The county seat fight now on has the same old tricksters at the ropes who said that Nonpareil must be the county seat. They are not satisfied to let good enough alone, but want to feed the county an elephant to choke it, before it gets it all down. They are emulating Dawes county, and want to saddle the county with $80,000 or more. She might kick and buck, but never get rid of that nice little debt. We have several good republicans in the county who are opposed to cheap money, but who would like to see county warrants go down to 25 cents on the dollar—just the same as Dawes county. If this is what you like just change the county seat to Alliance, and make taxes higher and drive people out of the county, so she will be just like Dawes county—unable to redeem her paper at 25 cents on the dollar. If Alliance succeeds in getting the county seat there are twenty-five families from this vicinity who will leave the county, and give their deeded land to the county, for which taxes will never be paid; and likewise they have people in Alliance who are unable to pay their taxes. Just let them make taxes a little higher and you will see them drive out of the city, and Alliance will be just like Chadron; with houses to rent for $3 per month. Please don't pass any petitions this way, for they will be rejected, and the soreheads will go back to Alliance and say they are trying to bankrupt the county—just like Dawes county.

The "beautiful" came down at a very rapid rate for a few days last week, completely covering the ground.

Rev. Kendall was holding a series of meetings at the Hunter school house last week, but on account of unfavorable weather the attendance was not very large.

They are having good times at the literary this winter at the Whelan school house. Come, everybody. The more the merrier.

While out riding last Saturday Henry Hoffmire had the misfortune to have his horse fall with him. His ankle was severely sprained, which will probably confine him to his home for a few days.

Miss Curry, teacher at the Hunter school house, attended a teachers' meeting at Crawford last Friday.

Johnny Shaffer is home from Sheridan.
Mrs. H. I. Wheeler visited in the city Monday.
Charlie Lotzsch is up from Alliance today. The Thanksgiving dance was a decided success.

Miss Anna Wohler is the new saleslady in Wildy's store.
Miss Mamie Friel is visiting her parents north of town.

E. H. Hucks returned from Denver Monday and will remain this winter.
Luke Phillips left this morning for a two weeks' visit at De Soto, Neb.

Mr. J. E. Green, lately of South Sioux City, Neb., has accepted a position on THE HERALD.
Miss Lulu Blair of Box Butte was the guest of Miss Nellie Goodenough Saturday and Sunday.

August Filder had the misfortune to break his collar bone by falling from his horse last week.

Miss Clark of Marsland visited in Hemingford Saturday and Sunday, the guest of Miss Georgia Miller.

Prof. Worden went to Chadron yesterday. Upon his return he will open an evening class in penmanship and art. As the Professor is a master of the profession, no doubt there will be a large attendance.

NOTICE—Having made arrangements to leave the city Jan. 1st, to be absent some time, those wishing jewelry work done will please bring same soon. Call and get goods cheap for next 30 days. Thanking you for past favors, I remain respectfully, K. J. JOHNSON.

Editor L. J. Simmons and wife of the Harrison Journal are in the city today, the guests of Judge Spack and W. M. Tolence. These gentlemen were all boys together and this is the first time they have met since coming west. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons are pleasant people to meet.

President Cleveland has submitted his annual message to Congress. It is quite lengthy, consisting of 20,000 words. The greater part of the message relates to the financial situation, in which the president expresses his well known views. The document throughout is dignified and scholarly and is worthy the careful study of everyone who is at all interested in matters that vitally concern the national welfare.

Hemingford was well represented at the meeting of the Northwest Educational association at Crawford last week, there being sixteen teachers present from this place. County Superintendent Fildner was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, over a prominent Alliance school man, much to the satisfaction of the Hemingford contingent. Hemingford can knock Alliance out just as easy on the county seat question. Mark that down in your note book.

Messrs. Pinkerton and Alexander have finished their work on the court house, and we now have as neat and comfortable a county building as the county will need for years to come. The above named gentlemen have taken a great deal of pains in their work, and it has been done in excellent shape, and is surely a credit to their workmanship, as well as to the county.

CALVIN J. WILDY.

A. L. Sharrock, our worthy mayor, has been in Hemingford and Alliance during the past week viewing the coming county seat fight. He has donned his war paint, and is strictly at home in such a scrap. He is a good hustler, and at the same time is able to take advantage of a well developed bump of caution. He is the right man in the right place in this business.—Edgemont Express.

Ex Speaker Crisp will, of course, be the leader of the democrats of the house during the present session, the man who will call down Czar Reed every time he attempts to trample on the rights of the minority. There has been no thought among democrats that this would be otherwise, as was shown by the votes of the democratic caucus—all cast for Mr. Crisp. The stories about the administration desiring another man for leader had their origin with those who wished to add to the unfortunate differences already existing in the democratic party, by making it appear that President Cleveland was demanding that no silver man should be given a post of honor. It is needless to say to any intelligent democrat that President Cleveland never thought of such a thing as dictating to or interfering in any way with the democrats in the house.

From the Hemingford and Alliance exchanges the county of Box Butte appears to be somewhat mixed on county seat matters. With the failure of crops in the county for the last two years, and no certainty of a successful one next year, owing to lack of snow and rain this fall, it would seem that to run the county into about $1,500 of extra debt by attempting to move the county seat from Hemingford is short-sighted policy. The present location, with a court house and county offices already built, and furnished the county free of charge, which would be lost in case of removal, should be something that would appeal strongly to the taxpayers, whilst the uncertainty of the amount of taxation, which the Alliance people might put on the county if they were successful, is great. The old saying in this case is true and to the point: "Better have the devil we know than the one we don't." Fights are always a detriment to counties and should be frowned down by the better element. The county that has had such judicious management in times past as to be free from debt at the present time, will not, in our judgment, place themselves in such a position as would incur the expense of building a new court house and other extra expenses attendant upon county seat removals.—Edgemont Express.

Winter has come, we are aware,
With its wind and drifting snow,
And the place for such weather to prepare
Is what we all want to know.

Where we can satisfactorily trade
Our produce for coffee and bread,
Hats, caps, mittens, gloves, silks,
Boots, shoes, overshoes and quilts,
Clothing and underwear,
Overshirts and jackets,
And all kinds of neckwear,
Done up in a nice packet.
