ANTI-BRYAN DEMS ANGRY AT WILSON

Some Talk at Lincoln of Notifying President He Must Lay Off or Lose Nebraska Vote.

DISLIKE EVIDENT FRIENDSHIP

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Now what do you think of this? More harmony in the democratic party. An organization is being formed in Lincoln which may later take on state-wide range, according to well authenticated rumors, that has for its object serving notice on President Woodrow Wilson that if he is going to continue to knock down to one William Jennings Bryan and toady to his ways of thinking that he may expect no support from the anti-Bryan democrats in Nebraska and will find the road mighty rough to a second nomination. Certain democrats whose names are household words in many democratic homes in this state, are behind the organization and have already perfected the plans which are expected to be sprung within a very few days. So intense is the feeling against the president because of his "knuckling down to Bryan" as they call it, that talk of a Democratic Hughes club for Nebraska has been suggested if the present administration continues to cater to the grape juice statesman. To the average politician the above would look like a mighty vapory pipe dream, but it is only necessary to meander around the hotel lobby at the Lindell most any evening to see plenty of evidence that the dream so-called is liable to be one of the most substantial realities that ever crept into a political situation. Substantial democrats, men high in the councils of the party and men who have for years supported Mr. Bryan, but have during the last year or so become so disgusted with his acts, are within the inner circle of the new organization and are cut with their political guns loaded to the muzzle to keep the Bryan crowd from getting any further control of the party.

Bernecker Trying To Induce Assessors To Raise the Values

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Secretary Bernecker of the State Board of Assessment is preparing a letter to be sent out to county assessors and county boards to bring out a more uniform assessment of real estate and other property in the state. In 1916 will occur the reassessment of real estate, which is made every four years, and the secretary sees the need of organization along the lines of a more equitable valuation. His letter is as follows: In order to have a just and uniform assessment the county assessor must take charge and supervise the real estate assessment of your county. It is the duty of the county assessor to jointly visit with adjoining county assessors the lands in the county lines and place a value on each side of the county line. After values are established on county lines he should go over each precinct together with the precinct assessor to place values on the real estate, and to see that uniform values be placed on lands on a line so that equal lands will carry the same values on each side of the precinct lines. The traveling expenses for this work must be paid by the county, and should be cheerfully allowed by the county board. This will be the only system to have a uniform value over the entire state, and all aid and help you can give your county assessor will be for a good cause. It would be a fine thing if each member of the board would be out with the county assessor in your respective district to assist in getting uniform values. Then your property valuation on real estate would only be a formality. This work of valuing real estate should be completed by August 1st. The work should begin shortly after New Year.

Field notes should be prepared at once by the county assessor so that he can start his work after the new year, using the best days to be out and taking land values. Property in cities and villages must also be viewed by county assessor and precinct assessor so that values be more uniform of villages and cities of a like nature. The meetings over the state held with the county assessors were a success in every way. The work of starting the real estate assessment after January 1 was agreed upon to be dated and completed by April 1. This will greatly assist you in completing it in time, as required by law. You should appear before your county board at their regular meeting in January and ask for the necessary allowance for help, so that you can devote your whole time to the precinct assessors and their work. Thus you will secure a just valuation all over your county. See to it that all personal property is listed. The basis of actual assessed value agreed upon is 75 per cent of sales value taken all over the state. If this is done we will have an assessed value of which you all can be proud. The State Board of Equalization and Assessment will assist you through their secretary whenever possible.

BROTHER FRACTURES SKULL OF BROTHER AT REYNOLDS

FAIRBURY, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Walter Parker, familiarly known as "Buck" living in Reynolds in the southwest part of this county in a quarrel with his brother, Carl, last night, slashed him over the head with the axle bar of a spring wagon, inflicting possibly fatal wounds. Parker is in the county jail at Fairbury. The younger brother is in a precarious condition at the home of Dr. Ammerman, his brother-in-law, and from evidence obtained by Sheriff Hughes his skull is fractured. The elder Parker told Mr. Hughes that Carl fired at him and showed him the revolver as evidence. The trouble between the brothers is said to have arisen over an insignificant matter and it is said both were under the influence of liquor at the time.

LEXINGTON MAN BUILDS NEW TYPE OF BIPLANE

LEXINGTON, Neb., Nov. 16.—The McCabe biplane, piloted by Ernest McCabe, of Chicago, who has much to say as to its possibilities, made a twelve-minute flight Monday evening, from the Allen stock farm landing, within the city limits. The machine circled gracefully and attained an altitude of over 700 feet. The aeroplanes, which is of a new type, was designed and built by Ernest McCabe, a Lexington young man, who has experimented for some years, and has developed this machine, which shows stability and control.

One of Omaha's "Beauty" Spots is Close to the Boulevard on North Side

Citizens Complain of the "Dump" Maintained at Thirtieth and Cuming Streets.

SAY THAT IT BREEDS DISEASE

The accompanying illustration is not a scene of a European battlefield after an engagement. It is a picture of the "scenic route" near Thirtieth and Cuming streets, just south of the latter street. Riding along in a limousine, or in any form of the modern gasoline-propelled vehicles, the passerby may behold this spectacle. The tract is owned by a pioneer Omaha man who was arrested last spring on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, more properly described as a stagnant body of water which was a breeding place for mosquitoes and flies and where frogs croaked through the livelong night. Residents declared the nights seemed interminable when the frogs croaked and the mosquitoes operated. The sunken garden, with its green-covered pond, was filled in, and all sorts of junk has been hauled to this place. Today it looks as if the earth had opened up and speared forth an assortment of decrepit furniture, cans and other material. The health commissioner appeared before the city council last summer and reported that nothing unsanitary was being hauled to this place. Every now and then a complaint is made to the city council, and every now and then the owner is told to abate the nuisance. Some one suggested that perhaps the new City Planning board will take cognizance of this situation, or it might be referred to the new Welfare board.

Fuldorf, Grand Island, and L. P. Wahlstrom, Wahoo. The board of directors will elect the officers of the association.

KNAPP SAYS ORGANIZATION WILL WIN FOR NEBRASKA

LINCOLN, Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Predicting that Nebraska will become one of the most prominent manufacturing centers, F. S. Knapp of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Manufacturers' association, gave the opening address of the association here today. All that is needed to make it so is organization, was the opinion of the Omaha man. There are over 100 manufacturers of the state in attendance at the session, which opened today and will continue until tomorrow afternoon, when the officers will be elected. Speakers this afternoon were Stanley H. Ross, special representative of the Department of Commerce at Washington; Frank M. Coffey, state labor commissioner, and William Steckleberg, assistant engineer of the State Board of Irrigation, who has charge of the state paving around the state farm. In the latter part of the afternoon the association inspected the convict camp where the men from the penitentiary are putting in paving around the university farm. In the evening a banquet was tendered the delegates by the Lincoln Commercial club. The Nebraska association ranks third in size of the association of the United States, according to Frank I. Ringer, commissioner of the association, and first in the ratio of its membership compared to the number of manufacturers in the state.

The Habit of Taking Cold. With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not too cold, but a temperature of about 30 degrees F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

THE SMOOTHEST SMOKING TOBACCO

An ounce of proof is worth a ton of argument. A pipe of VELVET proves more than a page of print. So try some VELVET in the court of last resort —yo' pipe.

There are two ways to mature tobacco—the natural way and the artificial way. Which way best retains the aroma and flavor of the leaf? We vote in favor of Nature's way. That is why every ounce of VELVET must age in hogsheads for not less than two years. There is no mystery about how VELVET gets its smoothness and rich mellowness. It is all a matter of aging. Anyone with our experience and facilities can produce VELVET, provided they are willing to go to the expense and take the time. We believe the extra time, money and patience expended on VELVET is more than worth while. But you are the judge and jury. We believe your verdict will be in favor of VELVET—the tobacco matured Nature's way.' It also features an image of a 'Velvet' tobacco tin and the text 'Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. Nebraska EXPOUNDS STORAGE LAWS

Food Commissioner Harman Tells What Dealers Must Conform to in Nebraska.

CHANCE TO SAVE LITTLE CASH

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—For the benefit of people who are interested in cold storage, Food Commissioner Harman has prepared a statement which will be interesting, not only to the cold storage people, but to the consumer, inasmuch as it gives some information which may help along the line of the "high cost of living." The statement reads: "The Nebraska cold storage food law provides that it shall be unlawful to sell, offer or expose for sale, articles of food which have been held in cold storage without notifying persons purchasing the same that the law further provides that it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh foods articles of food which have been held in cold storage. "Wholesalers or operators of cold storage as required to brand all containers with a serial number and the date of entry and withdrawal on each and every package or container in which foods are held, distributed or sold, containing cold storage food. The wholesaler or cold storage operator when selling cold storage foods to merchants or others must designate on the invoice or bill said foods as cold storage foods. "Each retail merchant or other person when selling cold storage food, in other than original containers, must mark or brand the new container with the words 'cold storage food,' or notify the purchaser by writing or branding on the sale slip the words 'cold storage food.' "This information is being given out for the benefit of the purchasing public as well as for the benefit of the dealers. There is some difference in the price usually charged between cold storage foods and fresh foods, and the cold storage law is such that it protects the purchaser against unscrupulous handling and selling of cold storage foods. "At this time of year some fresh foods are scarce on the market, and cold storage foods must take their place, but the public should have the advantage of the difference in the price. Many articles of food that are stored in cold storage are just as good for food purposes as fresh foods, but the public has been misled by various means to believe that cold storage foods were either not good or not of the best. Decidedly to the contrary is true. If every consumer would give the matter some attention during the winter months they would find that they would be money ahead and just as well satisfied."
