FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1895.

Just before going to press we learn that Judge Bartow is elected by four votes.

The Alliance Guide is on its ear because the republicans of Dorsey precinct (Hemingford) gave Mr. Sweeney, republican candidate for sheriff, no more than 14 votes. We don't see how the Alliance republicans can kick on that score and we would suggest that they go after Boyd, Mr. Sweeney's own precinct, where he received only 16 votes. By the way, Bro. Paradis, did we not wager you the cigars that Mr. Sweeney would not get over 15 votes in this precinct?

Schlatter, the "Messiah" who has created such a sensation in Danver by his wonderful healing powers, mysteriously disappeared Wednesday night leaving no trace but the message pinned on his bed. "My mission is finished. The Father takes me away." On Wednesday he treated 4,000 people and when notice was given Thursday morning that he had disappeared during the night there were thousands near the cottage who refused to believe the healer had left. Several hundred Nebraska people went to see him, among them being Division Supt. Sutherland of the Union Pacific and Col. J. H. Keithley of the Weeping Water Republican. Both claim to be cured of deafness and other ailments. Schlatter has been offered special trains and thousands of dollars as inducements for him to locate in other cities. All offers, however, have been spurned.

WASHINGTON NEWS

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Ex-Congressman Somers, of Wisconsin, now in Washington on private business, has a record as a good democrat and a shrewd observer of the trend of democratic sentiment in his state. He said when asked who the democrats of the state favored for the presidential nomination: "They are thoroughly in accord with President Cleveland, and I believe that were he to announce himself as a candidate for a third term he could obtain the entire delegation. Carlisle stands second, with W. C. Whitney very close to him. Either would make a good candidate and a strong campaign." Ex-Congressman Holman, of Indiana who thoroughly knows the democratic party of his state, says Indiana democrats have never seriously considered that there was any probability of President Cleveland again becoming a candidate, and that they do not believe it has been seriously considered anywhere else. Mr. Holman thinks that if no mistake is made in the National ticket Indiana will go democratic next year.

Democrats are extracting considerable consolation out of the old political maxim, that "a party is never in such great danger as just after it has won a great victory," and that it is a wise maxim the political upheavals of the last eight or ten years fully prove. No greater political victory was ever won in this country than that which in 1892 put the democrats in possession of the executive and legislative branches of the government. Yet, look what followed. In 1894, dissension in democratic ranks, and a republican Congressional victory; in 1895, more democratic dissension and republican victories in states heretofore safely democratic. The dissension in the ranks of the victorious republican party is already marked, and it is not confined to the fight over the presidential candidate of the party but includes the policy to be followed by the overwhelming republican majority in the House during the coming session of Congress. These dissensions even extend to the tariff question. Senator Sherman lately said that he would vote for bill amending the tariff that did not provide a duty for wool, and Representative Dalzel, of Pa., who may be the next Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, says the tariff is going to be amended and duties raised. Now comes ex-Senator Manderson, of Nebraska, who pointedly says: "The republicans cannot afford to open up the tariff question. If an attempt is made to put a duty on wool or any other article, every industry will rush in and demand more protection." This being the situation, it is natural that democrats should expect their prospects in the national campaign to be much improved by existing dissensions in the republican party and those certain to be engendered during the session of Congress. As Senator Mitchell, of Wisconsin, now in Washington, aptly puts it, "I have seen much darker days than these for the democratic party. But there was a vital principle in the doctrines of democracy which was destined to make the party great, and which will always make it important."

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The constant goodness and forbearance of Almighty God which have been vouchsafed to the American people during the year which is just past call for their sincere acknowledgment of devout gratitude. To the end, therefore, that we may with thankful hearts unite in extolling the loving care of our Heavenly Father, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th day of the present month, November, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to be kept and observed by all our people. On that day let us forego our usual occupations and in our accustomed places of worship join in rendering thanks to the Giver of every good and perfect gift, for the bounteous returns that have rewarded our labors in field and in the busy marts of trade, for the peace and order that have prevailed throughout the land, for our protection from pestilence and dire calamity and for other blessings that have been showered upon us with an open hand.

And with our thanksgiving let us humbly beseech the Lord to incline the hearts of our people unto Him that He will not leave us nor forsake us as a nation, but will continue to us His mercy and protecting care, guiding us in the path of national prosperity and happiness, endowing us with rectitude and virtue and keeping alive within us a patriotic love for the free institutions which have been given us as our national heritage.

And let us also on the day of our thanksgiving especially remember the poor and needy and by deeds of charity let us show the sincerity of our gratitude. In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, and in the one hundred and twentieth year of independence of the United States.
 GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the president:
 RICHARD OLNEY, Secretary of State.

New York World,

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK Edition of the NEW YORK WORLD has been converted into the THRICE-A-WEEK. It furnishes 3 papers of 6 pages apiece, or eighteen papers every week, at the old price of ONE DOLLAR a year. This gives 156 papers a year for One Dollar and every paper has 6 pages eight columns wide or 48 columns in all. The THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily with the attractive special features of a weekly.
