

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women Who Rely upon
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

Many times they state in their letters their willingness to answer women who write them. It is an offer dictated by gratitude and a desire to help others.

"Not Me," Said He.
In entering a playhouse one evening the doorman asked me for my ticket, and I said, "The man behind has it."

You can imagine my feeling when the man behind replied, "Not me."
My husband had stopped to talk to some one and I had walked right in.—Exchange.

Fancywork Her Forte.
Does your wife do any fancywork? asked a victim.
"Fancywork? She won't even let a porous plaster come into the house without crocheting a red border round it and running a yellow ribbon through the holes."

Show Hats of Varied Types; Lace Adorns Alluring Gowns

A LOT of things happen along to take the joy out of life, but a lot of other things have happened this season to add joy to it. Among these happenings are the new hats shown for summer wear. They are joyous and lovely affairs calculated to make one forget a bitter moment or a bad quarter hour.

Every woman loves, and with good reason, a wide-brimmed, gracious model, like the fine millan shown at the top of the group. It has a double-rolling of black velvet about the under brim and a delightful little frill, of the val face, at the brim decorated with silk embroidery in three high colors.

As long as women have patriarchal instincts they will love good lace and do them honor by choosing them for their most alluring dresses. And if one's needs call for only one formal gown, it is the part of wisdom to choose lace for it, or lace in combination with another fabric of equal class. One of those satisfying gowns in which lace and crepe de chine set one another off, is presented here.

Wide lace flouncing makes a part of the fabric displays everywhere and it is shown in many colors. In the gown edge. A band of velvet about the crown makes a background for two gorgeous poppies and a little fine foliage at each side.

The bonnet-like shape at the left makes use of crepe georgette for its shirred top crown, folded collar and plain brim covering. Strands of unlines, matching it in color, are braided and lie about the brim, ending in a long scarf at the right side, where three blossoms are posed. The pretty poke shape, at the right, cov-erred with crepe de chine with a braid facing has a sash with loop and long ends falling from the brim where a large rosette of flowers is placed flat against the shape. Below at the left, a tailored hat of lighter straw is trimmed with bands and ornaments of plaited, fiddle ribbon. The sported sports hat, that finishes the group, has a flexible crown made of thin folds of white satin and a plain brim pictured it is used for an overskirt, a trifle fuller than the underskirt of crepe de chine, and hanging straight to the ankles. It also forms a cleverly designed drape for the short-sleeved slip-over bodice of the crepe de chine. This drape is in the effect of a bertha at the front and a cape at the back. The bodice has no girldie but groups of shirtings at the front and back serve to suggest one. A very long floating panel of the crepe de chine falls from a cluster of gorgeous still tulips at the side. Imagine this gown in sand color or in Cleopatra blue, or cocoa or gray with hose and slippers to match; in any case you will be undecided as to which is the handsomest

LESSON FOR JULY 8

MARY, THE MOTHER OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:26-28, 34-35; 1:37-40; John 1:9-11, 14-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins."—Matt. 1:21.

REFERENCE MATERIAL.—Matt. 1:18-24; John 1:11; John 19:25-27.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Mary and the Baby Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Mary and the Boy Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Notable Incidents in the Life of Mary.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Mary, the Mother of Jesus.

I. Mary at Nazareth (Luke 1:26-38, 46-50).

Mary was a Jewish maid of the town of Nazareth. The first information we have of her is that she was engaged to be married to Joseph, a carpenter of the same village. It seems that the custom among the Jews was for betrothal to take place a year before marriage. During this interval the woman remained with her parents.

L. Gabriel Sent from God to Mary (vv. 26-38). It was during this interval of betrothal before Joseph and Mary were married that God sent the angel Gabriel to announce unto Mary that she was to be the mother of Jesus.

Isaiah, more than 700 years before, prophesied that a virgin should give birth to a son whose name should be called Immanuel (Isa. 7:14). Though at first perplexed, she accepted the announcement with remarkable courage and devotion. To be told that she was to be a mother was nothing startling, for this was the normal desire of every married Jewish woman. Under the circumstances she accepted motherhood at a tremendous cost. She was conscious of her virgin purity. She knew that to become a mother under such circumstances would expose her to unutterable suspicion and shame.

This was the view that certain Jews took of the matter, for they insinuated to Jesus that He was born of fornication (John 8:41). Her faith was such that she responded with noble courage. She said, "Behold the handmaid of the Lord; he it unto me according to thy word" (Luke 1:38).

2. Her Wonderful Song (vv. 46-50). In her embarrassment she set out on a visit to an elderly kinswoman named Elizabeth. Having sought the sympathy and encouragement of this friend, her triumphant faith carried her beyond the misunderstanding, the scorn and shame which awaited her, and caused her soul to burst out in this most wonderful song of praise.

3. Mary at Bethlehem (Luke 2:1-20). What Gabriel announced to Mary was now being fulfilled. Caesar's decree concerning taxation brought Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem at the opportune time for the fulfillment of Micah 5:2. Because of the crowded condition of the inn, the birth of the world's Saviour took place in a cave-stable.

4. Mary in Jerusalem and Galilee (Luke 2:41-52).

Jesus, now at the age of twelve, was a child of the law, for at this age the child took his responsibility as a worshipper.

1. Failure in Vigilant Care (v. 43). They had left the city and gone a whole day's journey without knowing where the child was.

2. Failure to Understand Fully Jesus' Action and Words (v. 50). No particular censure should attach to this, as it is beyond our ability even now to understand all these things.

3. Failure to Properly Sympathize with Jesus' Dearest Longings and Emotions. "How is it that ye sought me? What ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

4. Failure to Perceive Her Limit of Ministerfulness. The time comes when duty to God takes precedence over duty to parents. All these limitations should be viewed with the background of her deep devotion to God. Her whole life was lived in a spiritual atmosphere. She was just the kind of woman to whom God would trust the upbringing of His Son. Jesus went back with them to Nazareth and was subject unto them.

IV. Mary at the Cross (John 19:25-27).

This was a great trial. For any mother to see her son die is a trial, but what must it have been for this mother in the face of all the sacred memories that clung to her soul? It is beautiful to note the tender care which Jesus in His dying hour manifested for His mother. He committed her to the care of John. John accepted the responsibility of a son and took her to his home.

Our Mistakes.

There are few, very few, that will own themselves in a mistake, though all the world see them to be in downright nonsense.—Swift.

No Such Thing as Luck.

There is no such thing as luck. It's a fancy name for being always at our duty, and so sure to be ready when the good time comes.

The Art of Learning.

The great art of learning is to undertake but little at a time.—Locke.

Grasping the Wrong Sleeve.

My husband and I were going through the 10-cent store. He asked me to go to another counter with him. When I reached the counter I reached for his arm and said: "Do you know, today I want to buy a wash boiler." A strange voice answered: "Do you?" Looking up, I discovered I was holding the arm of a strange man. I beat it out of the store while the strange man and his companion were laughing.—Chicago Tribune.

"O Happy Day" sang the laundress as she hung the snowy wash on the line. It was a "happy day" because she used Red Cross Ball Blue.—Advertisement.

Different.

"Ah, Jerry," she sighed, "I am afraid you are growing cold! Don't you remember, dear, how before we were married you used to sing to me: 'Every Morn I Bring Thee Violets?' And every night roses, dear?"

"Yes, Mary; I did that, honey," he replied, wearily. "I didn't know, then, how it was going to feel every Saturday to bring you my envelope."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Economical Stove.

The ever increasing cost of coal has led to the development of a heating stove that will burn sawdust or the lower grades of coal that are unsuited in the ordinary stoves. There is a separate magazine inside the drum of the stove, and this can be taken out and packed with fuel. A removable core is placed in the magazine before the fuel is packed in, and is withdrawn when the magazine is replaced in the stove. The space occupied by this core forms a central draft opening through the bed of fuel.
