

Council Bluffs Social Activities For the Week

A number of Council Bluffs people attended the party given by Henry Cox in honor of the Omaha School of Orchestral Instruments, which was given on Wednesday evening at the studio. The affair was a most jolly one, a Christmas tree forming the center of the festivity and each guest contributed a gift for one other, being limited in price to ten cents.

Miss June Abrams entertained at a party at the Orpheum Thursday afternoon in honor of the Misses Jeanette and Beatrice Glinaky, who are here for the holidays. Other guests were the Misses Goldie and Ada Glinaky and Mrs. J. Schlink. Friday afternoon the Misses Goldie and Ada Glinaky will entertain the same party at luncheon at the Pontenelle and on Monday Mrs. Schlink will give a party in their honor.

In honor of Miss Ivy Wild, whose marriage to Mr. Ray Barnett will take place soon, the members of the N. B. A. club entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of the Misses Abbie and Elsie Wild. was most pleasantly spent with Christmas work after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be held January 5th at the home of Mrs. N. M. Sizer, 246 Hyde avenue. One of the first of the holiday dances was given by the members of the El Azar club Wednesday evening at the Eagles' hall. The club is an organization of high school boys and members of the other high school clubs were special guests of the evening. The hall was most attractively decorated for the occasion. The ceiling was hung with crepe paper the black and gold of the Lal Ren M. club being used at one end, the blue and gold of the Tyrolean club at the other, with the lavender and white of the hosts in the center. Palms, Christmas greens and box trees were prettily used throughout the rooms and the punch was served from the bowl stationed in an attractive bower of green. The programs were especially pretty, covers of white suede bearing the name of the club in gold letters. Excellent music was furnished for a long program of dances and the occasion was one of great enjoyment to all. A number of guests from Omaha were present as well as others from out of town. The presence of a number of the boys and girls who have been away to school and are here for the holidays also added to the pleasure of the occasion. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Q. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Duguet, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lane and Mrs. O. Ewall. Mr. W. H. Heeman and Miss Ruth P. Waggoner, both of Omaha, were married Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock by the Rev. M. E. Nethercutt of the Broadway M. E. church, at the parsonage, 256 Fletcher avenue. They were accompanied by the bride's sister, Mrs. Phillipa, Mr. Heeman is an insurance man and he and his bride will make their home in Omaha.

Miss Lucy Kimball, who is attending Columbia university, will not be home for Christmas, but plans instead to take a trip to Bermuda during the holidays. Miss Kimball goes with a party of students and has planned a most delightful trip.

Miss Grace Rheams and Harry Rheams, both of whom are attending the state university at Iowa City, are expected home the last of the week to spend the holidays with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Lewis left Wednesday for Chicago where they go for a six weeks' stay with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Cavin and Mr. Cavin. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tyson and little son left Thursday for Creston, where

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Test Stewart, who have gone to Hoopston, Ill., to spend Christmas, expect to return home December 27, bringing with them Mr. and Mrs. Donald McFerron and Mr. and Mrs. William McFerron. In honor of their guests they will entertain at a supper party New Year's eve at the Pontenelle. Cards have been issued by Mrs. Clem F. Kimball for a 1 o'clock luncheon on Monday in honor of Misses Helen and Jean Douglas of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Propp of Hiawatha, Kan., are guests at the home of Mrs. Propp's mother, Mrs. H. W. Tilton. They will remain here through the holidays.

Miss Dorothy Woodbury, who has returned from St. Mary's school at Knoxville, Ill., for the holidays, gave an informal dance Monday evening for the younger members of the school set. Christmas decorations were attractively used and the affair was a most delightful one.

A party of about thirty friends from Council Bluffs and Omaha motored to Maplehurst, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, Tuesday evening for a surprise on them. The evening was spent with music and appropriate games and dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Irene Kints returned Tuesday from an extended visit in the east and with relatives in Canada. Before returning home Miss Kints spent several days with the Misses Gertrude and Elsie Tinley at Yassar, the three girls going to Annapolis to a dance and stopping for a visit in New York before returning home together.

The young women of the Theta Sigma Phi club will give their annual holiday dance on Thursday evening at Eagles' hall.

The F. W. W. C. club will meet December 29 at the home of Mrs. D. M. Rolf instead of December 30, as at first arranged. All members are specially requested to be present.

Council Bluffs friends of Ralph D. Robertson, formerly of this city, now of Berkeley, Cal., will be interested to know of his marriage to Miss Marjorie Seeley, which took place December 19, at San Jose, Cal. Mr. Robertson is a son of Mrs. Helen Robertson, 61 Bluff street, and a brother of Dr. A. A. Robertson, 1099 Fifth avenue. He graduated from the Council Bluffs High school in 1909, later attended Iowa State college, and graduated from the University of California in 1908.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Will Havrick, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Barnes of McClelland, Mrs. Gene Canfield, Mrs. E. S. Maxfield, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxfield, and little Miss Arleth. The evening after dinner was spent in party games.

About forty members of the Quis club attended a dinner and informal dance given at the Grand Monday night in honor of Harry C. Crowl, formerly president of the club, who is home from Grinnell college for the holidays. Lloyd Goldsmith, president of the club, presided.

Miss Lorraine Ellis, who has been visiting relatives in Prague, Okl., for the last month, returned home Sunday.

Members of the R. E. M. club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. M. Flak for their annual Christmas party. The affair was a most delightful one, and greatly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. W. A. Reed, assisted by friends and members of the South Side Relief club, gave a surprise party Saturday evening for Mrs. Wood, in honor of her sixtieth birthday. A social evening was enjoyed and music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson and Mr. Reed. Late in the evening an oyster supper was served. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ferrel.

Miss Marian Turner, who attends Miss Somer's school at Washington, D. C., and her brother, Robert Turner, from the University of Michigan, arrived Tuesday evening, coming together from Ann Arbor. Miss Turner remains until January 1 and her brother will leave for Ann Arbor January 2.

George Spooner, who is attending Boston Tech, will remain in the east for the holidays.

Miss Berdina Snyder, who is in her first year at Oberlin, O., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wadsworth for the holidays.

Miss Leta Hunter, who is attending the conservatory at Lincoln, is home for the holidays, arriving early in the week.

Miss Marian Hanthorn and Miss Marian Saunders, both students at Drake, are home for the holidays.

Miss Adele Keeline, who attends St. Mary's school at Notre Dame, reached home last Friday and does not return to her studies until January 6.
