Dr. Rustin's Widow Loses Insurance Suit

An echo of the Dr. Frederick Rustin death mystery of eight years ago was heard in supreme court yesterday when a decision was handed down in the $19,000 ault brought by Mrs. Grace H. Rustin, his widow, against the Aetna Life Insur-

The court held that the insurance company should pay Mrs. Rustin several hundred dollars once tendered by it to her but decided that the $10,000 polici should not be paid. The case was remanded to the district court with instruc tions that judgment in accordance with this decree be entered.

Dr. Rustin had borrowed $210 on the policy and default had been made in payment of premiums. The court said: payment of premiums. The court said:
The policy provided that if default is made in the payment of premium after premiums have been paid for three years or more and there is no indebtedness to the company against the policy, it shall be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured during a specified time; but it there is such an indebtedness the amount of extended temporary insurance shall be reduced in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the clash surrender value. Where a loan made to insured had not been paid at the time of default the beneficiary was enultied to only temporary insurance in entitled to only temporary insurance in such proportion.

BUSY WEEK AT SPALDING.

Most Successful Graduation, is Spite of Inclement Weather. Last week was a busy one at Spalding cademy, Spalding, Neb., being the last days of school life at Spalding for seven of its students. Although the weather was not perfect, all passed successfully and commencement week of May 24, 1915, will long be recalled with pleasure by those whose privilege it was to be present at the exercises.

Monday was class day. At 3:50 o'clock in the afternoon the seniors entertained the high school by the reading of the class history, prophecy and other important features of the class of 1915. In the class prophecy all the seniors saw themselves fifteen years from now and marveled how wonderfully things will turn

Tuesday was alumnae day, of which the most important part was the fiveourse dinner, served for the first time at the new academy. Many old graduates were present and experiences of past years were related to the new alumnae duced on Wednesday evening, but owing to the inclement weather and the sad effects of the cyclone, which caused the death of a former pupil, it was postponed until Monday, May 31. Thursday the Tennis club met and plans vere made for next year's team. Some of the girls will not be pupils next term, but a most successful year is expected. Friday, the "day of days" for the seven graduates, dawned sunless, but the girls' spirits were not dampened by the frequent showers which fell during the All appeared foyful as they gathtogether for the last time as a class for their commencement.

HASTINGS COLLEGE NOTES.

New Club is Formed-Seniors Present Theses to the Faculty. During the last week the H club of Hastings college was organized. It consists of all the men who on any of the athletic teams have won an "H." All 'H" members who are not now members of the school are honorary members of the new organization.

The purpose of the club is to have an annual "get-together" event. This year the event was a carnival. A large crowd of college students and townspeople attended. Refreshments and entertainment were provided. The temporary officers are D. J. Gretzinger, president, and Curtis Galt, secretary-treasurer.

The senior class presented their theses to the faculty last Monday afternoon. The class this year is small, consisting of only five. The theses were presented as follows:

"The Staging of an Elizabethan Drama." Ethel Decker. "Workings of the Referendum," Robert ernment Ownership of Railways," Harold Rocine.
"The European Conflict—Its Causes," Leiand Hall.
"Single Tax," Warren Davidson.

The temperance contest was held at the college chapel Wednesday morning. The participants were D. J. Gretzinger. Milton Mook and P. L. Byram. Mr. Byram won first place and Mr. Mook second, It was one of the best contests the college has had in some time. The judges were Dr. Bean, Rev. Mr. Lemmon and Rev. Mr. Clark.

The commencement season begins in arnest on Sunday with the baccalaureate address by Dr. French of New York and the address to the Christian associations by Dr. Patterson of Beatrice. Outside of the usual commencement exercises a great musical program, "The Creation, by the Haydn Choral society, will be given at Chautauqua park.
