double duty, it is necessary to point out that no screws are required for attaching the little spring-and-wing outfit. To attach, the wings are simply bent toward one another and the spring slipped over the hinge. Removal is just as quick and easy as attachment.—Scientific American.
