Tits, the close was virtually at the high-est point reached this meason. Corn was inclined to drag, but the strength of wheat finally acted as more than an offset for bearish influences. A good deal of notice was taken, though, of the fact that export bids were lower, and that the prespect was for decidedly increased receipts. Dats showed independent strength Shiming sales amounted to $50,000 high-cas and there was continued talk that outs were at too wide a discount as com-pared with corn.

rope since the beginning of the year, and this has acted as a deterrent is the usual January re-investment demand. Rails, with a few exceptions, show backward-ness despite excellent carnings; and spe-cialities, aside from a few of the closely held and high priced issues, yield more cally to pressure. Mercantile marines were again the dominant feature, the turnover in com-mon and preferred shares completely dwarfing dealings in former recognized leaders. The Irish potatoes referred to will be harvested in March, and bring prices unknown to northern farmers, as will unknown to northern farmers, as will also the larger plantings a month later. The potato crop will be followed by corn or other field crops, and this is frequently followed by a third crop. There is something green all the time, and the delightful all-year-round cli-mate makes farming most interesting as well as profitable. No one crop country can compare with it. Ours are real farm, stock and truck lands. We have cleared up our timber operations and are offering our lands in fair-sized tracts in order to close the affairs of the company, and when it comes to naming prices we have no competi-tion.

In pro-visions the outcome varied from 15c de-cline to a rise of 22%. Except for the transient setbacks, wheat was on the upgrade throughout the session. The leading built interests here achieved control as soon almost as trading had fairly begun, and were ably assisted by the seaboard in taking the surplus off the market and in putting shorts to rout. Reports of cold weather damage to the fall sown crop gave an additional stimulus to buyers, and so, too, did word that receipts both in Sie northwest and southwest wore on the decrease. Shippers had very heavy orders and shippers had very heavy orders and were buying hogs right and left as soon as the market opened. They paid fully the higher prices for anything that suffed them, buying a good share of their hogs at $7.005.20, and paying as high as $7.50 on several occasions. It was a very slow deal on sarly rounds so far as packers were concerned. Owing to a wreck at the entrance of one of the chutes unloading was a fittle de-layed, and buyers were apparently wait-ing until the big end of the day's ar-rivals was in the pens before starting out.
