OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET which was included in the offerings sold

The lamb trade proved pretty much of a drag all through, but by midday a fair clearance was made at prices that ranged right around 15c lower than Tuesday. Nothing sold over $8.90, and most of the lambs were bought at $8.50, with two or three sales at $8.55.

Feeders were in small supply, but in the lamb division weights ran from medium to fairly heavy, and practically nothing had been sold up to noon. About the only kind of feeding lambs that are sure of attracting attention now are the light ones, and while heavier stuff may sell fairly well some days the demand is very slack. A string of weighty feeding yearlings that has been here since "Nesday was still in first hands at a late hour today. One lead of the fattest ones had been topped out by a packer at $1.35. Foreign Selling of Standard Shares and Heaviness in Specialties Depress.

U. S. STEEL GOES A-TUMBLING

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Foreign selling of standard securities and pronounced heaviness in specialties served to depress prices substantially in today's market. Creighton Band Men Seeking Letters Efforts are being made on the part of letters similar to the foot ball emblems awarded to the musicians in recognition of their services. The contemplated design is a "C" entwined in a lyre. A committee composed of Waldo Shillington, arts department; Splitter, pharmacy college; Theissen, dents; Kawa-leski law school, conferred with President McMenemy on the subject, the project being favorably received by the university head, although no definite action was taken.

The band is this year under the leadership of Mr. Mullins, a juntor in the dental college, and played at all the foot ball games. The musicians are also counted upon to furnish music at Creighton's basket ball contests, in recognition of which services it is likely that the letters will be granted. Eighteen of the players are professional musicians.

The pictures were taken by the Nebraska Conservation commission and are for exhibition free in any part of the state on payment merely of the expense. John L. McCague, president of the Commercial club, in an address of welcome, called upon the assembled farmers as "representatives of three-fourths of the people and three-fourths of the club, made up of more than 1,200 leading business men. He declared that the farms furnish to the towns and cities the foundation of their wealth, the fresh blood and brawn and brain and nerves needed to build up a big city like Omaha. George Coupland, president of the congress, responded and recalled the time when he had helped institute the first farmers' elevator in Nebraska at his home town of Elgin.

Fat lambs made up a pretty good share of the supply and the trade opened dull again today. Late trade yeaterday was anyway 15c, and in a spot or two as much as a quarter lower, and even at that the clearance was not very satisfactory. This morning first bids were little, if any, better than the later rounds Wednesday, and looked anyway 15c lower than Tuesday. Sellers were unwilling to cash their holdings on this basis, but packers refused to raise their hands to any great extent, and when the bulk of the fat lambs started to move, pretty decent to good lambs were bought at

Fat ewes were in good supply receipts
