CLUB DINNER HAS LONG GUEST LIST

Second of the Omaha Club Dinner-Dances Shows a Gain in Popularity.

FIRST WAS SOME WEEKS AGO

By MELLIFLUA—February 11. By the list of this evening's dinner, it would seem that Mr. Arthur Guino is able to bring the Omaha club back to its own again. This is the second of the Omaha club dinner-dances and the list of reservations shows a gain in popularity over the first, held a few weeks past. The largest dinner of this evening will be given by the W. A. Frasers. The table will be decorated with a large French basket filled with spring flowers. Those present will be: Messrs. and Mesdames—W. A. C. Johnson, M. A. Hall, Francis Giesler, J. L. Paxton, Joseph Barker, J. E. George, Walter Page, Henry Wyman, Mrs. Arthur Remington. Messrs.—Harry McCormick, Luther Drake, Mr. Conrad Young. Covers will be laid for: Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hollister, Mrs. Allan Robinson, Mr. Conrad Young, Dr. G. A. Young, Miss Gertrude Young. With the George Redicks will dine: Messrs. and Mesdames—Walter Roberts, Charles E. Metz, Mrs. Charles Turner of Fremont, Miss Elizabeth Congdon, Messrs.—Elmer Redick, Herbert Connell.

The O. C. Redicks will have for their guests: Messrs. and Mesdames—Maudie Colquhoun, Fred Hamilton, Ruth Wharton, Harry Dooley, Ward Burgess, Arthur Keeline, Barton Millard. Dining with the Ross Towles will be: Mr. and Mrs. John Madden, Mrs. Helen Boyce, Mr. Allen Tukey, Mr. Robert Connell. The guests of the Ludovic Crofoots will be: Messrs. and Mesdames—Charles T. Kountze, George B. Prinz, U. C. George. Messrs.—Mrs. Luther Kountze, Charles W. Hull, Earl Gannett. The J. J. Fitzgeralds have recalled their dinner invitation for this evening. Mr. Edward W. Hart of Council Bluffs gives one of the larger dinners of the evening. The table will be decorated profusely with spring flowers. Those present will be: Messrs. and Mesdames—Howard H. Baldrige, E. H. Sprague, J. T. Stewart, St. Charles T. Stewart, A. L. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Summers, Miss Elizabeth Davis. Messrs.—A. B. Warren, Edward W. Hart. Among the others taking reservations for this evening are: Messrs.—G. A. Meyer, Frank B. Johnson, J. A. C. Kennedy, Clarke Powell.

Honors Former Omahan. Mrs. Charles C. Helden gave a luncheon at the University club room this noon, complimentary to Mrs. Samuel Hawver of Los Angeles, a former Omaha woman, who is the guest of Mrs. Frank M. Bristol. When she lived in Omaha, many years ago Mrs. Hawver occupied one of the old homes at sixteenth and Davenport streets, then the fashionable section of the city. Spring flowers brightened the luncheon table and covers were placed for eight guests.

Personal Mention. Mrs. Julius Nichols of Columbus, Neb., is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. O. Hamilton. Mrs. E. B. Towle is confined to her home by illness. Mrs. C. W. Hayes is spending a few days at Colfax Springs.

Scottish Rite Affair. A musicale was given this afternoon at the Scottish Rite cathedral. Each member was to bring one guest. The program was under the direction of Mrs. M. M. Gottenthal and after its numbers were given, a social meeting followed and refreshments were served.

Elks Dancing Club. The following were present at the Elks' dancing party, held in the club rooms Thursday evening: Messrs. and Mesdames—Roy D. Hart, W. H. Palmer, Taylor T. Day, J. W. Fashion Hint

By LA RACONTEUSE. The sailor hat is ushered in again, differing very slightly from the ones shown last season, except in detail. The shape is quite the same, as far as general appearance goes. Such combinations as milan straw and glazed kid, or oil cloth, and chip straw are shown extensively. The colors in the latter are many and are developed in plaid, dotted and checked effects. The sailor illustrated is faced with rose milan, the top being a rose and white plaid oil cloth.

BRONZE TABLET TO LOGAN FONTENELLE

Daughters of American Revolution to Unveil It in Hotel Lobby on March First.

TO HAVE ELABORATE CEREMONY

A bronze tablet in memory of Logan Fontenelle to be placed in the lobby of the Hotel Fontenelle will be unveiled on March 1, the fifth anniversary of Major Isaac Sadler chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who is presenting the tablet. Mrs. William Archibald Smith is the regent. This tablet, erected, 1916, by Major Isaac Sadler chapter, is dedicated to the memory of Logan Fontenelle, chief of the Omaha tribe, 1831-53. Delaney and Mrs. E. C. Conley, alternates.

What the President Had for Breakfast

Of course the president of the United States is only a human being with some of the frailties and errors of judgment that are common to ordinary mortals. On his recent speaking tour President Wilson addressed great audiences in eight of the larger cities. This strenuous adventure called for the highest physical fitness and endurance. He was naturally anxious to keep himself at top-notch condition. Here is the breakfast he ordered at the hotel the morning he arrived in Cleveland, as published by the Cleveland Plain Dealer: Grapefruit, Shredded Wheat Biscuit and Cream, Two Four-Minute Boiled Eggs, Broiled Bacon, Buttered Toast, An Apple for Mrs. Wilson, Coffee. The exhibit closes Sunday night and will be open the last day between the hours of 2 and 10 p. m.

to bet against his hogship. We lost out, and we are almost persuaded that there is something in the old belief, after all. We are through invoicing. Thanks to you and others, we had a very satisfactory year. Just before putting down on our books the final items, we threw to one side certain lots, here and there, and these we listed so low that we can now afford to let you have some things almost at your own price. We intended to tell you about them last week, but the temperature was so low we decided to defer the announcement.

AT GLOVE SECTION
Odd lots of Gloves. Kids—Some damaged, some soiled, some stretched from try-on—gathered together after going through the stock in a sort of Spring house-cleaning. It matters not what the original prices were, we prefer their room to their company—39c per pair for Lot One, 69c per pair for Lot Two.
Not a bad idea to have on hand a few pairs of extra gloves—impossible and possible. Think it over.

We wonder if leap year has anything to do with the special activity of women these days? Do you realize that this is no-mean city? Becoming quite metropolitan with our art displays, etc. The pictures remind us of happy days long ago. In retrospection we find ourselves wandering through the Louvre, the National and other galleries, and it makes our hearts ache. Oh, for a Hogarth, now, to scotch the world with brush and canvas! That master painter of satire, who was benevolent withal! We think of his "Rake's Progress," that wonderful sermon: "Marriage a la Mode," etc. We have before us now the picture of the blase old man, the wife yawning with ennui, and the pious Methodist steward. All started through reading of a Hogarth in the Art Collection. If you haven't seen the paintings, do it today. Take a peep into our Western Aisle Saturday. We want you to see

THE NEW SKIRT DESIGNS
* We have made up a few just to give you the exact effect. We can still take a few orders for immediate delivery (that is, in about a week). $2.25 for the making. Measured by an expert, finished by man tailors, absolutely correct in style. We never spread before you a more desirable collection of Choice Wool Fabrics. Whatever the scarcity elsewhere, here you get the benefit of PREPAREDNESS.

Lincoln's Famous Saying
This is to many a new gospel, but nonetheless worthy of acceptance. It is a reversal of what seems to be the ruling doctrine in other lands, and, indeed, a reversal of a doctrine which has been all too common in our own country.
'Tis well to pause occasionally and take an inventory of ourselves. No time more fitting than on the birthday of the Great Emancipator, the Man of Smiles and Sorrows, who grows bigger and bigger in the world's estimate as the years roll on.

Fine Arts Exhibit Closes After Sunday

"The Discouraged Art Student," one of the paintings at the Fine Arts exhibit at the Hotel Fontenelle, which leaped into first place in the popularity contest on account of the admiration expressed for it by two unknown children, still holds first place. The fancied resemblance between the art student and Will Burns, popular Omaha clubman, is arousing considerable comment among the friends of Mr. Burns who have viewed the painting. The exhibit closes Sunday night and will be open the last day between the hours of 2 and 10 p. m.

Student Banquet at the "Y" on Saturday

Almost 200 men are expected to attend the annual student banquet of the Young Men's Christian association, Saturday evening. As the event falls on Lincoln's birthday, subjects of the various speakers following dinner will be related to the life and example of the great emancipator. Harry O. Palmer will be toastmaster. Among those who will respond to toast will be A. B. Patrick, J. L. Cotton, John Fixa, P. J. Stokes, H. E. Pedersen, L. J. Schafer and M. M. Newman. E. P. Fitch will give a stereoptican talk.

OMAHA CLUB TO CELEBRATE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Members of the Omaha club will follow their usual custom and celebrate Washington's birthday this year with a banquet at the club house, Twentieth and Douglas streets. Edmund M. Fairfield, president of the club, has announced the affair in letters to all the members. Guests of honor who will make addresses will be W. J. Bralley, former governor of Kansas, and Emmet Tinley of Iowa.

The Return of Buckles.
Buckles have come into their own again, appearing on hats, on shoe tips, in varied and novel materials. Most beautiful are those of enamel and steel, in subdued colorings, or with a touch of scarlet; touches of brilliant Chinese red, a red which has much yellow in it, are seen on many smart things. Quite as effective are the buckles of carved wood, often in the natural wood without other decoration, or with a touch of vivid red or green. A most exquisite buckle is of carved ivory, touched up with ochre to resemble an antique; this will lend distinction to any costume, however simple. Most of these carved buckles are oblong or oval, while those of enamel and tinted metal follow the shapes of beetle backs, tortoise and birds, much conventionalized. Buckles are also seen in cut and burnished steel, in copper, covered with leather or with ribbon. They are worn at the back or front of the costume, or even at the side to hold a sash; while on the hats, the buckles are placed at the knot or loops of ribbon, or at the place of attachment, generally appearing at the front or on top of the crown, for often the loops only decorate the top of the hat.

FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND MALE TEACHERS IN GERMAN ARMY
