CAPITOL'S WEST WING MAY FALL

State Board Has Made Call for Estimates of Amount Required to Fix It Up.

KEPT THE SITUATION QUIET

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Plans have been drawn and a call for estimates made by the board in charge of the state house for the purpose of doing something to save the west wing of the ancient structure from falling down on top of the people who are seeking to earn their bread by the sweat of their brows working on the inside.

This is something entirely new and unlooked for in state house conditions. It has been known for several years that the east wing of the building was on the verge of collapse and considerable money has been laid out in an effort to keep the southeast corner from falling out, the foundation having already settled about eight inches, but nobody knew that the west wing was in a dangerous condition until about a week ago when a part of the foundation in the basement crumbled and fell inside.

Matter Kept Quiet. The matter was kept quiet by the board, but the fact that estimates had been asked for at this time indicates that the board considered the matter serious.

About $75,000 has been paid out in the last four or five years on the old shell in an attempt to get it in condition so that people who had taken a chance on a political job might have a show of serving their terms without having to call on the undertaker. Now it appears to be a pretty good chance that sometime, if something is not done pretty soon, the state may be called upon to pay heavy damages to the families of those who some day may be buried in the ruins of the shaky old building. It may need some such calamity to convince future legislatures that the state really needs a state house which may not be taken by visitors to be one of the old ruins found in Mexico moved to Nebraska.

Phone Consolidation.

L. E. Wilson of Columbus and E. M. Morseman of Omaha, representing the Bell Telephone company, with C. J. Garlow of Columbus, representing the Platte County Independent Telephone company, were holding a conference with the State Railway commission this morning looking to a consolidation of the two companies in Platte county, the Bell selling out to the Independent company. The conference was nothing more than an effort to find out what would be necessary in order to meet the approval of the commission in making the deal.

Gibson Resigns.

The state normal board has received the resignation of Prof. H. H. Gibson, of the department of biology and agriculture of the Kearney Normal school. Prof. Gibson resigns to accept a position with the Ames agricultural college of Iowa at salary about one-third more than he has been receiving at the Kearney school.

DR. WILD STILL HOLDS THE FORT AT LINCOLN

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—With a persistence worthy of a better cause, the State Board of Secretaries of the State Board of Health still persist that Dr. Wild, state bacteriologist, must pick up his duds and get out.

All attempts so far have been unsuccessful in convincing the state board that Dr. Wild should go and now they come again, with a proposition that they have a man who will work cheaper. That is, he will accept the same salary that Dr. Wild gets, but will use it to hire the help needed to run the office according to the wishes of the secretaries. However, according to all reports, the doctor's scalp will not be successful and he will continue to sit on the lid and keep the secretaries from getting their hands in the soup.

Dr. Wild this morning received a letter from the manager of the Nebraska City Water company denying that the water at Nebraska City is bad. He does not know where the Burlington official got his idea that the water was impure, but he says that they are following Dr. Wild's instructions and that the water is satisfactory to Nebraska City people and no kick coming. The board also received a petition signed by nine of the twelve doctors in Nebraska City asking the board in the interest of the health of the people to retain Dr. Wild in his present position.

SLIGHT ERROR IS MADE IN REPORT OF EXPORTS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Figures prepared by Mr. Steinhilber, giving the amount of exports yesterday should have read exports from Nebraska, instead of from the United States. Mr. Steinhilber prepares another table this morning giving the imports from other states into Nebraska during the same period from April 1 to November 1. The amounts do not include shipments of stock to public markets:

Stallions, 106; horses, 4,022; mares, 760; mules, 138; cattle, 5,023; dairy and breeding cattle, 914; sheep, 25,308; and swine, 6,818.

News Notes of Auburn.

AUBURN, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Albert Delong, residing at St. Deroine, in the extreme southeast corner of this county, was badly cut and wounded by the Kahora yesterday, and it was thought at first the wounds would prove fatal. He was stabbed in the neck, just missing the jugular vein, in the back and the shoulder. The last report is that he is likely to recover.

Miss Irene Tyler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Tyler, departed for California Tuesday. On her arrival at Modesto, Cal., she will be married to Neal Cecil, a prominent business man of that place.

Horses Founder on Wheat.

NORTH GEND, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Lux Bros., living four miles west of town, lost four good horses Friday morning and had three more that are very sick from overeating of wheat. This loss was caused by a rat which ran out and the horses found it before the owner did.

Heart of South Side Father Made Glad at Finding His Children

The heart of a father on the South Side is singing with joy today. For out of the slaughter house of Europe has come word that his five little children are safe and well, sheltered in the convent of St. Antonia, Antwerp, Belgium.

The happy father is Richard De Foot, West Q street. For more than a year he has tried in vain to get word of his children. He wrote to the convent where he had left them when, following the death of their mother, two years ago, he resolved to come to America to try to carve out a new fortune and make a home for the five motherless ones.

But, in the turmoil of war and carnage, his letters were evidently lost or undelivered, and the father knew not whether the little ones had gone to join their mother or were still in the world. About two months ago he came in to see Postmaster Wharton and laid his case sadly before him. The postmaster wrote to Secretary of State Lansing. After some further correspondence between Omaha and Washington the State department set its international machinery in motion to carry to five little ways the news that their father was living and thinking of them and to bring to an almost distracted father the news that his five little ones were alive and well.

Saturday came a cablegram which had been received by the State department from the convent. The male were too slow to carry such glad news and it was flashed in an instant across 3,000 miles of ocean and relayed on to Omaha.

Maurice and George and Rachel and Lionel and little Anna are safe and well. And Richard De Foot on the South Side is talking rapidly in a foreign tongue with many smiles and gestures, telling how his little children have been found by the great government of this good land. And he is planning to bring them over to live with him and go to school here on the South Side.

BROKEN BOW MAN SUES BURLINGTON RAILROAD

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Action for damages in the sum of $5,000 has been brought against the Burlington railroad by Nile Ferguson, a young man who was injured during the summer by the overturning of his auto. The accident occurred about three miles east of town. The petitioner is the son of Rev. Mr. Ferguson, pastor of the Christian church here. The case will be tried in the federal court, having been removed from the district court of Custer county to that tribunal. According to Mr. Ferguson's statement, he did not know there was a railroad, much less a crossing, in that section of the country.

There was no sign to indicate such a thing. He was within fifteen feet of the railroad crossing, when he noticed a train bearing down upon him. To save himself he jammed the wheel over, threw the car into a ditch and capsize it. As a result, he was in the hospital for several weeks.

Notes from Falls City.

FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—William Heutner, while sawing wood with a bus saw, caught his arm in such a manner as to loose his left hand, which was cut off above the wrist. A great deal of dirt got into the wound and lots of blood lost from the severing of blood vessels. Fear of blood poison caused the physicians in charge to administer serum today.

Lloyd Giannini, who moved with his family to the Miles ranch near Bern, Kan., was taken ill Monday and was hurried to the hospital at Sabetha, Kan., where he was operated upon for gall stones. The appendix was found to be in a bad condition and most ready to burst and it was removed also. He recovered from the anesthetic and seems to be doing well.

The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Beler, living near Preston, fell off a chair and broke her arm above the elbow, the bone protruding through the flesh. An anesthetic had to be administered before the break could be adjusted.

MURRAY FARMER BADLY INJURED BY EXCITED HORSE

AVOCA, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Joseph Hathaway, a farmer, living near Murray, came near losing his life this week from being trampled and kicked by a maddened horse. Mr. Hathaway had been butchering and his clothing was plentifully splattered with blood, and upon going into the barn, where his team was standing after dark, one of the horses became excited, presumably from the smell of the blood and in kicking and striking knocked Mr. Hathaway under its feet, where it trampled him in a vicious manner. His cries and a noise made by the horses brought help and the unfortunate man was rescued. Upon being examined by a physician he was found to have received a compound fracture of the ankle, the bones being splintered and protruding through the flesh and one arm badly fractured above the wrist and otherwise crushed and bruised. He was taken to Omaha and it is feared that one foot may have to be amputated.

Hermit Dies Near Ravenna.

RAVENNA, Neb., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Herman Meyer, an eccentric character, who has lived the life of a hermit near Ravenna for many years, died this morning. Being found sick and alone at his place by a neighbor several days ago, attention was given him and a physician called. This morning, on advice of the physician, preparations were made to bring him to town, where he might receive better attention. His bed was placed in a wagon, but Mr. Meyer died before they reached town. He was a German by birth, 65 or 70 years old, and often declared he had no relatives. He owned a small tract of sandy land and a few old horses.
