

ASSERTS ENGLAND BLUNDERS IN WAR

Nationalist Blames Kitchener for Not Going to Aid of Liege and Serbia.

MUST BE CHANGE OR CRASH

LONDON, Nov. 12—Arthur Lynch nationalist, today in the House of Commons, made a strong attack upon Lord Kitchener, who, he said, had blundered in not moving to the defense of Liege, again on the question of munitions, and once again in Serbia.

"The blunder in the Dardanelles," he added, "was at least a blunder of a man who meant to do something."

He contended that the war was being conducted with signal incompetency and that unless there was a change the country was moving straight to disaster. He would sweep away 70 per cent of the higher British command, beginning with Field Marshal French, who had been in command fifteen months and "had made no progress."

In the last offensive, continued Mr. Lynch, the allies broke through the German lines, but in the superior command decision was wanting to take full advantage of the moral victory. The government he declared had no plan of campaign. The plea of a successful war of attrition was absurd. The war must be won in the field. The men were good and munitions were there. It was leadership and direction which were lacking.

Limit to Endurance.

After several members had spoken on various aspects of the war, Arthur A. Ponsonby, liberal, closing the debate for the critics of the government, said that while the situation was not so bad as it was painted there was a limit to endurance, and that the chancellor of the exchequer could not but look with the gravest apprehension to the future. After the war, he declared, the foreign office would have to be cleared out from top to bottom.

Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, assured the house that if the government had not done as much as it should have liked for Serbia it had not been from any want of good will. The French and British governments had offered to send 150,000 troops to Salonika to enable Greece to fulfill its treaty obligations to Serbia.

Best Men Available.

They had sent the men who were available at once and had begun to make preparations for the transport of troops from other places, but these could not be obtained without due regard for the military exigencies. Then Greece changed its mind.

After consultation with France, however, it was decided to continue the dispatch of troops to Salonika. It was due only to the limitations imposed by the war that more had not been sent.

The house formally agreed to a vote of credit of £400,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) asked for by Premier Asquith.

HYPHENATED LOBBYISTS WILL BE UNDER SCRUTINY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Careful watch will be kept on lobbyists during the coming busy season of congress, according to Senator Overman, chairman of the senate's special lobby committee. "The committee is still alive," said Mr. Overman today, "and will be kept alive for the purpose of inquiring into any invidious lobbying that may be attempted during the next congress as a result of problems growing out of the European war."

He mentioned proposals to prohibit sales of war munitions to belligerents and the national defense program as issues likely to draw all kinds of outside pressure upon members of congress.

BULGARS ALLOWED BUT TWO HOURS TO BURY DEAD

LONDON, Nov. 12.—According to information received from a Greek frontier station, says Reuter's Saloniki correspondent, "fighting on a large scale has been proceeding since yesterday between Gradiko and Velea. "The Bulgarians asked for a suspension of hostilities for five hours for the purpose of burying the dead and collecting the wounded, but only two hours was granted."

"Further British reinforcements have been sent forward to strengthen the right wing of the entente allies' line. No reliable news of the operations in northern Serbia is available here."

SIX CENTS VERDICT IN "HOUSE OF DAVID" CASE

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Nov. 12.—A verdict of 6 cents damages was returned by a jury in the slander suit of Mrs. Augusta Holliday against "Prince" Roy Purnell, son of "King" Benjamin Purnell, head of the "Israelite House of David" colony near this city. Mrs. Holliday had sued for $25,000.

Mrs. Holliday, a former member of the colony, had made certain statements regarding customs alleged to prevail among members of the cult. Young Purnell charged that in so doing Mrs. Holliday had committed perjury.

Large Part of Swiss Army Will Go Home

BASEL, Switzerland (Via Paris), Nov. 12.—A considerable portion of the Swiss army will be sent home from the Swiss frontier November 13, as it appears that the government is convinced no danger of territorial violations by the belligerents now exists.

The expense of maintaining upward of 200,000 men under arms has been a trying burden.

The government has been kept in a state of constant anxiety month after month by what was believed to be confidential, trustworthy information concerning designs against Switzerland by one or another of the belligerents, all of which turned out to be inaccurate. However, ample forces will be retained at strategic points.

ENGLAND EXPLAINS WHY IT SEARCHED HOCKING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 12.—Johnny has informed the United States that the cause of the detention of the American steamship Hocking, seized by a British prize crew and taken to Halifax, was to determine whether the vessel was enemy-owned, although flying the American flag. The Hocking is one of the ships owned by the American Transatlantic company of New York. It has been charged and denied that some of the stock of the company is German-owned. The Hocking awaits action in a prize court.

GERMANY LIKES WILSON NOTE TO GREAT BRITAIN

COLOGNE (Via London), Nov. 12.—What is said to be an inspired dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette on the American note to Great Britain, says:

"The energy with which the president, after the settlement of the controversy with Germany, has taken up the settlement of the Anglo-American question is acknowledged unreservedly here. There could be no more convincing documentary proof of the importance of American interests and the extent of the British violations of right than this note."

"America it must be conceded, has spoken thoroughly and energetically. The immediate future will show how strong is the political determination behind these words."

KILBANE IS SUSPENDED FOR STALLING IN BOUT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 12.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, was indefinitely suspended late today by the Wisconsin Athletic commis-son for failing to appear in answer to a charge that he "stalled" in his bout with Ritchie Mitchell here recently. Kilbane's suspension will stand until he appears and satisfactorily explains to the commission his dilatory tactics in his match with Mitchell.

Luther Drake Makes His Maiden Speech Before the Electrical Men

A new master of oral expression has sprung into the light. To be exact—the electric light. It is none other than Luther Drake, who electrified delegates and business men at a banquet of the Nebraska Electrical association at the Fontenelle Thursday noon.

Mr. Drake was persuaded by rare diplomacy to utter a few incandescent "bon mots," which he did in a manner that would make William Jennings, who is also an electrifying speaker, writhe in envy. In fact the "juice" (grape and electric) expert never spoke on "current" topics to greater effect, than Mr. Drake. "He is simply Maada," remarked General George H. Harries, who was responsible for the forth coming illuminating outburst. Without a single short circuit, and free from all insulation, Orator Drake's volts swept his audience with deadly effect—although he did not kilowatt. In language of the electric magnets—or rather magnetos, "Maada," is synonymous with "superb, dazzling, whole cheese," and other common complimentary adjectives. So it was highly evident how Mr. Drake charged the assembly with his battery of spontaneous wit. Those present say this was Mr. Drake's initial effort, yet are positive that only years of practice and careful study could develop such "power" as displayed by the new luminary.

The banquet was a part of the program of the Nebraska Electrical association, which is convening in Omaha November 16-17. Forty delegates, comprising managers and electrical proprietors, are assembled for the purpose of formulating plans for the advancement of their line. The convention was opened by former President H. A. Holdredge in the conference room of the Union Pacific headquarters building. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mr. Byron Gothenburg; vice president, Mr. Smith of Exeter; secretary and treasurer, B. P. Egan of Nebraska City; and the executive committee is composed of W. S. Ross of Omaha, George Montgomery of Lincoln and A. E. Lashang of Lexington.

Church Bells Ring; Think Serbia Yields

BERLIN (Via London), Nov. 12.—Rumors that Serbia has applied for a separate peace suddenly have sprung into general circulation, but so far as can be ascertained they are without the slightest foundation.

The Associated Press, on investigating the rumors, found one amusing explanation of them. The bells of the Protestant churches had started pealing simultaneously and someone seeking the reason for this conjured the theory that it was the beginning of Serbian negotiations. The conjecture soon developed into a report, the fact being ignored that the bells were being rung on the occasion of the meeting of the synod of the Prussian Evangelical church.

LANSING SAYS WHITLOCK WILL RETURN TO BRUSSELS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Great Britain Lansing announced today that he expected American Minister Whitlock would return to Brussels, Belgium, after his vacation in the United States, thus setting definitely at rest reports that Mr. Whitlock would go to Havre, the present seat of the Belgian government.
