The Greatest Requisite to Real Health Is

GOOD TEETH

And the best Christmas present and one you'll remember the rest of your life would be to have YOUR TEETH put in A-1 condition. Without good teeth, which are necessary to properly fletcherize all foods, you soon contract indigestion, dyspepsia, because of foods not being thoroughly masticated.

Reason It Out for Yourself!

The aforesaid are real facts and real logic and it behooves you to preserve your teeth and your health by so doing.

Good Teeth Today—
Good Health Tomorrow
And the cost of good teeth is comparatively small when you consider how essential they are.

Christmas Every Day

Can you sit down to your Christmas dinner secure in the unseen and affection of your loved ones—strong in the mental and bodily efficiency that assures for those loved ones years of happiness, comfort, security?
If so, you're lucky. Many a man can't say as much. Many a household today is under a shadow—the usual of a strong drink has worked a sadening change in husband, father, son, slightly little room for Christmas Day in a home like that. Instead—anguish, hardship and the cruel uncertainty known to the family of one who drinks.
You know the picture's true; you want to play the man among men. And what's the real truth about this craving that won't let you lead the sort of life that's worth while?
Time was when the man who drank to excess was the target of mere pity, even of contempt. Folks all said he could stop if he really wanted to.
Then came a man who cured all this.
The man was Dr. Leslie E. Keeley. "The habit of strong drink is a bodily disease," he said, "and I can cure it."
Since then we've cured over 400,000 men and women at the Keeley Institute. We've taken away their craving for liquor and drugs and sent them home feeling better in every way.
There's not one single reasonable doubt that the Keeley Cure will do for you what it has done for others. Thirty or two years of making good prove it.
Nothing keeps you from perfect freedom when you realize that your craving is simply a disease. Like any other disease it needs—not scolding, not moralizing—but the best possible treatment, without a day's delay.
Why don't you write today for information about this sure way to liberty and health? All printed matter coming to you in plain sealed envelope. Receipt of your letter is held secretly confidential.
Make every day a real day of Christmas—a day of freedom from the habit that burts you and yours.
Look round you today for a friend or relative, a neighbor or employe whom you can set free from the grip of liquor or drugs—by one generous act that restores the saving power of the Keeley Treatment.
