GARMENTS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

By MELLIFICIA-January 19.

The unique affair of the day was a tea given by Mrs. John D. McDonald from to 5 o'clock for out-of-town guests, including Miss Augusta MacGlasson of Beacon, N. Y., who is visiting Mrs. Charles McDonald; Mrs. Frank Whitman of Belvidere, Ill., the guest of Mrs. John H. Hussie; and Miss Mary Hulme and Miss Olive Raftree of Chicago, guests of Mrs. John H. Beaton.

As Miss Hulme and Mrs. Whitman leave for their homes this week, the tea served as a leave-taking to these popular guests. Miss Raftree, however, and Miss MacGlasson will remain throughout the month, perhaps longes. Tea was poured by the hostesses of out-of-town guests from a table with mound of Killarney roses.

Another interesting affair of the afternoon was the luncheon given by Mrs. Victor White to the board of directors of the Visiting Nurses' association at her home. In keeping with an event more philanthropic than social in its intent, Mrs. White's guest passed the afternoon sewing on infant garments

A feature of the wedding was that the small nieces and nephew of the bride and groom were the only attendants. Isabel Graetz and Ethel Brooks stretched white ribbons and Miriam and Louise Greenberger and Bessie Berkowitz preceded the bride, scattering rose patals. which they carried in small baskets. Little Henrietta Brooks and Master Sol Graetz carried the ring in a tulle muft trimmed with a shower of valley lilles. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Leon Gractz. A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instancy, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. -Advertisement

YOUNG FATHERS IN NEED OF TRAINING

Visiting Nurse Association, However, Probably Will Not Undertake the Work.

MISS RANDALL CITES A CASE

The Visiting Nurse association of Omaha probably will not establish a school for the cradition of young husbands whose early training in the care of infants has been neglected. According to the report of Superintendent Randall, submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the association, there seems to be a need for such an educational institution in this city. Lack of funds, however, acts as a deterrent,

In the superintendent's detailed report is the history of a 17-year-old mother. 21-year-old father and 4-month-old infant, the mother having been sent to the emergency hospital on account of scarlet fever and the infant left to the tender care of the pater-familias.

Five Bottles of Milk. A nurse visited this home at 2 p. m and found the infant vomiting. She learned that the anxious father had given the baby five bottles of slightly diluted condensed milk that morning.

She made out a formula and feeding schedule, and tuen rolled up her sleeves and taught this young father how to wash out the baby's clothing. I am not saying he enjoyed the experience, but he did show a willingness to learn. "He was regarded as one of our star patients." reads the report.

The father was referred to as the 'clinging vine' type. The infant was his

The last month was the busiest in the history of the association. The superintendent reported 1.078 visits made, 317 patients cared for, 188 being new cases. Grippe and pneumonia cases heavily increased the number of calls made by Visiting Nurses during the last month. Twenty maternity cases were cared for. in each instance the association also having furnished the bady layettes.

Keep Book of Smart Sayings of Class?

By MELLIFICIA.

When Miss Kate McHugh was principal of the Omaha High school and led the English classes, there was one phase of the study of literature that she brought out and that was to develop an aptitude to criticism in her pupils. And she found the criticism ready enough.

There was no dearth of opinions, original and even startling, among the high school students. A tradition existed. handed down from class to class, that Miss McHugh had a book in which she wrote down the clever and humorous remarks of pupils. As time went on there was said to be more than one book-so many clever things had been said that it was thought book after book must have been filled. Are children more ready critics than
