

BULGARS BEGIN NEW OFFENSIVE

Fears Expressed in London that New Arrivals May Not Be Strong Enough to Hold Bulgars.

RUSSIAN REPORTS CONFLICTING

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The exact situation in central Macedonia is uncertain. Dispatches from the near east are conflicting and doubt as to the time of events to which they refer injects an additional element of uncertainty. It is clear, however, that the Bulgarians have been reinforced and have begun a new offensive.

The operations in central Macedonia, according to Rome accounts, present a most powerful menace to the armies of Serbia and its allies, which are operating from Tetovo through Perlepe to the southeastern Serbian frontier. Telegrams received almost simultaneously from Greece announce that Tetovo is in the hands of both the Serbians and the Bulgarians, but the preponderance of evidence points to Bulgarian occupation of this front.

Monastir Again in Danger. The Bulgarians are making desperate efforts to force their way through Katchank Pass in the direction of Pristina. They are also attempting to advance from Tetovo to Perlepe and Monastir and by forcing Babuna Pass, to reach Perlepe from the other side. These operations are said to have placed Monastir again in danger.

It is not at present a problem whether the newly arrived French and British forces are large enough to meet this Bulgarian onslaught, which apparently has begun with extraordinary vigor.

What Greece will do in event the allied troops are forced back over the Greek border is still a matter of speculation. A message from Greece says the government will extend to the Serbians the same privileges as those accorded to the French and British in case of their encroachment on Greek territory, but in view of the fact that no definite announcement has been made as to what these privileges will be, further than the original statement of Premier Skouliadis that the allied troops would be permitted to reach the sea unmolested, the intentions of Greece remain obscure.

Conflicting Reports from Russia. On the Galician front the Russians, while admitting they have yielded some ground in the neighborhood of the Strzforta, do not concede they have been forced back across the river, as is claimed in the German official communication of yesterday.

Further details of this fighting will be necessary to determine whether the Russians have lost the town of Czortorysk, and whether Russian control of the Kovel-Berny railway is thereby endangered.

King Peter on the Firing Line. BEALONIKI, Nov. 14.—(Via Paris, Nov. 14.)—King Peter of Serbia, despite his advanced age, is fighting with his soldiers in the trenches, clad in the uniform of a private, according to M. Jacowaschew, secretary of the Russian legation in Greece, who arrived here today from Mitrovitz, western Serbia, having come by way of Albania.

The aged king seeks death according to the Russian diplomat, saying: "When I am killed you can flee or surrender." Old Serbia is lost and new Serbia is in a precarious condition, in the opinion of the secretary, who asserted the Serbians at Babuna Pass could not hold out much longer and that the only hope was that Serbian force concentrated at Mitrovitz would prove to be strong enough to take the offensive and advance through Tetovo toward Monastir.

"The morals of the Serbians is splendid," he continued. "Half trained recruits march to battle singing like veterans. Famine and misery prevail. There is no bread at Mitrovitz. The people are reduced to eating haricots." Greece Modifies Its Position. LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Greek government is reported to have modified its position somewhat in favor of the entente allies. The correspondent at Athens of the Exchange Telegraph company says it has decided that in the event of a retreat of the allies to Greek soil Serbian troops will be placed on the same footing as the British and French. Premier Skouliadis originally proposed to permit the French and British to reach the sea without interference from the Greeks, but to disarm Serbians who crossed the border. The change is due, the correspondent says, to formidable objections raised by the French minister at Athens. However, it still remains for Greece to define its position clearly. Designation of a neutral zone has been suggested.

LACK OF PRICE OF MEAL SAVES GIRL

Daughter of Lincoln Physician Unable to Go to Restaurant Wrecked by Tornado.

GOES HUNGRY, BUT STILL LIVES

Saved by the lack of the price of a meal was the fate of Miss Helen Hayes of Great Bend, Kan., daughter of Dr. N. Hayes of Lincoln, in a recent tornado.

For some time Miss Hayes has been employed as a society writer on a paper at Great Bend. Because the railroad reporter was away at the moment, Miss Hayes was sent to the railway station to meet the trains. Ordinarily she went to her boarding house about that time of day for her evening meal, but this time she was away down by the depot at supper time. She looked across the street to a small restaurant.

"I'll not go home for supper this evening," she said to herself. "I'll just slip across to the restaurant and get a bite to eat."

She opened her purse. There was a handkerchief, she pulled that out. There was also a small mirror. She took that out. There was a piece of chamois skin with a little pink powder on it. She clawed that out, and maybe polished her nose a little.

Unable to Go to Restaurant

But money was a scarce article. Down in the corner of the handbag she found a nickel she had saved for street car fare. That was not enough to get her supper. "Nothing doing," she said to herself. "I'll not eat supper at all. I'll wait until I get home."

By this time it was raining. She looked out of the depot window at the splash, splash on the streets. The wind began to blow. She watched the wind drive the rain in great writhing, twisting serpents of mist down the street.

Then suddenly the heavens grew black. The sky came down like a big black hat shutting everybody in. The crash came. There was a roaring that drowned the roar of the trains for a moment, and all was over.

Across the street the little restaurant

where momentary poverty prevented her from being at that minute, was only a wrecked and tangled heap of kindling wood, literally blown to toothpicks, while there was important business in digging the killed and injured out of the wreckage.

ARMOUR COMPANY APPEALS DAMAGE SUIT

LINCOLN, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—The Armour Packing company of Omaha has appealed to the supreme court from a judgment secured in the Douglas county district court by Fil Drigovich in the amount of $2,125. The plaintiff sued for $20,000 alleging that he was permanently injured when an elevator in which he was riding fell from the second story to the shipping floor. A truck which was being carried up at the same time projected out striking the doorway at the entrance on the second floor, breaking the cable and letting the cage drop. The plaintiff contended that had the elevator been equipped with safety catches it could not have dropped and he would not have been injured.

D. W. Griffith's Mighty Spectacle and Eighth Wonder of the World

There are over 5,000 distinct scenes in "The Birth of a Nation."
Eighteen thousand people and 3,000 horses were utilized in making the narrative.
Mr. Griffith worked for eight months without a let up to complete the picture.
The production cost over $500,000.00. The women's dresses of the period of 1860 used up 12,000 yards of cloth. Over 25,000 yards of white material used in the costumes of the Ku Klux Klans.
Two hundred seamstresses worked for two months to make these costumes.
Nearly 200,000 feet of film was originally taken. The performance lasts two hours and forty-five minutes with one six-minute intermission. Evenings, 8:15; Matinees, 2:15.

Five thousand works and reports on history of the Civil War searched for authentic data.
Ford's Theater, Washington, reproduced to the smallest detail.
Ten thousand dollars a day was paid for the use of an entire county in order to reproduce the wild rides of the Klansmen.
A commissary and two hospital corps were maintained while the pictures were being taken. Not a human life was lost.
A musical score of twenty-five pieces synchronized to several thousand individual scenes.
