> Life of a Man Who Is Being Gored. How a 12-year-old girl, riding a saddle-played the part of a matador in a real bull fight, overcame the enraged animal and saved the life of a man on a farm near Brighton, Ill., became known a short time ago. The heroine was Ruth Deatherage.

The man whose life she saved was Richard Lyons, a farmhand on the Deatherage land. Loons was attempting to drive the buil into a barn when the animal became enraged and attacked him. Lyons was thrown to the ground and the bull began the Nebraeka society of the United to trample and gore him.

Ruth and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Deatherage, heard Lyons' cries for help. Throwing only a bridle on the head of her favorite horse and grabbing a pitchfork, Ruth rushed to the rescue. Two or three times she circled around the bull, seeking the advantage of position. Then she rode directly at his head and struck. Two of the pitchfork types pierced the bull's nose; he became a very much subdued animal and the battle was over.-Peoria-Transcript.

Vhen the Robins Nest Aga

We wonder if there is anyone in all the world who does not love the Springtime? This morning when we opened our doors we were greeted by two robins, who were hopping and chirping in the yard. We forget all about the little coating of snow on the walks, threw our heads back and just sniffed in the exhilarating ozone. Our decorator must have felt it also for he immediately started to put on the store's Spring dress. So when you come to see us on Saturday you'll find us all lit up. The clematis may seem to you a new variety, but in these days of Burbankism you will not doubt the correctness of flower and foliage, we feel sure.

Kilpatrick's Saturday a Real Spring Exhibit The nimble sixpence has always appealed to the live merchant. Small profits and quick returns has been an axiom with the successful trades-
