The safe of Gunther & Needham, general merchants at St. Edwards, was blown open by burglars last week. The report of the explosion was heard by several parties, but no attention was paid to it. There was about $50 in the safe, which they obtained by prying the money box open. The safe door is badly damaged and has a hole drilled in the knob where the powder was inserted. There is no clue to the robbers.

The building belonging to the defunct Commercial bank at Weeping Water was sold for the benefit of depositors and was bought by an Omaha man for $2,680. So far the depositors have received dividends to the amount of 50 per cent, and this sale will make it 60 per cent. Prospects are flattering that the total assets will make it possible to pay out almost dollar for dollar in a few months.

The marble donated by the state of Tennessee to Nebraska for a statue of Abraham Lincoln arrived last week. This is the first installment, and com-prises two blocks, 14x12x4 feet in size and weighing thirty tons. When Swanson & Sickman, Aurora grocers, reached their store the other morning they found that some party or parties had cut the lower panels out of the rear door and also out of a door in a partician near the rear end of the store, and thus gained an entrance to the safe and money drawer, from which they obtained about $30. The safe had been blown open by means of a fuse, a portion of which was found on the floor. Nothing was taken or disturbed except the money. A PECULIAR fish about eight inches in length was caught at Cut-Off lake last week. In general appearance the specimen resembles a catfish. It has the same ugly, protruding mouth and antennae, or feelers. as the cat, but in addition is equipped with four perfect-ly formed legs, which end in claws resembling a human hand: A dorsal fin extends almost the entire length of the body and the back is covered with a dark brown, mottled skin. The lower portion is covered with small scales.

Some prominent speaker will address the gathering. THOMAS MACKEY has been found guilty in the federal court at Omaha of having criminal intercourse with a girl under sixteen years of age. Mackey is a white man and the complaining witness, Martha Mackey, is his stepdaughter and a half-breed Indian. The parties all live at the Santee' agency and the illicit relations have continued for several years, or since the girl was about twelve years old. The testimony, which was of a revolting character, shows that the girl's mother, the wife of Mackey, had knowledge of what was going on and consented to it. THE farmers near Havelock are agitating the question of building a creamery. Two meetings have been held. It seems probable they will offer a small bonus and a building site in Havelock as an inducement to any company that will establish a good plant there. The country has been canvassed and milk can be had from at least 500 cows. The oldest settlers about Havelock say that the present crop prospects are better than they been for twenty years. Oats are have heading out nicely and bid fair to yield from fifty to seventy-five bushels per sere. Corn will be waist high by July 14th. The ground is in excellent condition. In the year 1891 Neuraska had practically two crops, but 1896 bids fair to excel 1891. Two women and a man were drowned in the Missouri east of Tekaman the other day. Two young men and two young women were pleasure riding in a boat, near what is known as the Ludwick saw mill. WOULD HASTEN THINGS.

Chairman Hinrichsen Favors a One Day Convention-The Gold Men Not Expected to Cut Much of a Figure in the Proceedings - Other Late Gossip of President Makers.

JHICAGO, July 4. - There is talk among the free silver leaders of caliing a caucus before the convention for the purpose of fixing a slate. Should this be done, Governor Altgeld's idea of a "one day" convention may be carried into effect.

W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Illinois State central committee and delegate-at-large, says that there is a strong sentiment among the free silver delegates now in the city favoring such a caucus. "But even if there should be no cancus," he continued. "I have an idea that the work of the convention can be wound up in a single day. As I figure it out, the silver candidates for the nomination for President will be Bland, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews and Mc-Lean. Of these I rather incline to the belief that Boles and Bland will get the bulk of the votes, and that whoever has the greatest number of votes on the first ballot will be nomiuated on the second. As to the gold men. I don't think we have anything to fear from them. As soon as they get here and circulate among the delegates they will have political

National Committeemen Do Not Like the Domands of Silver Leaders.

CHICAGO, July 4.-It has been determined as far as it can be in advance of the meeting of the national committee that some man not identified with the silver movement, although he may have leanings toward silver, will be selected for chairman. It is apparent from the talk of the members of the committee who are here that they do not like the term- which the silver men laid down for the sub-committee and they feel that the national committee should not be dictated to in this matter. Ben T Cable, member of the national committee for Illinois, who was not at the meeting of the sub-committee when the delegation of silver leaders appeared, says he is opposed to having the Democratic national committee swerve from its usual custom in its selection of a temporary chairman, and if the convention do is not like the committee's selection, it will have the right to vote in another man. It seems to be the opinion that the committee will be going far outside 'is custom to submit to a faction of the party the selection of a presiding officer.

INGALLS AROUSED.

The Author of a False Political Interview May Suffer. ATCRISON, Kan . July 4 .- An alleged interview with "x-Senator John J. Ingalls, in which he was made to predict the defeat of McKinley, which has been published in many newspapers, is pronounced by him a forgery from beginning to end. To the best of Mr. Ingall's informa tion the article originally appeared in the "Silver Knight National Watchman" of Washington, D. C., under a St. Louis-date, June 25.

Mr. Ingalls is very indignant, and to-day telegraphed to the district attorney at Washington to bring crimanal proceedings against the author.

Herbert May Be Made a Judge.

WASHINGTON, July 4. - Members of the administration, especially the heads of departments, seem to be reconciled to the fact that no matter how the election goes this fall they will have no influence after March 4, 1897. Probably no member of the cabinept will be left as badly off as Secretary Herbert, if not taken care of in some other government appoint-ment. It is said that Cleveland may appoint him to a judicial position within the next few months.

For instance, while it is true that there were isolated cases of ill treatment of slaves. it is not true that such treatment was general throughout the South."

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: I never in my life realized the poverty of our language to express sentiment as I do at this moment. am not a speechmaker, but I believe am an honest citizen of Nebraska and a republican whose republicanism has never been affected by political defeats. If you want a candidate who can prance upon the grand stand, I think you have made a mistake. But if you want a governor who will attend to the duties of his office, you have, I think, chosen wisely. Gentlemen, I can only thank you in the simple words, 'I thank you,'

THE BLAND BOOMERS.

They Are Setting All Chicago to Talking About Their Candidate.

CHICAGO, July 2 .- The movements of the Bland men in securing new headquarters in the Auditorium and the Palmer house and the Sherman house and in pushing his boom in other ways has set all Chicago to talking, and,. despite the Illinois setback of yesterday, all of the Missouriaus are more confident than ever. They consider the securing of the reading room, which fronts the lake, in the Auditorium, the best hit they have made. They are also declaring that Altgelds said to A. S. Trude last night: "It. seems to me Bland is the coming man."

The Bland campaign is prolific ht movelties. A costiy badge, designed by George W. Allen, is to be worn by every pledged and instructed Bland. delegate. A chemograph of Mr. Bland, handsomely gotten up under a new process patented in St. Louis, is to be presented to every delegate to the convention as fast as the delegations arrive. These chemographs are put. up in a protected form for mailing. They will make souvenirs which every delegate will want to keep. Nicholas M. Bell has charge of the chemograph bureau. Large pictures of Bland are to be posted all over the city, and at night "Honest Dick" will flash out in. electric lights. A street demonstra-tion is planned for Monday night. There will be 5,000 uniformed Bland-men in line, and the Kansas City and Topeka flambeau clubs will makepeople nervous.

In the afternoon the sheriff took him to the penitentiary, and from the time he left his farm until the time he is in . the penitentiary will be less than forty-eight hours. When he passed through Oxford en route to the prison-100 farmers were there to meet the train, but when they heard that his sentence was twenty-one years they offered no violence.

Orlando Teft was nominated for lieutenant governor, the vote being unanimous.

For secretary of state J. A. Piper was nominated.

For auditor Peter O. Hedlund was nominated. The balance of the ticket was chosen as shown at the head of the column. THE PLATFORM.

The republicans of Nebraska in convention represented affirm their faith | and marker that has been successfully in the principles enunciated in the platform adopted by the national convention at St. Louis; the platform of a party not ashamed of its record and compelled to abandon no article of its ancient faith.

Chief among these standard principles is a protective tariff, that cares for every American interest and secures the highest good for American labor; a reciprocity that, while seeking out the world's markets for our surplus products, will never yield up a single day's wage that belongs to the American workman; a sound dollar, as sound as the government, and as untarnished as its flag; a dollar that is good not only at home, but good wherever trade goes-as good in the hands of a farmer or a workman as in the hands of a capitalist, a manufacturer or a corpora-

A foreign policy that respects the American flag and causes it to be honored abroad; that embodies the sympathy of the American people in the struggle of their oppressed neighbors for liberty and self-government and that jealously resents any and all encroachments of the military powers of the old world upon the territory of any American republic.

A domestic policy that accords fair treatment and generous recognition to the veterans of the union army, that gives them preference, wherever practicable, in public employment; that suffers no union soldier, his widow or orphan, to be deprived of a pension, regularly granted, without due notice and an investigation as thorough and impartial as that upon the faith of which the pension was originally conferred

That provides a revenue sufficient for current expenses and the maintenance of the public credit; that allows no excuse for increasing the national debt in times of peace, and that restores our merchant marine.

The republicans of Nebraska most heartily endorse the nomination of their first choice, William McKinley of Ohio for president and Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey for vice president, and pledge them their enthusiastic and undivided support.

They favor state legislation, with proper restrictions, for the safety and protection of the people, under which mutual insurance companies may be organized. The valued policy act should not be repealed or modified in any way that will destroy the equity of its provisions.

The educational funds of the state should be invested to the last possible dollar in the securities specified in the constitution, preference being given to state and county bonds.
