Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric actd which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fall to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate aric acid by atimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmiess and is made from the said of grapes and emon juice, combined with lithia and la used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism Here you have a pleasant, effervescen lithia-water drink, which helps overcom urie acid and is beneficial to your kid-neys as well.-Advertisement.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

An unusual interest attaches to the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Tagg, celebrated this afternoon by a large informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tagg, and a family dinner at the Henshaw this evening. Fifty years ago today at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Lee Center, Ill., Mary Bodine, a heroine of the freedman's bureau work in the south, was united in ing French again, and it is said of a marriage to Thomas C. Tagg of the certain handsome matron that she is Forty-fourth Wisconsin infantry at a marriage to Thomas C. Tagg of the double wedding service which made her sister Jennie the bride of Peter La Forge of the Forty-ninth Illinois. The bridegroom had come from Wiscon sin for the wedding, and all the country surrounding the little village of Lee Center was alive to the romance of the marriage of Mary Bodine and her soldier lover. Miss Bodine had been sent out

WYER IS PLEASED WITH EXHIBITION

Expert Pronounces Display of Fine Art Pictures as Especially Good.

TWO LITTLE TOTS CAST VOTES

The art exhibition assembled by the local Fine Arts society at the Hotel Font nelle this week was pronounced one of the finest collections ever brought together, by Raymond Wyer, director of the Hackley art galleries at Muskegon, Mich., who arrived yesterday. "It is a diagrace-it is a crying shame that this gallery is not thronged with people. You Omahans have no conception of the beauty and impressiveness of this collection. Any man, woman or child who has the quarter to spend and doesn't visit this art collection should be shamed to hold up his head," exclaimed he, vehemently. Wyer is an Englishman and came here for a series of art lectures.

Compliments the Women.

The art director paid Omaha women i fine compliment when he commented on the taste and discrimination with which the paintings had been hung. "I couldn't have done better, myseif," he declared.

Members of the Fine Arts society are repeating the story of are incident of Sunday, when the public was admitted

Two little tots, a brother and sister, had spent hours at the exhibit, enraptured of the pictures. Each had 5 cents and they were determined to cast a vote for the picture they liked the best. With rare artistic appreciation for such young-sters, they decided on the "Kari," by Zorn, acclaimed one of the finest paintings of the collection.

When Mrs. George Prinz told the little mites no votes were being accepted for this painting as it was not for sale, the girl puckered up her face and looked on the point of tears, so keen was her disappointment.

Votes Any Way.

"Never mind, sis! If we can't have the lovely girl we'll vote for the sad young a man," comforted the little lad, pointing to "The Discouraged Art Student," by Adams, and the joint vote was cast for the Adams painting. Another member of the society who had watched and listened to the two kiddies, wiped a tear from her eye and went directly to the voting desk and bought twenty votes for the same painting. Other women to whom the story was told were also moved to vote for the Adams picture in order that the painting may be kept in Omaha for the two little ones. The proceeds of the voting contest will be used to purchase the most popular painting.

As a result of the impetus given to votes for this picture, the Adams painting now stands in the lead in popularity. Five painting tie for second place, They are the Birge-Harrison, a Robinson, a Jonas Lie, a Junghanns and a

Compliments continue to be showered upon Omaha's postmaster by his superfors at Washington, because of the model manner in which the Omaha postoffice is being administered and the Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postter to Colonel John C. Wharton, complimenting him and Omaha. Colonel Wharton entertained General Roper in Omaha about two years ago and there has been a warm friendship between them since that time. This is the letter; in Dundee district, a small girl rushed out of a house and summoned the nurse to attend an infant stricken with convulsions. Miss Townsend administered first aid and left, without learning the name of the family.

Missouri Pacific Doing Big Business

Vice President Johnson, in charge of traffic on the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain lines of the Gould system of roads, spent most of the day in the city, going west on the Union Pacific this afternoon. Mr. Johnson is well satisfied with the outlook, saying: "With us, business, both freight and passenger, is very good. The only thing we regret is that we have not enough freight cars to handle the business offered. We are doing the best we can and are trying to keep the stuff moving. All over our territory last year there was an enormous crop raised and high prices have caused freight to move freely. As BEFORE OMAHA AD CLUB a result we have had some difficulty in getting cars to handle the shipments.
