COURSING RACES END IN DISPUTE

Owner of Grace Rockwell Objects to Award of Victory to Killarney Girl in Final Event.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS MEET

The coursing meet at the Douglas county fair grounds Sunday afternoon ended in a large dispute.

The final round was a race between Grace Rockwell, owned by Flack and Life, and Killarney Girl, owned by Stevens and Page.

The judge awarded the race to Killarney Girl, eight points to seven.

The owners of Grace Rockwell entered a few strenuous objections and an argument ensued between judge and owner.

At this point the committee in charge of the meet took a hand.

The committee asserted its right to overrule the decision of the judge, but most of the coursing men entered in the meet declared a judge's ruling shall stand as final.

Killarney Girl Takes Lead. At the start of the race Grace Rockwell and Killarney Girl ran neck-and-neck until the rabbit was reached.

Here Killarney Girl forged a bit to the head and forced the rabbit to take its first turn.

Killarney Girl led for several turns; then suddenly Grace Rockwell passed her opponent and pounced down upon the rabbit and made the kill.

The owner of Grace Rockwell insisted that just before Grace Rockwell took lead the judge called the score six and five.

Then Grace Rockwell turned the rabbit and made the kill, which, the owners maintained, gave the race to her.

Big Crowd Attends. A big crowd was out for the coursing yesterday and took a lively interest in the sport.

The meet started at 2 o'clock and was not over until 5:30. Most of the crowd stayed, despite the fact that it got very dark toward the end.

When the Grace Rockwell-Killarney Girl race was staged, it was difficult to see the hounds, let alone the fleeing rabbit.

Sixteen dogs were entered yesterday. The big surprise of the day was the defeat of Mr. Cannon, owned by William Flack of Grand Island, in the very first heat.

Mr. Cannon has the reputation of being one of the best coursing hounds in the country. What's His Name, owned by Andrews and Pease, was the dog which put Mr. Cannon out of the running.

MAX MARSTON.

Max Marston, the New Jersey golf champion, has earned an enviable place in the golf season just closed.

In the national amateur championship meet, Marston was runner up to Bob Gardner, who holds the amateur title, but Marston has shown more consistent golf than any other amateur playing this year.

He won six important tournaments during 1915, including the championship of New Jersey. He was also runner up at two other big tournaments and was semi-finalist at the amateur meet in Detroit.

His latest achievement was the winning of the Thanksgiving tournament at Lakewood, N. J. Only three weeks before he triumphed at Atlantic City and earlier in the season he won at Garden City, at Lancaster, Pa., at Schenectady, N. Y., and at Essex county, where he captured the New Jersey title. He was runner up at Oakland and at Buffalo.

POLICEWOMEN OF LONDON MAKE GOOD IN DOING DUTY

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 15.—After a year's work, although we have had police-women serving in the roughest sections of London, we have always found moral force stronger than physical force," declares Miss Damar Dawson, head of the women police, in her first annual report.

"The courts have already recognized the usefulness of women police especially in the work of the children's courts," continues Miss Dawson, "and women in uniform have been particularly useful in patrolling the parks, which in big towns are often danger spots for women and children."

"The police-women are trained in signaling, first aid, drilling and in the elements of civil and criminal law."

MILLS TO HAVE FLOOR TEAM

Creighton University Will Have First Basket Ball Team in History of School This Year.

MANY STAR TOSSERS IN SCHOOL

It has been decided by the athletic board that Creighton university will in all probability have a basket ball team this year, fulfilling the ancient desire of students and alumni alike.

The completion of the long anticipated gymnasium, which is set for next month, will give candidates for the varsity ample opportunity for practice, and it will be an easy task for Coach Mills to select five men to represent the school.

Creighton boasts of at least fifteen first class varsity caliber basket ball players, indicating that competition on the coveted quintet is going to be strenuous.

"Dutch" Platz, newly elected foot ball captain at Creighton, and last year a Townsend star, will be out with the floor squad and ought to land a position as guard. Chester Lion, last year captain of the fast Creighton Law team, and the mainstay of the Clarke Tri-City five, is looked upon as the most likely man for center. Kenneth Klepper, one of Omaha's best known stars, who played on three teams last season, ought to make a forward without effort, being one of the best goal shooters in the city.

Earl Wiles, tackle on the foot ball team and also a Clark player last year, is also a candidate for guard. Carl Lutes, another foot ball man, may be counted upon to make the varsity. Among the other men who have considerable basket ball experience are Doty, likewise a foot ball man; Stuart Flood, Kamanaki and a number of dark lights who are expected to loom up at first call.

Officers Are Elected. E. M. Duncan has been elected president. R. E. Brittain, vice president, and L. A. Brittain, secretary-treasurer of the Oklahoma City (Western association) club.

READY FOR BASKET BALL

Coach Patton Will Call His Warriors Together for First Practice Tomorrow.

TWO VETERANS ARE ON HAND

Coach Jim Patton, South High school athletic mentor, will call his basket ball proteges to order tomorrow afternoon for the first basket ball practice of the season in the high school gymnasium at Twenty-third and J streets, South Side.

But two veterans, Bryan Nixon, recently elected captain, and George Bott, guard, will turn out for the team. No other standing prospects look exceedingly bright for the coming year.

The coach expects that twenty-five or more student athletes will turn out for the first practice. Last year, when his team won first place in the state championship tournament with a crippled squad, the coach built up a bunch of second string men that were able at times to beat the first team.

Nixon, Bott, Shainholts, Corr, Graham, Davis and Wilson are all strong men and will make one of the fastest and best squads ever built at the Magic City school. The coach, in co-operation with Captain Nixon, plans to take on considerably stronger and more teams this year than last. Beatrice, University Place, Fremont, Nebraska City and Tekamah are already on the schedule, while negotiations are being made with Hastings, Norfolk and Geneva. The team entered the state tournament last year with a record marked by only one defeat. A game will probably be scheduled with the strong Nebraska Aggie five, as they were on the schedule last year.

The first game of the season will be played next Friday evening at the high school gymnasium with an all-star alumni five. The two Foleys will have charge of the alumni squad.
