

Nebraska FEARS STATE BANKS GETTING TOO MANY

State Board Raises Voice in Warning Regarding Rapid Increase in Number.

IT VOTES A RESOLUTION

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, March 7.—(Special.)—The rapid increase in the number of state banks in Nebraska has led the State Banking board to sit up and take notice in an effort to prevent overproduction and a watchful waiting policy will be inaugurated in the future that those already organized may be protected. At its meeting yesterday it passed the following resolution:

Whereas it appears that there is an ill-advised tendency to the promotion of an excessive number of state banks in the several local communities of this state to an extent inimical to the better interests of the clients of the several state banks of this state and highly dangerous to their guarantee fund, and now therefore,

Resolved, That from and after this date a certificate showing that at least 50 per cent of the stock of a proposed bank has been subscribed by bona-fide subscribers residing in the city, town, village or territory immediately tributary thereto wherein it is proposed to locate a bank and that each such subscriber is legally and financially responsible for double the amount of stock subscribed by him to adequately protect his contingent liability as a stockholder, must accompany each application for a bank charter. It is further resolved, That when such certificate and application in full and proper form has been filed with the State Banking board, the board through its regular and authorized agents or agencies shall make full and complete investigation as to the financial rating and standing of each and all subscribers to the business and banking experience of the officers of the proposed bank; the local sentiment and opinion relative to the necessity of more banking facilities; and all other facts and figures as may be required to fully, fairly and intelligently pass upon the question of the necessity of additional banking facilities in the particular city, town, or village and territory immediately tributary thereto.

Copper, stockholders of the Cortland Co-operative Creamery company, filed a petition in the district court yesterday asking that a receiver for the concern be appointed. They allege the plant was constructed at a cost of about $5,000 and that the indebtedness is about $6,000; that they have been unable to get the stockholders together to straighten up the affairs of the company, which has done no business since March, 1915, and for that reason they ask that a receiver be named and the property sold to pay the debts of the concern. They suggest that W. S. Bourne of this city be named as such officer.

Burlington Asserts It Does Not Intend To Raise Its Rates

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, March 7.—(Special.)—There will be no increase in passenger rates in Nebraska made by the Burlington railroad for intrastate traffic, according to Solicitor Byron Clark, who came to Lincoln today and filed a demurrer in behalf of that road in the office of the clerk of the supreme court, which sets forth that the road does not now, nor has it at any time contemplated raising the rate.

The demurrer sets out that the road has at no time in any manner, nor does it now expect to attempt to break the law regarding passenger rates or the sale of mileage books, nor has it in any manner aided other roads in violating the law or encouraged them to commence proceedings to have the law annulled, nor does it intend to violate the law as to the 2-cent passenger rate. Neither does it intend to dishonor its mileage books, nor has it at any time in any manner encouraged anything of the kind.

It has not in any manner aided or assisted or advised the Missouri Pacific or the Rock Island railroads in making an appeal or the bringing of suit before the law. It was not present even as a spectator during the hearing before the federal court for an appeal from the ruling of the State Railway commission. In fact the road has no intention of doing anything else, as far as rates in Nebraska are concerned, but to live up to the law.

Nebraska BANKING BOARD MAKES NEW RULES

Hereafter Half the Stock Must Be Subscribed by Residents of the Bank's Home Community.

TOO MANY BANKS BEING FORMED

LINCOLN, Neb., March 7.—The Nebraska State Banking board today announced that hereafter an effort will be made to investigate more thoroughly applications for state bank charters in an effort to curb the "growing tendency to promote an excessive number of state banks."

The board announced that it will hereafter require 50 per cent of the stock of each proposed state bank to be subscribed among residents of the community where the proposed institution is to be located, and it will examine closely the needs of the people of the community for a new bank. The board takes upon itself the power to refuse any charter which it deems does not conform to its requirements.

In announcing its new ruling the board says there is a growing danger to the banking interests of the state, as the interests of the depositors and the unwarranted fund owing to the large number of state banks being formed.

The ruling made is based on a recent state supreme court decision, which held the power of accepting or rejecting applications for state bank charters rested with the board.

Nebraska Officer Offered Command In British Army

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., March 7.—Captain Donald Macrae, a Scotchman, who commands a Canadian battalion, has written to Captain Jay Holmes, commander of Company B, Fifth regiment of the Nebraska National Guard, stating that if he will come to Toronto it is quite likely that he will be accepted as an officer in the Canadian army. He says the pay is $3.75 per day with $40 per month additional provided the officer is willing to relinquish half his salary in favor of those dependent upon him.

Captain Holmes says he has no intention of accepting the offer. He believes a number of American officers have accepted the proposition, however. It is now known that an American regiment of 5,000 men has already been attached to the Canadian army.

Promises of the Press Agents.
May Robson in her new play by James Forbes, entitled, "The Making Over of Mrs. Matt," and in a revival she will make a farewell performance of her former success, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," is to be the attraction at the Strand theater the last half of this week with a special matinee Friday and the regular matinee Saturday. A dear, delightful old Aunt Mary her spontaneity and her mirth is laugh-provoking; as Mrs. Matt her mother love, her humor and her deep insight to human nature prove revelations. In each play she grips the hearer's mind, she will bring a spring of emotion deftly, chases tears with laughter so completely and so satisfying that the auditors always feel in rapport with her.

An audience that filled the Orpheum Monday night was distinguished as a social gathering. Fritzi Scheff was received with the enthusiasm that attended her opening Sunday. Miss Scheff is rendering several numbers of the pretentious sort, well calculated to bring out the quality of her voice and her command to the cultivated taste in music and also sings several songs in a lighter vein that appeal to popular favor. She promises to repeat her success of two years ago when her week was one of the largest of the season.

In Omaha, as in every other big city on the far west, the "Araby" way down at the "log" of the entertainment being given by Max Spigel, "The Strolling Players," the popular Gayety this week, is the talk of the town. The number is led by Ina Hayward, who receives so many compliments that the corned German comic, Billy Massey, becomes tired of remaining off the stage, so he gets into the number. Then it gets more encore. It's a big show all the way and the customary "spiced" class is "ever prominent." Ladies' matinee daily.

Omahaans are "going some" this week to the Krug theater to see "Going Some," the comedy being offered by the North Stars. Stock company. There is a rapid fire of bright lines and laugh-provoking situations. Family matinees Thursday and Saturday. Movie prices.

In "The Pawn of Fate," the new World film feature starring George Belan, the contrast between the simple, quiet life in pastoral Normandy and the gay salons of Paris is vividly depicted. "The Pawn of Fate" is to be seen at the Boyd today for the last time.

Bessie Barriscale is seen at the Strand, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in "Honor's Altar," showing the lights and shadows of modern society. "The Auto Revolution" is the Keystone offering. The mammoth Grand Prix arena is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for the opening ritual March 11.

Nebraska Morrisey Opinion In the Commissioner Case is Interesting

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 7.—(Special.)—The filing of a dissenting opinion by Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Morrissey, which is concurred in by Associates Letton and Rose in the county commissioner case from Douglas county, in which County Commissioner Gus Harte was re-elected Commissioner Moorhead on the grounds that the last law had restricted the county so that he could not file, is interesting.

The majority opinion of the court as written by Judge Sedwick holds that "the legislature has no power to disregard the constitutional standard of apportionment because of the nature and character of the population and business interests. The constitution will not permit one class of voters to be given more power in governmental affairs than is given to another class."

Chapter 19, law of 1913, which provides that the county of more than 125,000 inhabitants shall be divided into five districts and that all territory outside of a metropolitan city and more than two miles from the limits of such city shall comprise one of those districts and have equal representation upon the county board with each of the other four districts is unconstitutional, because the result is that in Douglas county, to which the act applies, the district so formed will contain less than one-third of the population of each of the other districts and would have equal power in the government of the county.

Chief Justice Morrissey dissents because "no provision of the constitution has been pointed out to which the act does violence, and it is the duty of the court to sustain every law which does not clearly violate the provisions of the constitution. There is no provision of the constitution directing that counties shall be divided into commissioner districts, or determining that such an office as county commissioner shall be created. The whole idea as to what county officers shall be elected and how they shall be elected, is left entirely to the legislature. We have long recognized the wisdom of dividing counties into districts and in overthrowing the act, the majority opinion repudiates the very policy it purports to support. While the act requires the commissioners to be chosen from districts they are elected by the entire electorate of the county."

SECOND LADIES' MILITANT ORGANIZED AT ALLIANCE

MUST NOT WRITE LETTERS REGARDING THE WAR

HASTINGS, Neb., March 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Because Prof. H. C. Heilich of the high school with two other men, has been publishing strong pro-German letters in a Hastings newspaper, a motion was presented in the Board of Education last night to ask him to refrain from attaching his name in the future to articles that "may stir up strife in the schools and otherwise work harm in the community." The motion was not voted upon, it being decided to take the matter up with Mr. Reichle informally.

Robert C. Kirkpatrick.

NEHAWKA, Neb., March 7.—(Special.)—Robert C. Kirkpatrick died in an Omaha hospital Saturday, March 4, of pneumonia following an operation for ulcer of the stomach. He had been failing in health for several months, but had been confined to his bed for only three weeks. He was born near Nehawka February 24, 1856, and has lived here all his life. Mr. Kirkpatrick is one of Nebraska's oldest pioneers. Interment was made in the St. John cemetery Tuesday morning.

Caucus at Edgar.

EDGAR, Neb., March 7.—(Special.)—A very quiet citizens caucus was held at the opera house last night and the following names were nominated for the ticket for the coming city election: Mayor, S. L. Denton; city clerk, Earl Bickie; treasurer, Miss Scheff; city engineer, W. H. Lowery; councilman, North ward, Frank Westering; South ward, John Davison. There is much speculation at present that there will be another ticket in the field, so this will probably mean election.

It itched a great deal which caused him to scratch and he was very cross and would often lie awake nights. His hair fell out and made his head look very badly. Proposes Belgium Ever Remain the Buffer Country

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
TOKIO, Feb. 26.—In an introduction which he contributed to a book entitled, "Belgium and the European War," which has just been published by Count della Faille de Leveghem, the Belgian minister to Japan, Premier Count Okuma declares his judgment that the peace of Europe and the whole world demands that Belgium be made in the future more firmly than ever a buffer state.

The work of Count della Faille is a review of the situation in Belgium since the entrance of German troops at the outbreak of the war. The author discusses in detail the evidence concerning the violation of the Belgian neutrality and alleged German acts of cruelty against the population and the peace of Europe and the whole world demands that Belgium be made in the future more firmly than ever a buffer state.

"The existence of Belgium as a buffer state is indispensable to the peace of the world," wrote Count Okuma in his preface to the volume. The occupation of this buffer state today by the Germans, he declared, "is not only in opposition to the stipulations of the treaty of 1839, but it is inadmissible from the standpoint of justice and contrary to the principles for the preservation of the peace of Europe. To make Belgium what it was before, namely, to make it a buffer state on a more solid basis is very necessary not only for the peace of Europe, but also for the peace of the whole world." He added:

"Besides, it is a work of justice. We cannot help admiring Belgium, where, from the king down to the simplest citizen, all, in this terrible struggle, are fighting with such desperation for the future of the state and for justice and that at the risk of their lives and with no thought of themselves. We have no doubt whatever that the final victory will be on the side of justice and that the loyalty will be crowned with success."

POKER AS PLAYED IN LONDON

The Indoor Sport of Sports Becomes a Perilous Game Abroad.
A London magistrate has decided that poker is "a perilous game." He is right—it is perilous the way it is played in the British capital. Poker is a game of joy in America. It is one of the two national games. It is to indoor sports what baseball is to outdoor sports. In this favored land it is played according to its own rules. In London they play it according to their own foolish ideas. In other words the game in London is not poker at all; it is a British game and they call it poker.

Here is a sample of the way the game is played over there. The story is told by a traveler who recently fled from London. In a game of poker a Briton was drawing to a flush of four cards. He called for one and it was dealt to him, but the man who was picking up the cards and making up the deck for the next deal took it, and when the Briton came to bet he had only four cards. He was allowed to play them and won a good pot on a four-card flush. No wonder the American fled. Also they play the hand called a kiltier, nine high and deuce low, with no straight or flush to draw to, a worthless hand in fact, and yet John Bull permits it to beat three of a kind.

In London, too, they play with a joker and allow the man who holds it to call it anything he pleases. Which means that one can hold five of a kind. If the king sits into the game he merely announces what he has and takes in the pot if what he says he has beats the other hands. That kind of a game is worse than the split in fare. The magistrate is right—poker is perilous in London—it also is maddening.—New York Telegraph.

Naming of Aoki Creates a Flurry At Jap Consulate

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
PEKING, Feb. 23.—Announcement from Shanghai that Lieutenant General Aoki is to be stationed at the Japanese consulate at that point as a sort of military attaché has created a flurry in Peking. The assignment of a military officer of General Aoki's rank and wide experience to the Shanghai consulate is interpreted by the Chinese press to mean trouble for the Chinese government and the laying of broad plans for some sort of military movement on the part of Japan.

From what is known of General Aoki's predilections, his presence in Shanghai gives fair ground for mistaking on the part of those whose interests lie in the preservation of peace and order in China. The general is reported to have been very deeply interested in the revolution of 1911 and to have had close associations with the rebels who rose against the government in 1913. It is notorious that Shanghai is the headquarters of the desperadoes who wish to create a condition of anarchy in China, and it is equally notorious that what arms they are able to secure are sent by the Chinese refugees in Japan. In these circumstances the presence of General Aoki in Shanghai is, to say the least, remarkable.
