TURKEY IS TO LOSE

WHATEVER WINS OUT. If Germany Wins Turkey Will Be a Protectorate—Allies Will Divide Up the Country.

SAYS MAN WHO WAS THERE

That it is an absolute fallacy that there is a holy war being waged in Turkey is the contention of Prof. Edgar J. Banks.

Prof. Banks is a guest at the Hotel Fontenelle. He will lecture every night this week in the Young Women's Christian association auditorium.

As American consul to Baghdad, private secretary to American minister to Turkey and field director to the Babylonian expedition of the University of Chicago to Basmay, Prof. Banks had exceptional opportunities for studying conditions in all parts of the Turkish empire.

While being widely known for his work in the United States diplomatic service in Turkey, Prof. Banks admits that he is not a student of the Turkish language.

He is primarily an archaeologist and will return to his field of operations at the termination of the war—providing the allies win.

All archaeologists concede the fact, he declared, that if the Teutonic countries are victorious in the war, Germany and Austria will excavate the ruins of the old cities and ruins, but will bar all others.

On the other hand, Prof. Banks asserted, if the allies win, archaeologists of standing from any country will be permitted to make any excavations they wish.

Reverting to the subject of the present situation in Turkey, Prof. Banks added that it "was all nonsense about a holy war. The percentage of praying Mohammedans is no greater than that, for instance, of praying Unitarians."

When this war is over the country will undergo the greatest change since 1453, when Turks captured Constantinople.

"Germany's ambitions in Turkey were evident to me when I was a student in Germany, twenty years ago. They were talking then: Berlin to Baghdad."

RUSSIANS START

Baby Has Narrow Escape from Fire. Germans Count Over Nine Thousand Dead Before Lines After it is Over.

ARMEN ARE VERY BUSY

With the slackening of the fighting around Verdun, the Russians have started a big offensive movement against the Germans on the eastern front.

A raid by German seaplanes on the east coast of England and by French airmen on Metz and other German towns, the sinking of a French torpedo destroyer by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the reported torpedoing of an Austrian hospital ship by an entente underwater boat are recorded in official and unofficial communications.

Berlin chronicles an attack of great violence by the Russians around Driswaty lake and Lake Naroc, but says the Russians were repulsed with great losses, 9,270 Russian dead having been counted in the Lake Naroc region.

Attack is Reported. Saturday the Germans in the Vaux-Damouise sector, northeast of Verdun, began another spirited attack against the French, but were driven back.

Berlin reports the capture of some ground from the British northeast of Verdun, in the region of La Bassée and the driving of the French from a position northeast of Hadonville in the Vosges.

London admits the capture by the Germans of three mine craters at the Hohenzollern redoubt.

French Guns Busy. The French guns have been busy bombarding German trenches in Champagne and German depots northeast of St. Mihiel. French aeroplanes dropped bombs on Metz ammunition depots near Chateau Saline and the aerodrome at Dieuse, while twenty-three other machines attacked the aviation camp at Habbema and the freight station at Mulhausen.

OMAHA LADS WHO RUN AWAY FOUND AT NEBRASKA CITY

The wanderlust bug that inoculated William Holl and Elmer Henderholt, little Omaha boys, who ran away from home, quit biting when they got to Nebraska City. There they made themselves known, and it was not long before local juvenile authorities got on their trail and brought them back to a parental spanking.
