By FRED S. HUNTER.
LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The University of Nebraska won the Missouri Valley championship for the fifth consecutive year today, by defeating Kansas, 33 to 0. The Jayhawkers were no match for the peerless steam roller which invaded McCook field today, and with Chamberlain, Rutherford and company playing in their usual faultless style, the outcome was never in doubt.

Kansas put up a same fight in the first quarter, and its stone wall defense in the pinches prevented a Husker score. But in the second period the Scarlet and Cream athletes got down to business, with a vengeance, and the story was quickly told.

Score Early in Second.
The very first play in the second quarter netted the Cornhusker touchdown with the ball on the Kansas forty-five-yard line. Little Calley hurled a thirty-yard forward pass into the waiting arms of Corey. The big tackle juggled the pigskin the remaining fifteen yards to the goal line for a touchdown. He then booted the goal and the score stood 7 to 0, Nebraska.

Kansas tried to rally but her efforts were futile. Toward the last of the second period the Cornhusker machine rolled up another seven points. Receiving the ball following Lindsey's punt in the Kansas thirty-yard line, the field Huskers made a rush down the field, employing straight football tactics. Cook reeled off seven yards and Reeves five, after which Chamberlain scampered fifteen yards around left end. Reese covered five yards and Rutherford two, and Chamberlain made the remaining three yards to the goal line. Corey's faithful foot added another point on the goal kick, and the half ended with the score 14 to 0, Nebraska.

Two Tackles in Third.
The third quarter was a repetition of the second with Steinh's men counting twice. After the kickoff, Nebraska rushed the ball to the Jayhawk twenty-yard line, when Reese fumbled and Kansas recovered. Lindsey's punt went to Cook, who had taken Calley's place at quarterback on Nebraska's twenty-yard line mark. Cook returned the punt thirty yards before he was downed with the ball on the forty-five-yard line. Guy Chamberlain made the longest run of the game, by skirting the Jayhawk left wing for forty-five yards and a touchdown. Corey missed the goal. Score: Nebraska, 21; Kansas, 0.

A few minutes later the Huskers made their fourth touchdown. Lindsey failed in an attempt at drop kick, and Cook caught the ball on his own five-yard line. He ran the ball back to the thirty-seven-yard line. Rutherford and Otoupolik made first downs. Gardiner hit the line for eight and Otoupolik's plunges netted three.

Chamberlain and Rutherford.
Chamberlain circled the end for twelve and Rutherford hit the line for five, following which he broke through for a twelve-yard gain. In two the plunges Gardiner went over for the touchdown. Corey kicked the goal, making the total at the end for the third period, 27 to 0, Nebraska.

The final touchdown came in the final quarter, right after the period opened. The ball was on Kansas' thirty-yard line. Corey's tackle around was good for five yards, and Gardiner made two. Rutherford plunged for six, Chamberlain added eight yards and Gardiner made first down, putting the ball on the Jayhawk five-yard mark. Rutherford made a four-yard gain and then carried the ball over for the last score of the contest. Chamberlain dropped the ball on a kickoff. Corey did not get a chance at

Dakotas Battle to Nothing-to-Nothing Upon a Snowy Field

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 13.—The season's first snow spoiled the field, the wet ball slipped through cold fingers for numerous fumbles and every condition was lacking for good foot ball when South Dakota and North Dakota state universities fought here today to a 0 to 0 score.

South Dakota exhibited skill superior to its heavier opponents, outplaying them in every department that could be demonstrated under the conditions, gaining through the North Dakota line continually and once in the third quarter threatening the goal, being inside the five-yard line for four downs. The ball was in North Dakota territory most of the game. Parlin's end runs and perfect passes to Vidal on the run featured South Dakota's tactics. North Dakota line continued defense at critical moments prevented scoring. Lineup:

Notre Dame's Dazzling Play Overcomes Creighton, 41 to 0

Notre Dame's wonderful foot ball machine proved too much for Creighton and the hilltop aggregation, though fighting to the bitter end, went down to defeat by the score of 41 to 0. The visitors displayed a dazzling exhibition of foot ball, and while the locals manfully did their best, the Indiana marvels did better, and the score tells the tale. Creighton at times was remarkably strong on defense and on several occasions held the Hoosiers for downs, but as a general rule the visiting backs romped through the line or around end for five to fifteen yards with regularity.

The first score came early in the game. Creighton had kicked off to Bachman and held the Hoosiers for downs. Coffall punned to Nigro, who fumbled. Notre Dame recovering. A lateral pass, Bachman to Coffall, took the ball over, but the visitors were off-side and were penalized five yards. The next play, however, an unexpected criss-cross, scored the touchdown.

Creighton lost the ball on downs after the next kickoff, and Notre Dame soon scored again, after Coffall, Bergman and Bachman had carried the oval to the posts. Coffall scored the touchdown on a long end run while on the three-yard line.

In the second quarter a forward pass to Captain Fitzgerald gave Notre Dame thirty yards, and a lateral pass, Bachman to Coffall, put the pigskin over the chalk line for another seven points, goal being kicked.

In this period Creighton came within an inch of scoring. After receiving a kickoff Platz and Flanagan twice made first down for the locals. Platz then sent a long throw to Nigro, who skipped twenty-five yards before being downed. Another pass put the ball on the one-yard line, with four downs in which to score. Four times the Blues tried to gain that yard and each time Notre Dame held their stonewall line never budging an inch. This was the closest Creighton came to scoring. Coffall punning out of danger on the next down.

Two more touchdowns were added to Notre Dame's count in the third quarter, while the last really came early in the fourth period. Phelan slipping over the line after Coffall had advanced the leather down the field.

Without a question Notre Dame put up a wonderful game. Coffall tore through big holes opened in the Creighton line for five and ten yards, time after time, or followed irresistible interference on long end runs for equal gains. Miller, Coffall's understudy and substitute, was a regular speed demon and closely rivaled the other back's performances. Whenever Coffall or Miller needed a rest, Bergman and Bach were called upon, and these heroes demonstrated their ability in the same manner.

Speed and teamwork seemed to be the keynote of Harper's machine. The man who carried the ball was off in a flash, behind perfect interference, and with no letup until brought to a stop by two or even three opposing players. Captain Fitzgerald tore great gaps in the Creighton line, through which his backs sped with ease, and on defense Fitz as well as his teammates were practically invincible.

Creighton did succeed in making its yards on more than one occasion, nevertheless, and pulled a few forward passes

Base Ball Luminaries to Be in Omaha Tuesday in the Guise of Trapshooters

Harry Davis, Christy Mathewson, Chief Bender and Otis Crandall to Show at Omaha Gun Club.

COMBS TROPHY SHOOT ON CARD

Big delicias are on the schedule for the Omaha Gun club Tuesday. For that day Harry Davis, Christy Mathewson, Chief Bender and Otis Crandall, four famous base ball players, will take part in a trap shoot at the club, and Harry Philson, the well known shot of Leola, Neb., and Henry McDonald of Omaha will shoot for the possession of the T. L. Combs trophy, which is now in the possession of the latter.

The four above mentioned trap shooting ball players will, with George Rogers, compete against a five-man team of the Omaha Gun club. The club's team will be made up of Henry McDonald, captain; Ray C. Kingsley, Don C. McCown, Bert Dixon and George Rodick. The five Omahans named are all crack shots and will give the ball players a run for their money.

The Philson-McDonald match will be the result of a challenge from Philson. The Leigh man made an official challenge last week and will deposit the required fee with the Townsend Gun company of Omaha.

The Omaha Gun club plans to make Tuesday's shoot one of the big events of the year and has issued a general invitation to all shooters to take part. It will be an all-day shoot and anybody and everybody who plugs the blue rocks is invited to participate. It is expected that 100 shooters from all over Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota will come here for the event.

AMES AGS CRUSH IOWA UNIVERSITY

Farmers Become Foot Ball Champions of Hawkeye State by Winning, 16 to 0.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND SEE GAME

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Playing superior foot ball in all except the second quarter, Ames handed Iowa a 16 to 0 drubbing this afternoon, and captured the state championship. The Iowa line resembled a sieve, and the Cyclone backs filtered through time and again for pronounced gains. Not until the Aggies had rushed the ball close to the goal line did the Old Gold forwards display any kind of real foot ball. Five times they were called upon to throw off the Cyclone onslaughts within the shadow of their own goal posts, three times successfully.

Moos, the brilliant Ames pilot, was the outstanding star of the game. He brought the huge crowd of 15,000 which witnessed the contest to its feet repeatedly with sensational openfield dashes. Once he captured a punt in midfield and raced fifty yards to a touchdown. On other occasions he ripped the Hawkeye line for big gains. He also played a prominent part in the terrific plunging, which Mayer's eleven resorted to.

Garretson played a strong defensive game for Iowa, while Laun and Donnelly were the most consistent ground gainers for the Hawkeyes. Gross was able to break away but twice during the game, once for a twenty-yard sprint and again for a thirty-yard run around left end.

Only in the second quarter did the Iowa

Illini Down Wisconsin in Game in Which They Outclass Visitors.

SEVENTEEN TO THREE SCORE

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 13.—The University of Illinois defeated Wisconsin today, 17 to 3, by playing hard consistent foot ball.

The Illini team plainly outclassed the visitors and only once was the Illinois goal in danger.

In the early part of the game each team fumbled badly.

Fogus, the star Illinois back, was used effectively during his stay in the game, but did not show his accustomed speed.

Yale Upsets All the Dope by Walloping the Princeton Tigers

Tigers Lose Contest at Very Start of Third by Tibbott's Muff and Way's Dash.

NASSAU PLAYS DESPERATELY

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 13.—The Yale eleven won from Princeton here this afternoon, 13 to 7. No gridiron classic of recent years has furnished greater thrills, individual playing prowess on both sides, than this triumph of the Blue over the Orange and Black.

It was a case of a powerful foot ball combination just beginning to find itself, overwhelming by brute strength an eleven far more finished in playing tactics, but lacking the ability to cope with a Yale eleven fighting desperately. As a team, the Princeton machine was superior to the Blue, but the smooth Tiger juggernaut was tipped apart by a Bulldog squad game berserk.

Gridiron heroes rose and fell during the struggle, but none reached the heights attained by Otis L. Guernsey, whose clever field goal kicking paved the way for a Yale victory. Twice in the second period Guernsey drove the ball through the Tiger goal posts, when Captain Wilson of the Yale team found that the eleven as a whole was unequal to the task of taking the spheroid across 125 opponents' line. Both drop-kicks were made from near midfield and the performance of the Greenwich, Conn., player won him a place among the kicking stars of foot ball.

"Pie" Way, pitcher of the Blue babe ball team, shared the glory of the victory with Guernsey, for it was his fortune to scoope up a fumbled punt by Tibbott and race across the goal line for Yale's only touchdown of the game and the first that the Elis have made in the last two contests.

GOPHERS TRAMPLE MAROONS IN SNOW

Stagg's Warriors Defeated on Northrup Field by the Score of Twenty to Seven.

MINNESOTA HOLDS CHICAGOANS

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—The University of Minnesota foot ball team took another step toward the Big Nine conference championship today by defeating the University of Chicago, 20 to 7, on a snow covered field. The Gophers' attack was consistently powerful, while their defense was virtually impenetrable when the Maroons threatened the Minnesota goal.

Three touchdowns—one each in the first, third and fourth periods—and two goals from touchdowns represented the Minnesota score, while Chicago counted a touchdown by Agar and a subsequent goal by Shull in the second session.

Outplayed in the line the Chicago backs had difficulty in getting away on end runs, although Captain Russell and Cahm brought the Chicago rosters to their feet several times by brilliant dashes. Russell was easily the visitor's star, and although outplayed by Quist, his returns of the Gophers' kicks evened matters in this department.

Captain Bierman's return to the Gopher lineup, after two weeks absence was suspicious, his clever work both on the offensive and defensive being in the success of his team. Long, Wyman and Ballentyne gave splendid support to their leader.

Nearly 15,000 persons saw the game.

Maroons Win Toss.
Chicago won the toss and received the kickoff. Minnesota forced a punt and then from its thirty-yard line started a crushing attack. Bierman led the assault, which was aided by two ten-yard runs, although Captain Russell and Cahm brought the Chicago rosters to their feet several times by brilliant dashes. Emergency Coach Tom Shevlin are the heroes of both town and gown. For Princeton, nothing remains but the memory of a season that started in a blaze of glory and closed in the bitterness of unexpected defeat by both Yale and Harvard. Close to 5,000 spectators thronged into the Yale foot ball arena, filling the circular tiers of seats until only one or two bare spots showed in the great grand amphitheater. The weather and the gridiron conditions were perfect.

Tigers Win Toss.
First Period: Princeton won the toss and chose the north goal. Guernsey kicked off to the fifteen-yard line, Shea coming back twenty yards. On the first down Driggs punted to Yale's twenty-yard mark, Guernsey returning ten yards. Using the wing shift Yale made a first down. Guernsey punted, Glick muffed and Sheldon recovered for Yale on the Tiger's twenty-eight-yard line.

Princeton made eight on a shift and Guernsey made it a first down on the thirteen-yard line. Here Princeton held and Guernsey tried for a field goal. The kick was half blocked, Shea getting it. Driggs punted and Wilson tumbled on Yale's forty-yard line to Highley, who ran to the Blue twenty-eight-yard mark. Yale's defense also held in the crisis, and Tibbott missed a field goal. Yale scrambled, but failed to gain and Guernsey's punt was hurried so that it shot straight up. It was Princeton's ball on Yale's twenty-eight-yard line. Shea threw a forward pass over the line for another touchdown.

Yale kicked and on a fake punt Driggs made twenty-five yards. Tibbott hit the line for five and Shea for fourteen yards, but Tibbott fumbled on the next play. An exchange of punts drove the Blue back to the ten-yard line. M. Wilson, a brother of the Yale captain, replaced Highley for Princeton. Wilson lost a yard on a fake punt as the period ended without a score.

Both Score in Second Period.
Second period: Guernsey opened the period with a punt to Princeton's forty-yard mark. Shea and Driggs made a first down and then, on a delayed pass, Driggs ran to the twenty-eight-yard line. A fumble and a bad pass lost the Tiger's nine yards. Then Van Nostrand returned a forward pass on his own ten-yard line and ran thirty-five yards. The wing shift made a first down, but Driggs spoiled a forward pass. Guernsey stood on his forty-five-yard mark and drop-kicked fifty-five yards for a goal.
