

Will Discuss Status of Smaller Schools

CHICAGO, Ill., March 24.—Important questions concerning the crediting of smaller colleges and normal school are expected to provoke some lively discussion today and tonight among delegates to the twenty-first annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools here.

expected to provoke some lively discussion today and tonight among delegates to the twenty-first annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools here. The commission on accredited schools and colleges will meet early in the day and prepare a report which will be submitted to the association later. There is said to be some bitter feeling over the limitations proposed on classification of schools and colleges. The topic will be formally discussed at tonight's session. President David Felmley, Illinois State Normal university, Normal, will speak on the question, "What is a Reasonable Limit to Which an Institution May Go in Enrolling Students in the First and Second Years and Yet Retain the Right to be Classified as a Senior College?" "Only instructors of Advanced Training in a Given Subject, Usually to the Point of Research, are Competent to Give Advanced Work in College Courses in These Subjects," will be a point discussed by J. Stanley Brown, principal of the Joliet Township High school, and President J. H. T. Mann of Grinnell college will read a paper to show that "No Institution of College Grade, Which Offers Few Advanced Courses Should be Classified as a Senior College." Delegates are expected from most of the states east of the Rockies, north of the Ohio and west of the Alleghenias.
