

CABARET DANCER IS UPDIKE CASE FIGURE

Younger Son Reported to Have Wedded Melyne de Onsonne of Crown Point.

HOYNE WILL HANDLE MATTER

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—A writ of habeas corpus for the release of Irving Updike, who, with his brother, Herbert, confessed to having plotted to kill their father, Furman D. Updike, was dismissed in the criminal court today after Irving had said he did not want to be released. Herbert Updike, who revealed the plot, remained today in the Oak Park police station.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—While Irving and Herbert Updike, who are said by the police to have confessed to plotting the murder of their father, Furman D. Updike, were declining the assistance of lawyers today, investigators were at Crown Point, Ind., looking into the reported marriage of Herbert, the younger of the prisoners, to Melyne De Onsonne, a cabaret dancer.

Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney of Cook county, which includes Oak Park, said tonight that the suburban authorities were making too much of a family affair out of the case, and that he would take charge himself tomorrow.

One of his assistants, he said, would be in court in connection with a writ of habeas corpus applied for today for the brothers and returnable tomorrow.

Promises of the Press Agents. A little novelty of the right sort attracts unusual attention. This is evidenced over at the Orpheum this week, where two youthful players from China, Miss Don Fung Gue and Harry Haw, are not only proving interesting but fascinating as well.

As is indicated by the title, "Kick In," now playing at the Orpheum theater, is a play with a punch. "Kick In" will be given for the last two times today, matinee and evening.

You've read, of course, of a person becoming famous overnight because of some notable achievement. Incidentally the same thing happened at the popular Gaiety. The favored one is Comedian Jim Barton, who made his first appearance before a Gaiety audience last Saturday night. He was an absolute stranger and the matter of his making good was entirely up to him. In a word, he came, he saw, he conquered, and from now on no comedian will be more welcome in Omaha than the one who says "Kick In" with the "Twentieth Century Maid" and it's a mighty good show aside from the double-footed James. Ladies' matinee daily.

Without question the strongest bill yet offered by the strand is the present one including Syd Chaplin in "The Submarine Pirate" and Mary Boland in "At the Edge of the Abyss." Both represent absolutely the acme of perfect picture construction in their respective lines. "The Submarine Pirate" being a most unique and unusual comedy, at the same time highly educational, while the dramatic feature, "At the Edge of the Abyss," featuring Mary Boland, is one of the greatest plays or features turned out by that wizard of stagecraft, Thomas H. Ince, which is saying a whole lot.

Pearl White, the favorite movie actress, plays the leading role in "The King's Game," which is at the Boyd for four days, beginning today. This Broadway success has been Pathographed with an excellent cast in support of Miss White, of whom are George Frobert and Sheldon Lewis. Arnold Daly is responsible for the excellence of the acting seen in this picture. Continuous from 1 to 11 p.m.

"Miss and Men" is the story of a philosopher who decides that women are not all that they ought to be, will be at the Hipp for the last times today, the stellar role being taken by Marguerite Clark.

The "Night Clerk" is the name of a fascinating, fun-abounding sketch that will please Empire patrons during the last three days of this week. It is a veritable laugh-provoking musical comedy, fresh from the shops of fun.

By special arrangement the Farm is able to announce as a feature for next Sunday Violet Merriman, one of the dearest maidens in filmland, in "The Path of Happiness." As a mountain maid she plays in a stream, a la Kellermann, in a way that adds greatly to the beauty of the picture.

Three Boys Arrested For Robbing Store

STAGE HANDS QUIT AT KRUG THEATER

Scene Shifters and Engineer Walk Out After Dispute Over Number of Employees.

NIobe HELPS TO SET STAGE

Six stage employees and an engineer walked out last evening at 8 o'clock from the Krug theater, leaving the North Bros. Stock company and Manager Cole in the plight of presenting "Niobe" without a stage crew other than volunteers from the actors and others connected with the theater.

The curtain went up a few minutes late, but the performance went on about as usual and the audience did not know of the situation beyond the footlights. The announcement of the strike caused some little flutter on the stage, with Niobe in her white habitments assisting in setting the stage, and Sport North, Robert

Grand and others learning the switch-board on short notice. Difference Over Crew. The situation arose over differences between the local union of stage hands and Manager Cole, the latter refusing to pay a stage hand put on a week ago by the union over his protest. The trouble has been brewing several weeks. The last of a series of meetings between the stage hands and the manager was held yesterday morning, but Mr. Cole maintaining the walkout half an hour before an advertised performance was wholly without notice to him.

The stage employees' union ruled that a full crew at the Krug theater should be seven men. Up to a week ago Mr. Cole had five employees on the stage, and says he agreed to employ seven as demanded as soon as the business would warrant it. When the sixth man was put on a week ago Mr. Cole entered protest.

Fire Warden Morris was on the scene and ordered the engineer to leave the boilers in proper condition before he quit. The fires were banked, and about closing time the theater began to be cool.

Serbian Soldier Refugees Arrive at New York Port

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Greek liner Vastlets Constantinos arrived here today, from Athens with 200 Serbian soldier refugees and their families on board. As soon as the liner reached Quarantine, twenty of the Serbians were taken off and sent to the Quarantine hospital. The Quarantine physicians declined to make known the nature of their illness pending further diagnosis.

Most of the refugees were said to be reservists who were living in this country at the outbreak of the war and were summoned back to the colors. There were also on board seven members of the University of Columbia's red cross service who were returning from Serbia.

The physicians later announced that the twenty persons removed were afflicted with vermin of the type that carries typhus and would be kept under observation.

Says We Become Cranks on Hot Water Drinking

Hopes every man and woman adopts this splendid morning habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness. If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—Advertisement.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—(Via London, Jan. 19.)—In the Prussian Chamber of Deputies today Herr von Heydebrand, the conservative leader, referred incidentally to America as among Germany's "worst enemies."

Germany, he said, enjoyed the splendid feeling of being innocent of all the horrors of this war.

"I should not wish to bear the responsibility of our worst enemies, among which America must now be reckoned, because it prolonged the war for at least one year," he declared.
