MOVEMENT INTO MEXICO DELAYED

General Funston Blames Railroad West of El Paso for Slow Mobilization.

NOT ENOUGH ROLLING STOCK

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 13.—Major General Funston announced positively early this afternoon that there will be no movement of troops across the border today.

It was officially announced that Brigadier General John J. Pershing will command the expeditionary forces.

General Funston said he had received no notification from Washington to hold back the expedition while negotiations were completed with General Carranza.

General Funston said today that the announcement of the expedition's actual start into Mexico probably would come from General Pershing, to whom would be left the decision as to the exact hour for setting the movement afoot.

Shortage of rolling stock, General Funston said, was hindering the concentration of cavalry at the base of operations, and this was one reason why a movement today was unlikely. The fault, he said, lay with the railroads west of El Paso.

"We have even had to transport men in boxcars," he declared.

"If this had been merely an infantry expedition we could have been into Mexico on Villa's very heels," he continued.

"But this is largely a cavalry movement and that is why there has been delay."

Will Use Large Force.

Light was thrown on the size of the expeditionary force by the general, who said:

"When this movement is completed there will be only six or eight regiments left in the United States other than those troops stationed along the border for patrol duty."

"Of course," he said, "if the Carranza government were unable to control the situation and there should be general opposition in Mexico to the entrance of American soldiers the entire regular army would have to be employed in the movement and part of the militia, too. Patrol duty along the border would be delegated to the militia."

It was made clear that this eventuality was not expected. There will be no infantry or cavalry movements from Fort Sam Houston for the present, it was announced today. The first aero squadron, Captain Benjamin D. Foulois, commanding, went forward to El Paso this morning.

Coast Motorists Plan Trips to the East This Summer

Motorists from California and other western states will tour to the east this season in larger numbers than ever before, judging from advices received in Omaha from the secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, Los Angeles. This organization is said to be the largest automobile club in the world. The touring season from west to east is now open and large numbers of cross-country enthusiasts are starting to make preparations for a holiday in this section of the country. R. E. Smyth, assistant secretary of the Omaha Automobile club, was informed in a letter received here. Information was asked as to the conditions of roads along the Lincoln Highway, particularly between North Platte and Omaha and Omaha and Sioux City and Cedar Rapids.

DAYTONA RACE COURSE WILL BE REOPENED

CHICAGO, March 13.—Reports are current in local automobile circles that the famous Daytona-Ormond automobile racing course at Daytona, Fla., will be reopened for record breaking trials this month after five years of idleness and that several manufacturers of well known cars will conduct tests of speed over the course where Bob Burman in 1911 set the world's one-mile straightaway record of 54.4 seconds.

LARRY LEJEUNE SIGNS WITH SIOUX CITY CLUB

SIOUX CITY, Ia., March 13.—Larry Lejeune, star outfielder of the Sioux City Western league club the last two seasons and leading hitter in the circuit, has come to terms of President Ed Hanlon. The signing of Lejeune leaves but one hold-out, Prince Gaskill, the twirler who was purchased from the Denver club. The makeup of the team that will report for spring duty at Fairbury on April 1 is as follows: Catchers: Livingston, Crosby or Donnelly; Pitchers: Doyle, Gassner, Kelly, Clark, Watson and Gaskill; Infielders: Kane, Corney, Callahan, Connolly, Naughton and Hendling; Outfielders: Gorge, George Watson, Davis and Lejeune.

Fort Sheridan Troops Are Ordered South

CHICAGO, March 13.—The four troops of the Fifth United States cavalry at Fort Sheridan received orders tonight to leave for the Mexican border tomorrow at noon. Their precise destination was not announced. Several members of the medical corps left for San Antonio tonight.

THEY COUNT PEAS NOW IN OLD MEXICO

Lad Just Up from Neighboring Country Says Food Conditions Are Bad There.

WILL NOT TALK ABOUT VILLA

John Zozaya, who came from Mexico four weeks ago to make his home in Omaha, states that peas are being sold by count in the market places of his native land. He mentioned this as illustrating food conditions beyond the Rio Grande. He has just started to work as messenger in the United States National bank.

He is of Spanish parentage and bearing. His father, Carlos Zozaya, is manager of a large ranch owned by Charles Harding of this city, between Tampico and San Luis Potosi. The youth is living at the Harding residence, 120 South Thirty-eighth avenue.

This new citizen is 18 years of age and as bright as a "new penny," as somebody expressed. He learned to converse in English before he came to Omaha. His sister Lola has entered Sacred Heart convent of this city. A brother is studying music in Paris and the mother and two other daughters are at present in Mexico City. The father is at the Harding ranch near San Luis Potosi.

John Zozaya served as private secretary of Godines, chief of one of the war departments under Carranza. This youth says he has met Villa and Carranza many times, but declines to express any personal opinion as to the man Uncle Sam is now hunting or of the Mexican de facto government. He did vouchsafe the information that his father escaped from the ranch three years ago by swimming a river and making his way to Mexico City.

The boy seems pleased to be in Omaha and to have a position.

Munitions Factories Are Busy Turning Out Supplies for the U. S.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Four of the largest munition plants in this section are working on rush orders for steel shells and rifles for the United States government, according to statements made here tonight by officers of these companies, who added that they are in a position to supply the further needs of this country without interfering with their foreign orders.

The Remington Arms company, it was stated, is making 2,000,000 rifles for the army; the Edgemoor Ammunition corporation, 1,500,000 shells and the Baldwin Locomotive company, 1,000,000 steel forgings, while the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company is also working on large orders for the United States in addition to its foreign contracts.

Samuel M. Vauclain, managing director of the Remington Arms company and a director of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance corporation, and Alva R. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, said that these concerns had received large orders from the government during the last few weeks.

Arrest Editors Who Issue Sunday Sheets

MOBERLY, Mo., March 13.—The editors of Moberly's three morning newspapers were arrested early this morning as a result of the enforcement of a recent ordinance ordering all business suspended from midnight Saturday until Monday morning. No business was done today in a general observance of the city's first "Blue Sunday." Taxicabs paraded the streets, but none was allowed to carry any passengers. Moberly has a population of 12,000.

Beloit Signs Breton.

CHICAGO, March 13.—Jimmy Breton, former White Sox player, has been signed by the Beloit, Wis. Fairbanks-Morse semi-professional baseball team to play third base.

Hoger Signs Up Two.

TOLEDO, O., March 13.—L. R. (Steve) Evans late last night affixed his signature to a contract with the Toledo American association club. Evans will play right field. Brexathian has also signed Outfielder Al Shaw, who was with the Kansas City Federal league team last year.

FUNSTON OUTLINES EXPEDITION PLANS

Necessary to Keep Border Patrolled in Event of Mexican Uprising.

TROOPS MUST BE EQUIPPED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 13.—General Frederick Funston today outlined his plans for the capture, "dead or alive," of Francisco Villa and his band of outlaws.

"We do not ourselves know just when the expedition will start into Mexico, although, of course, it will be soon," he declared.

"It will go forward just as soon as a sufficient number of men with an adequate commissary can be organized. It will not be held back, however, until all the troops now ordered to the border have arrived."

Long and Arduous Task.

"There is no use going at this thing half cocked, the task ahead of us will be a long and arduous one." It became known today that the plans for the campaign against Villa have been affected by the border situation elsewhere than at Columbus, N. M. The situation is so important as to have hindered rapid concentration of the punitive expedition that will go after the perpetrators of the Columbus outrage.

Great excitement has been noted, it is authoritatively stated, in the Carranza garrisons at Nogales, opposite the Arizona border town of that name, and at Piedras Negras, which fronts Eagle Pass, Tex., from across the Rio Grande. This uneasiness has extended to the large Mexican population on the American side. Troops now stationed on the border are sufficient to cope with any situation that may arise, General Funston says.

Must Be Replaced.

However, as it is his intention to use these troops in the search for Villa and as they cannot be moved until other detachments arrive to replace them, complete organization of the expeditionary military has been held up.

Army circles feel bound to respect the fear of residents in American towns that, notwithstanding assurances from General Carranza's representatives, uprising may follow the actual occupation of Mexican territory by American soldiers. It is felt that the welfare of the border cannot be sacrificed to the doubtful success of hasty and therefore unprepared pursuit of the fugitive Villa.

General Funston's statement regarding the uncertainty of the punitive expedition's departure was in reply to what he termed the impatience of the American people for speedy action.

"The people must be patient," he said. "We must be adequately prepared for this thing."

"In the first place, we must use as much as possible soldiers who are accustomed to Mexican border duty. However, these men cannot be removed from their present posts until they are relieved by troops drawn from other departments and hurried to the border."

"Transportation of the relief patrols is not an easy matter. Many of the troops consist of scattered detachments that have to be concentrated, sometimes after difficult marches, before they can be sent southward."

"Concentration and transportation of troops is not all of our problem, however. We are going to march into a country that will afford us little or no forage. The commissary must be adequately supplied."

American Must Be Fed.

"A Villa follower can live on little or nothing. An American soldier must be well fed if he is to give good service. We won't gain anything by haste. To send an adequate force, insufficiently provisioned, after Villa, would hinder and not hasten matters."

Speaking regarding the course the campaign will take, General Funston said:

"There will be more than one expeditionary force, although I am not at liberty to say how many, or from what point or points they will start."

"All this will be left to the discretion of the expedition commander, who will have complete charge of all the forces in the field."

May Visit Forces.

"Necessarily, the campaign will develop new situations and the disposal of the troops is contingent upon these developments. I may at intervals visit the field forces."

"Of course, the expedition will not await the arrival at the border of all the troops now being dispatched from other departmental stations. It will be gotten under way just as soon as possible, and when other troops arrive they will be sent forward as reinforcements."

"El Paso, naturally, will be the base of supplies for our army. El Paso will be supplied through Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio."

territory we will penetrate—Americans who have been working down in that country for years."

It is the general's expectation that the aero squadron will be of great service.

"Of course the flyers have seen duty down on the border," he said. "They couldn't accomplish much, however, for thickets and stretches of bushes made observations difficult. Out in the open mesas of the territory we will traverse the boys will render great assistance."

Advance duty service in the small detachments that are thrown out by armies as "feelers" will be the most hazardous work the American soldiers will encounter, General Funston believes.

"Villistas will at times surprise these scouting parties," he said. "In ordinary warfare our men might, if hopelessly outnumbered and resistance was futile, surrender with safety. To surrender to the Villistas, however, would be worse than suicide. Villa's men will kill every American they can lay hands on. Every encounter with them means a fight to the death."

Entraining is Begun.

It has been decided that the first aero squadron will not attempt a flight to the base of operations. Entraining of the eight machines, the necessary trucks, and motor cycles and supplies, begun today but was not completed. The squadron will not get away until tomorrow, when it will proceed to El Paso.

Hospital company No. 7, and ambulance company No. 7, left before daybreak today for El Paso to be dispatched where needed. They were followed shortly by the Second battalion of engineers, Companies E, G and H. There will be no other movements from San Antonio before Monday.

It was reported here that a guard has been placed over the Southern Pacific viaduct at Del Rio over which the various detachments from Fort Sam Houston will pass.

One Line Can Be Used.

One railway line, running southward can be utilized by the American forces during a part of the campaign. It was pointed out, however, that ultimately the chase after Villa may lead the expedition more than 200 miles away from the railroad.

This will mean that a long line of communications must be established, strongly protected in order that supplies may be insured.

Transportation of food, forage and ammunition will become a serious undertaking under such conditions, the general said. It is probable that even water will have to be carried for preparation for all contingencies will have to be thorough. Hay for the horses alone will run into millions of pounds.

Don't Want to Live On Bowery Any More

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Bowery, immortalized by poets, short story writers and composers of popular songs, will become Central Broadway if merchants and bankers whose places of business are on the famous thoroughfare can persuade the board of aldermen to agree to the change in name, it was declared at a meeting today.

The business men pointed out that the fate of the Bowery was sealed by the refrain heard many years ago:

They do such things and they say things

On the Bowery, the Bowery— I'll never go there any more.

It was said this song, which went all over the country, made such an impression that people ceased trading on the Bowery, which until that time had been an important business street.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 13.—Battery C, of the Sixth field artillery passed through Douglas tonight on Nogales en route eastward along the border. No destination was announced.

CATARRH A BLOOD DISEASE

Drive It From Your System.

Because Catarrh affects the nose and throat, causing sores in the nostrils, stoppage of air-passages and gathering in the throat, it has been common practice to treat Catarrh with salves, washes and sprays applied to these parts. This mode of treatment cannot give permanent relief, and is liable to aggravate the trouble. Catarrh cannot be tried with. If allowed to run on it will disorganize the bronchial tubes, settle on the lungs and affect the stomach—indeed it is a very serious disease. Don't treat it locally. The one treatment that has proven effective in the treatment of Catarrh is S. S. S., the greatest blood purifier and blood tonic known. It removes the cause of Catarrh by renewing the blood, restoring its vigor, giving new life to the red blood corpuscles and stimulating the flow so that it has the vitality to throw off the poison and germs from the system. It is literally a blood bath. You quickly feel results. Headaches disappear, the gasping in the throat stops, the nostrils clear, S. S. S. is a natural blood tonic and has proven effective in the treatment of all blood affections. Eczema, leprosy, scurvy, Scrofula, get S. S. S. at your druggist's. ## KILLS WIFE WHO DIDN'T STAY HOME

Negro Slays Mate When She Goes Visiting Neighbor After He Told Her Not To.

WANTED ONE LOOK AT BODY

"Ah done want to see my woman. Ah done tell her that ah would kill her if she went to that house again and ah did. But ah want to see her once before ah get locked up."

Bernard Larkin and a number of friends gathered in the South Side morgue for a friendly Sunday afternoon talk took a second look at the negro who stood before them. The man had asked to see the wife of Andrew Fields, negro, who had been shot to death a few hours before at the home of a friend in the west side.

"But who are you," Larkin demanded.

"Ah, sir, am Mr. Fields," the man answered. Larkin led him into the back room where, after a glance at the body of his wife, he fainted. The police were called and he was locked up in a cell a few minutes later, charged with murder.

The shooting occurred at the home of Fannie Williams, 216 U street, South Side, a friend of the slain woman, yesterday morning. Fields told the police that his wife had persisted in calling at the Williams home after he had entreated her not to. In the morning he told her that he would kill her if she visited the place again. In spite of this threat Mrs. Fields visited the Williams home at 1 o'clock and was followed by her husband who bought a gun downtown when he saw that she had left. He fired five bullets into her body.

American Soldiers Patrol Nogales on Two Sides of Place

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 13.—American army patrols with three days' rations were tonight assigned to guard the border on each side of the American town of Nogales, Ariz. Carranza troops today continued to pass through the Mexican town of Nogales, apparently concentrating to block Villa's escape toward the west.

General Calles, the Carranza commander at Nogales, said that his movements would be guided entirely by instructions from General Carranza. He said he received no communication from Carranza today. Carranza authorities have asked permission to pass 70,000 rounds of ammunition into Agua Prieta, that the shipments thus far have been held up. Permits previously issued to pass munitions, arms, ammunitions or explosives at Agua Prieta have been cancelled. Mexican troops which arrived in Agua Prieta today were quickly passed south. El Tigre, Mexico, and Nacoari, Mexico, reported the arrival of reinforcements.
