

REQUEST OF DYING WOMAN FULFILLED

Judge Wharton Sees that Every Wish of Washerwoman is Carried Out.

SAVES HOME FOR CHILDREN

John C. Wharton, postmaster, recently completed a trust which was reposed in him over a year ago by a dying woman.

This woman came to him when she was a poor widow with two children and had been taking in washing to support her family and buy her home.

She had made payments on the little house until she had only $150 more to pay. But the real estate man claimed she had $450 to pay, alleging that because she had made $300 of the payments to his partner with whom he had ceased business relations she still owed the larger sum.

Colonel Wharton went to see him. He was armed with all the receipts for payments made. He gave the real estate man ten days to send him the deed. And the deed arrived all right.

Died at Hospital.

Six months later the woman died at Immanuel hospital. On her death bed she sent for Colonel Wharton and asked him to take charge of her affairs.

Nothing else would satisfy her and finally he consented.

At the funeral he, in accordance with her request, delivered an address.

After the funeral he secured a position for her son with the Ford Motor company where he is getting along well. Then he secured a purchaser for the little home for $1,000 and his wife sum he has divided into two parts and placed in the Conservative Savings and Loan association to the credit of the son and daughter.

No-Spit Notices to Go Onto Films

F. A. Van Husan, manager of the Laemmle Film company, promised Mrs. M. C. Sumney that "anti-spit" notices will be projected upon the screens of all motion picture theaters of the city.

In addition to that co-operation, Mr. Van Husan contributed $50 toward the expenses of the campaign started by Mrs. Sumney.

The film man explained that he had particular reason to be in sympathy with the anti-spit movement, because Friday for naps and his wife, who was home two days in consequence.

Mrs. Sumney reports that officials and employees of the street railway company have been giving splendid assistance to the work. She made six talks to the car men at the various barns.

COMMERCIAL CLUB FAVORS NEW KIND OF PAVING BRICK

A new type of paving brick is about to be recommended to the city by the municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club.

The committee has samples of the brick under inspection at present. Samples were submitted by George Campen of the committee. It is an ordinary shale brick, subjected to a heat a few degrees less than that required for vitrification, and then subjected to an oil pressure, which presses an asphalt oil into the body of the brick to make it absolutely waterproof.

Lawyers Play Part in Business Affairs, Says Barkworth

That court procedure is no longer the most important phase of legal practice, but that lawyers must take a constructive part in the business affairs of the country, was held by Thomas E. Barkworth, Jackson, Mich., in his address to the Barristers' club at noon at the Commercial club rooms.

Mr. Barkworth asserted that he remembered when lawyers were looked upon as men of no business ability, but declared that day has passed and with the rapidly developing business activities, lawyers are more and more in demand as a necessary part of the machinery of a big business.

"The corporations are not as bad lobbyists as some people think," added Mr. Barkworth, "for there is doubtless a great deal of imagination about the evil influences of the corporate interests in the lobbies. The various state bureaus are much more to be watched, for they have influence with the legislature, being in a sense of the official family of the state, and they are constantly putting through all sorts of legislation."

Thrilling Romance Unhappily Closed by Divorce Decree

A divorce decree, handed down this morning by Judge Leslie, ended a sensational romance which had its inception two years ago at St. Mary's academy, and a few added thrills, including an attempted kidnaping at Red Oak, Ia.

Mrs. Anna Ziegler, 18, who was Anna Bloss, a St. Mary's academy student and granddaughter of District Judge R. W. Steaton of Red Oak, petitioned for divorce and custody of her infant child on the grounds that her husband, an 18-year-old bricklayer, was cruel and failed to support her.

They separated soon after marriage, and after the birth of their baby it was taken to the home of its grandparents.

Two weeks ago an attempt was made in Red Oak to steal the child, but the grandmother baffled the kidnaper, who escaped in a waiting auto.

Mrs. Ziegler is now living with her parents at 208 North Seventeenth street. Her father is a traveling salesman for a Minneapolis firm.

Committee to Plan Memorial for English

Arrangements for memorial services for the late Judge James F. English were made at a meeting of all the judges.

A committee, composed of former Judge A. L. Sutton, T. J. Mahoney, County Attorney Magney, A. S. Ritchie and A. G. Ellick, was appointed to complete all the details. The memorial services will be held next Saturday morning in the criminal court room.

DECISION IN MOVIE CASE TO COME THIS WEEK

Decision in the injunction proceedings brought by local movie exhibitors against the city health department to lift the ban on children being admitted during the fever epidemic will be handed down next week.

Testimony on both sides is completed, and Judge Leslie took the case under advisement.

Men With Families to Get Preference

There is an unwarranted influx of laborers and skilled workmen to Omaha, induced to come here by reports appearing in newspapers of other cities," stated L. A. West, business agent of Hotel Carriers' and Common Laborers' union to Superintendent Schreiber of the Welfare board.

whom stated that they had read of demands for workmen in Omaha. "It is well enough to send out reports of Omaha's prosperity, but I do not believe it is right to give the impression that there is more work here than the bona fide resident workman can do," stated Mr. Schreiber.

for work at the Welfare board office are Omaha men and most of them have dependent families. This class will be given first consideration by the employment bureau of the board.
