GRACE EPISCOPAL

The vacation period is now over. Let us then, enter into the work of the Church with renewed effort. Let the parents see that the boys and girls are in their places in the Church School. Not only that, but let us set the example for them by coming ourselves. We are very anxious that this Church be of the greatest service possible in this community and one way for us to do this is by each individual member doing his or her part. Co-operation is what any organization must have if it is to be successful. We need your presence at all of the services of the church. Let us make a new resolution from now on and be at every service that it is possible for us to attend. You will help the church by doing this and the church will help you.
