

ANCONA FIRED ON WITHOUT WARNING

Italian Report Says Shell Against Wireless Apparatus First Notice to the Captain.

SHIP IS STOPPED AT ONCE

NAPLES, Nov. 18.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The official report of the investigation into the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona by a submarine off the Tunisian coast, it was announced, was sent to Thomas Nelson Page, the United States ambassador at Rome, tonight. The investigation reached the conclusion that the submarine fired a shell against the vessel immediately to a halt.

Charity Federation For Omaha is Urged By Welfare Committee

A movement looking toward the federation of the various charities in Omaha and the installation of a budget system of handling finances, has been started. A committee to consult with the heads of the various charities in Omaha with regard to such a plan was appointed at a meeting by the welfare committee of the Commercial club.

NEW SHRINERS BOW AT THEIR TEMPLE

(Continued from Page One.) The candidates appeared and after being cautioned to obey every instruction to the letter, the initiation was started. At this point the doors of the building were closed to the public and after that, what happened to the candidates will never be known to any except themselves, the officers of the order and the shriners who were spectators, for none of them will ever tell.

SIX MORE BODIES TAKEN FROM MINE NEAR SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—The bodies of six men were recovered from the Northwestern Improvement company's mine at Ravensdale last night and early today, making fifteen recovered in all, and leaving sixteen bodies in the mine, in which a dust explosion occurred Tuesday. It was almost certain all bodies would be out before night.

MUDGE TAKES CHARGE OF THE RIO GRANDE ROAD

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 19.—H. U. Mudge, newly elected president of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company, arrived today to take personal direction of the company affairs.

Went to hospital. C. E. Blanchard, postmaster at Blanchard, Cal., writes: "I had kidney trouble and I had to go to the hospital. Foley Kidney Pills were recommended to me and they completely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of them." Sufferers in every state have had similar benefit from this standard remedy for kidney and bladder ailments. It banishes backache, stiff joints, swollen muscles and all the various symptoms of weakened or diseased kidneys. Sold everywhere.

Maloney Goes for Hauser After Wichita Agrees to Cut Money Demanded to $1,085

Do you know this man? Have you ever seen him anywhere? If so, where? When? Under what circumstances?

The picture is the latest and best photo of Arthur Hauser, alias Buck Weaver, degenerate desperado, charged with terrible crimes that caused half a dozen cities to seek him.

In order to assure the proper administration of justice, the authorities are anxious to get in touch with everyone who came in contact with Hauser while he was in Omaha waging his campaign of crime.

Thus far it is a mystery where Hauser lived while in Omaha. This picture is printed in the hope that some hotel clerk, some rooming house proprietor, street car conductor or any other citizen who might possibly have rubbed elbows with the desperado, will come forward and throw more light on Hauser's actions in Omaha.

The picture printed here is one taken in Indianapolis the day after his arrest there. It is said to be an exceptionally faithful likeness, in fact, the first really good picture local police have yet seen.

His neck is short and thick; his ears appear to be the lobes of an animal; his prominent, fan-like teeth, low forehead, small, beady eyes, and lastly, his gorilla-like arms of unusual length, all combine to give one an impression that he is an ape, rather than a human being, his victims told the police before his capture.

Chief Dunn announces that the Wichita authorities have agreed to turn Arthur Hauser over to the Omaha police upon payment of $1,085, which is a reduction from the original demand of $1,500.

My Ole Cob Pipe. Velvety. As a pipe improves with age, and by no other way, so the best that is in tobacco can be brought out only by time. All tobacco is matured to some extent, but VELVET is matured thoroughly. And the smoothness from which VELVET takes its name is the result. Fragrance VELVET has, and all the qualities of good tobacco. Yet VELVET'S natural mildness is made even mellow by its more than two years' ageing. The economy of VELVET'S slow-burning may not mean a great deal to you, but it is certainly no drawback. No quick artificial process gives VELVET these qualities. Time alone makes VELVET mellow. Panama-Pacific Exposition's highest award—The Grand Prize—has been awarded to VELVET "for its superior quality." 10c Tins 5c Metal-lined Bags One Pound Glass Humidors
