By MELLIFUGIA. Tuesday, November 9, 1915.

GEORGE MEREDITH makes his charming Irish heroine, Diana of the Crossways, say of men that, while many have progressed in passing Point Seraglio, few have succeeded in rounding Cape Turk.

Of course, Diana inferred that the modern man had his capacity to love conserved down to one object, but over that object he kept guard with all a Turk's dominant monopoly.

What would you think of the Turk in a man that asserts itself even against the camera?

There is now in our midst a beautiful guest that hasn't a photograph of herself to her name.

Worse, she dare not sit for a photographer.

She is pretty, charming—and gracious; but the veil of the orient is over her face so far as image making is concerned.

"No, no, no! I'm not even to be snap-shotted," she cries in alarm at the suggestion; my husband would be sure to find it out. And then! I just believe he would shoot over it."

Here is Diana's Turk, pure and simple. True, he lets the object of his devotion out into the world. But he has found a way to veil her, holding her his own even at longest distances.

To Honor Senator Burton.

WILL HAVE PLENTY OF TOYS

Louis Nash and Burnasco Buyers Back from Trip to Eastern Markets.

MAKES SOME LARGE CONTRACTS

L. C. Nash and a force of buyers for the Burnasco-Nash store have just returned from New York City.

It was a buying trip extraordinary in which they went, necessitated by unusually large sales this fall and a consequent depletion of the stock on hand.

It was a very successful trip, Mr. Nash and the buyers making a mastery "drive" on the importing and jobbing houses of the east and "capturing" a great variety and volume of merchandise which is already beginning to appear at the Burnasco-Nash store.

"Conditions in the east are very peculiar owing to the war," said Mr. Nash. "Owing to the scarcity of smaller dyed goods have gone up in some instances 40 per cent. Bulgaria's entry into the war theater will cut off much of the supply of coarse wools for rug making. Fortunately we anticipated this condition, with the result that we have contracted for such goods at prices that will be advantageous to our customers."

To Get Plenty of Toys.

"We anticipated a possible difficulty in getting toys and we placed heavy orders just after Christmas last year, with the result that we will get every dollar's worth that we ordered of imported toys, which include all the finer lines as well as many of the cheaper grades. On this extra trip we were able to pick up many novelties for this department as well. Ours is the only store in the city that operates a toy department the year round. In quantity and variety our toy department on the fourth floor will be even stronger than ever."

In nearly every line we secured merchandise wondrous this trip. The public is showing marked appreciation of the fact that we are continually improving our stock, but we believe there is always still more room for improvement. When the people see this merchandise they will be more than ever satisfied."

Among the buyers who made the trip were: Mr. Jones, silk; Miss Dorris, gloves; Mr. Kelly, men's furnishings; Mr. Hoover, ready-to-wear; Miss Michaels, valises; Mrs. Rogers, muslin underwear and infants' goods; Mr. Hunt and Mrs. Stubbs, rugs, furniture and draperies; Mr. Grout, men's clothing.

CITY BUILDS THREE SWIMMING POOLS

Lagoon in Fontenelle Park to Be Ready for the Swimming Season in the Spring.

ONE FOR DUNDEE FOLKS, TOO

City Commissioner Hummel has received from the city engineering department plans for a lagoon which will be located in the west part of Fontenelle park in time for the opening of the swimming season next spring. The cost of excavating four and one-half acres for this improvement is placed at $7,500, which money will be set aside from the park bond fund this month. Bids will be advertised for and the contract awarded without delay.

The lagoon will be in that portion of the park which naturally is low. This swimming place will be supervised by the Recreation board and will have wading accommodations for the small children and swimming facilities for the older patrons of the park.

Mr. Hummel will provide a sewer outlet for the overflow, and hopes to strike springs for the supply. A commodious building will be erected for swimmers during the open season and skaters during the skating season.

The old septic tank at Elmwood park is being cleaned out and will be fitted up for bathers in the southwest part of the city. The new swimming pool at Riverview park will be completed in the early spring and will be opened for the swimming season. Mr. Hummel states that the Riverview park swimming pool will be one of the best in this part of the country. It was designed by an expert and will have every convenience of comfort and safety.

DEMAND OMAHA TO HONOR SOUTH OMAHA BOND DEAL

Spitzer, Rorick & Co. of Chicago have made demand upon the city commissioners to honor a contract entered into by the former South Omaha city officials in connection with bonds which it is claimed should have been renewed last August. The city legal department will look into the validity of the alleged contract. The amount of the bonds is $18,000.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Hammer Held at the Home

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. George L. Hammer, who was injured in the 1913 tornado and died Sunday. In accordance with Mrs. Hammer's wishes the funeral was a very quiet and simple ceremony, at the home at the Clarinda apartments, 307 Farnam street. Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was in charge. Only the family and a few intimate friends attended. Burial was private in Forest Lawn cemetery. The pallbearers were: T. C. Byrne, W. H. McCord, J. C. French, C. L. Deuel, F. N. Conner, C. N. Robinson.

WOULD WAIT AT THE TAB UNTIL "BILLY" RETURNS

N. Pierson of Oakland, Cal., journeyed to the fast disappearing remnant of "Billy" Sunday's Tabernacle Monday night. "What do you want?" inquired Watchman Wallace.

"I'm going to wait here until 'Billy' Sunday comes back," replied Pierson. "Well, you'll freeze to death if you do," informed Wallace, and started to lead Pierson from the enclosure.

Pierson, being in good spirits, put up an argument. He left the Tabernacle nursing a lacerated head.

"TR give you ten days suspended sentence if you get out of town," said the judge. "How much money have you?"

"Just enough to take me to Syracuse," quoth Pierson, and the judge let him go.
