

ORDERS WABASH SWITCHMEN OUT

Members of This Union Instructed to Walk Out This Evening All Over Line.

NEARLY 500 MEN AFFECTED

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5.—A strike of switchmen throughout the Wabash railroad system to begin at 6 o'clock tomorrow night, was ordered here tonight by S. E. Heberling of Buffalo, N. Y., president of the Switchmen's Union of North America. This organization demands recognition as a union separate from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Mr. Heberling said his organization has a membership of 250,000 men and is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Notice of the strike call he said, has been sent to members of the Wabash system. The switchmen, who belong to the Switchmen's Union of North America are principally yard men.

Cavalla Base of Grecian Forces in Eastern Macedonia

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) SALONICA, Greece, Dec. 25.—What Salonica was a fortnight ago, Cavalla has become today the base of the Greek armies in eastern Macedonia, the military headquarters from which Greece must defend the territory she conquered from Bulgaria two years ago—if it is to be defended.

The country of the port is cluttered with big guns and their ammunition. The steep, narrow streets are blocked with soldiers. Long trains of mules laden with the impediments of war, climb the winding ways, between overhanging Turkish houses, bound for Drama, for Serre, for the Bulgarian frontier. For all her removal of soldiers from Salonica, Greece is not disarming. Not judging from the appearance of Cavalla, she has any intention of leaving the rich land she wrested from the Bulgars in the last war in any danger of falling into Bulgarian hands again.

It is easy to understand the Greek desire to keep Cavalla; not that it is really a Greek city, as every Greek is ready to assert so passionately, for it is far less Greek even than Salonica. But certainly it is not Bulgarian, either. It is Turkish—with a leaven of Salonica's admixture of Hispano-Portuguese Jewish blood and some slight relic of the venetian occupation of the middle ages. But being just that, it can readily be turned into Greek, Bulgarian, Serbian or what not in a few years' time. The Turkish element is as always infinitely adaptable.

There is no very positive reason why Cavalla and the district it serves should not be Greek. Every smoker of a Turkish cigarette holds his fingers between his eyes, as if he were ready to view why it should. For Cavalla is the port of export for one of the richest tobacco growing tracts in the world. Not so rich as certain districts of Cuba; but nevertheless exporting over a 100,000,000 drachmas worth of tobacco per annum—more than 120,000,000 worth, with very primitive means of cultivation and shipment.

Russians Find Fault With War Relief

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PEKING, Jan. 25.—Russian officials and the representatives of other entente powers in Harbin, have found much fault with the way the United States has administered war relief to Germans and Austrians in the portions of Manchuria close to Harbin. Complaints have been made that Charles K. Moser, the American consul in Harbin, has rendered assistance to German prisoners who escaped from Russian prison camps.

The American position in administering relief to Germans and Austrians in Harbin is that Harbin is Chinese territory, and consequently United States officials, as neutrals, are under obligation to administer to the wants of all Germans and Austrians who are in need, regardless of what part they have taken in the war.

Mr. Moser recently paid a visit to Peking and discussed the relief work at Harbin with Dr. Reinisch, the American minister, and Chinese officials. The Chinese have never taken a firm position in their resistance to the capture of German and Austrian prisoners who escape from Siberia, and it is not likely that they will do so. German prisoners who have escaped into Mongolia and Manchuria have frequently been recaptured on Chinese soil by Russian soldiers and taken back into Russian territory. Escaped prisoners have even been seized at Mukden and taken from railway trains.

The German and Austrian legations in Peking have protested against China's failure to protect the subjects of these two countries on neutral soil, but without results. Ever since the opening of Harbin to foreign trade, its status has been much disputed by the Russians. At first they insisted that the treaty port was located on the river a number of miles from the present city. This position was not concurred in by the United States and other powers. When the United States consulate was first opened at Harbin, some ten years ago, representatives of the United States suffered many indignities, and efforts were made to force the development of Harbin as a treaty port. Russia, however, maintaining a consul at Harbin and by so doing has justified in a measure the action of other powers.

New Hospital Building at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha

The University hospital now under construction on the campus of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha, when completed, will be one of the most modern and up-to-date teaching hospitals in the United States. The final plans are the result of a large amount of study and were evolved following a thorough investigation of teaching and clinic hospitals in many parts of the country. The construction of the hospital is the result of two manifest and direct demands:

First—The indigent, worthy sick of the state should be provided with medical and surgical care and every effort made to restore them to health and earning capacity. This is particularly in demand since so few of the cities and counties of Nebraska support public hospitals.

the north wing is the department of pathology with ample equipment and room for the proper care, preservation and classification of pathological specimens. A class room for demonstration purposes is also provided. The resident pathologist will reside in this wing.

As planned the building consists of three wings. In the central wing will be housed on the ground floor, the receiving department and hospital stores rooms. The first floor will accommodate the offices for the College of Medicine and the hospital proper. The second floor will be the quarters of the internes and house physicians. The roof above this floor will be tiled and provided with a high coping. Beds and patients may be wheeled to this roof garden from any portion of the hospital for open air treatment. In the basement in portion of the building and above the floors named is the operating suite. This consists of two operating rooms to the north, with ample light and room. These rooms are adjoined by a doctors' and nurses' scrub-up room, sterilizing room, laboratory, special room for eye and ear cases, and X-ray room. At the south end of the operating suite is the amphitheater operating and lecture room. This room is provided with blackboards, stereopticon screen, etc., for teaching purposes.

The building will be entirely of brick, stone and terra cotta. It will be absolutely fireproof and of reinforced concrete construction. Broad front steps with terra cotta columns lead an imposing appearance to the facade. The building will be placed in the center north and south of the College of Medicine campus, the ground space in front being given over to shrubbery and ornamental flower beds. Tunnels from the hospital to the laboratory building now occupied by the College of Medicine carry light and power wires, electrocardiograph wires, etc.

The contract made by the Board of Regents provides for the completion of the building by January 1, 1917. The construction of this teaching hospital will place Nebraska in the forefront with those states providing high-grade medical training. University hospitals exist in connection with the medical colleges of many states, among which are Iowa, Michigan, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Oklahoma and Indiana.
