INTERURBAN WOULD ISSUE BOND

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 7.—(Special.)—Albert E. Rogers of Chicago, accompanied by S. R. McKelvie, president of the Nebraska Publishers' bureau, an organization recently formed by newspaper men to advertise Nebraska in the east, called at the state house today to gather information.

The sum of $1,000 was subscribed by the newspaper men of the state for the formation of the association, and the advertising will be done in three of the principal advertising journals of the country. It is the intention to make a comparison with other states in order to bring to the notice of manufacturers that this state is a good place to bring their products and also to establish branch industries.

Mr. Rogers was very well pleased with the information he was able to gather from the records of the several offices, and believes substantial results will be gained from the work.

Representatives of the Omaha & Lincoln Railway and Light company, the interurban road running from Omaha to Papillion, appeared before the railway commission today and asked for a modification of the order of the commission about six months ago relating to an issue of bonds for the improvement of the road.

The former order allowed an issue of $7,000 in 5 per cent bonds, $2,000 in 6 per cent preferred stock, and $3,000 common stock, but the road now asks that the amount be raised to $100,000 to enable it to make the proper improvements, as the former amount has been shown to be insufficient.

To Fight for Tax Money. Ed Westering of the state treasurer's office, and Charles DeFrance, state accountant, went to Omaha today to examine the books of the county treasurer (Hendrick) preparatory to bringing suit to compel the Douglas county treasurer to make monthly remittances to the state treasurer of all money collected by Treasurer Ure and belonging to the state. So far the county treasurer has remitted but $14,000, which was sent in during April, and the state treasurer proposes to mandamus him to make the remittance every month.

Goes Back to Franklin. It is understood that Deputy State Treasurer Murray will resign as deputy to State Treasurer Hendrick in a short time and return to the Franklin bank as cashier, a position he gave up to accept the present position. Mr. Hall will make no announcement of a successor for the present. It is understood that the Franklin bank feels that it cannot spare Mr. Murray and has asked him to return.

Nebraska County Attorney Writes to Attorney General on Fox Case

TAYLOR, Neb., June 6.—(Special.)—A. S. Moore, attorney for Loup county, has addressed an open letter to Attorney General Reed in which he says the reason why the alleged murderer of Roy Fox was not prosecuted is that the evidence in possession of the state shows that Fox, who had a criminal record, was the aggressor and that Galbreath fired in defense of his life. After reviewing the evidence, Mr. Moore continues:

"Without being able to arrive at the conclusion that Galbreath had committed any crime, and believing it as much my duty to protect an innocent man as to prosecute a guilty one, and knowing that a prosecution would cost an innocent man who could ill afford to spend it a considerable sum, and the prosecution would only serve the purpose of the gang of outlaws for revenge on Galbreath and to deter others who later might be similarly confronted from protecting their person from violence, I refrained from prosecution of the case.

"Without saying or even intimating that Mr. Hawxy was influenced by anything but the best of motives, yet the people here would have been much better satisfied with an investigation made by yourself or someone from your office who could not possibly have had any pecuniary interest in recommending a prosecution, as it is well known that Mr. Hawxy would not have been appointed to assist in the prosecution and he had recommended it.

"On my part, I do not care to prosecute a case in which, after the state has produced all its evidence, the defense can successfully move the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, without even placing a witness upon the stand for the defendant.

"The people of this county do not object to the cost of prosecuting a criminal, but do object to making themselves a large amount of expense to prosecute an innocent man for the satisfaction of a lawless bunch, who seek this method of revenge and intimidation.

"I have ever prosecuted, not always convicted, however, every crime committed, where in my opinion a conviction, if procured, could be sustained upon the evidence in my possession, and in this case I do not care to take the responsibility of a prosecution and what it will develop, together with the results, but if your office desires to assume the responsibility for the commencement of such action, I assure you that you will not find me assisting the defendant."

T. A. Detweiler of Osceola Dies After Few Days' Illness

OSCEOLA, Neb., June 7.—(Special.)—T. A. Detweiler, a highly respected citizen of Osceola, died here at his home on Thursday, June 3, after an illness of three weeks. The funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Taylor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Reed, had charge of the services.

Mr. Detweiler was one of the prominent citizens of Polk county. He was born near Chambersburg, Pa., January 11, 1854. He was married to Rachel Almira Hartzell at Shippensburg, Pa., November 15, 1877. To this union were born two daughters, Florence Edna and Lucretia May, who, with his wife, survive.

He was the oldest of a family of eight children and the second to pass from the family circle, his father having died December 7, 1895, at the age of 72 years. His mother was Mrs. Susan Detweiler of Omaha, his sisters, Mrs. D. H. Kunkel of Osceola, Mrs. O. E. Mickey of Osceola and Mrs. C. D. Hartzell of Newville, Pa., and his brothers, A. B. Detweiler of Millard, Neb.; J. O. Detweiler of Omaha, W. T. Detweiler of Grand Island and Charles E. Detweiler of Ord, Neb., are the remaining members of the family, and were all in attendance at the funeral services.

The deceased received his education in the public schools of his native state, and also in the Cumberland Valley State Normal school, and began his active life's work as a teacher in the public schools of his home county. In March, 1888, he moved with his family to Osceola, where he had since resided. During the early years of his residence here he taught in the public schools in various districts, and then entered the employ of the Bank of Shelby, where he served four years. He then bought a local telephone business in Osceola, which he developed to some extent, and, later, disposing of it to the Bell Telephone company, became the local manager here for the company.

Mr. Detweiler was an active worker in the Presbyterian church of this city, holding the office of trustee, and also treasurer at various times. For many years he was interested in teaching one of the adult Bible classes in its Sunday school. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and filled various offices in that order, having been chancellor commander of the local lodge and representative to the grand lodge.

CONDEMNS METHOD OF BILLY SUNDAY

Bishop Williams Talks to Graduating Class of Brownell Hall and Two New Ministers.

CALLS IT BABEL OF SHOUTS

Bishop A. L. Williams, head of the Omaha Episcopal diocese, in a sermon to graduates of Brownell hall and Carl M. Worden and John E. Darling, ordained to the diaconate Sunday at St. Matthias church, warned his hearers who were about to begin a new service to the world, against the methods of Billy Sunday, the evangelist. Such a ministry as that of Sunday, he said, lacked the authority of God and expressed itself in a babel of shouting in which the individual made himself foremost.

He spoke of the position of the young women graduates as being in a degree similar to that of the young ministers in that it was their duty to translate their natural gifts trained by education into effective force for the benefit of mankind. How to gain this effective force, he said was their problem.

The same problem, according to the bishop, confronted the two candidates for the ministry, the other requirement for successful work in their calling, the authority of God, having been conferred by the ceremonies of ordination in the church.

In this connection Bishop Williams delivered what was interpreted by his hearers as a denunciation of the practices of Billy Sunday.

"Jesus Christ's authority from God, and his effective force, which are the literal English translations of the Greek words used, were given by Jesus to his ministers, according to the Gospels," said the bishop. "We frequently see one or the other of these elements lacking. Our ministries often lack effective force in advancing the work of God.

"Sometimes we see a ministry in which the authority of God is lacking which is such a one as that of Billy Sunday. Then the expressions of that ministry are manifested in a babel of shouting in which the individual makes himself foremost."

The occasion was the annual baccalaureate service of Brownell hall to which was added the ordination of Rev. Mr. Worden and Rev. Mr. Darling. The services consisted of a choral celebration of the holy eucharist, the ordination of the candidates and a charge to them and to the young women graduates. A. E. Wells was priest in charge and acting chaplain of Brownell hall.

The graduating class, the clergy and friends of the candidates participated in communion. Following are the graduates from Brownell hall:

- Misses—Alice Frost, Helen Walker, Margarette Brown, Gertrude Stout, Margarette Lemen.
- Misses—Jacq Allen, Genevieve Hornbrook, M. E. Fawcett, Marion Turner.

MANY WATCH TYRS DRILLING

Inspiring Sight at Metz Hall, with 200 Young Folks Taking Part.

S. O. GIRLS ALSO TAKE PART

Two hundred men, women, boys and girls of Omaha and South Omaha Bohemian athletic organizations appeared in a grand march Sunday afternoon at Metz hall, South Thirteenth street, the occasion being a gymnastic exhibition under the auspices of the Tel Jed Sokolky Tyrs. The event was an inspiring one and was appreciated by a large gathering, many of whom remained for a dance which was given in the evening.

The Tel Jed Sokolky Tyrs comprised sixty young women, twenty-six of whom appeared in drills and exercises, and twenty-six small girls also contributed toward the pleasure of the exhibition. Members of the Omaha Tel Jed Sokol and the Tel Jed Sokol Fugener-Tyrs of South Omaha were on the program.

Mrs. R. A. Liball, president of the local Bohemian gymnastic girls, opened the program with a short talk, in which she reviewed the work and told of the revival of interest since the national tournament here last year. She was followed by Mayor Dahlgren, who offered words of encouragement to the young people who are endeavoring to make of themselves sturdy men and women. He complimented the Bohemian people for their interest in athletics.

On the committee in charge were Mrs. Anna Pitha, Mrs. A. Kapke, Miss Beasle Pribyl and Mrs. August Mikulasek. Olga Diak was in charge of the South Omaha contingent and Frank Kopecky directed the evolutions of the local girls. Preshchensky's orchestra rendered a program of Bohemian and American airs.

The program consisted of calisthenics by the small girls, exercises with rings, pyramid drills, flag drill by the boys, dumb-bell exercises, exhibition on apparatus and other forms of exercises. All of which were well appreciated. The small girls were loudly cheered for their excellent work, and some of the other Turnerers showed considerable skill, the result of careful training. The program was a notable revelation of the Bohemian system of building up the bodies of the young people.

YOUTHFUL COUNT TOLSTOI, PRISONER, RECAPTURED

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) VIENNA, May 27.—One of the most distinguished prisoners of war captured by the Austrian and Hungarian forces is a son of the late Count Tolstoi, who was taken in the Carpathians recently, escaped, and now has been retaken.

Young Count Tolstoi was placed in a prison camp at Milovic in Bohemia, but with his companions managed to tunnel his way out. He got as far as Trieste, where he was recognized and seized. The tunnel through which he escaped was about twelve yards long, and was dug almost under the eyes of the guards, from a room to a point outside the wall.

Tolstoi is one of a number of brothers who took the field for Russia, notwithstanding their father's well known hatred of war and opposition to an alliance with France as likely to bring about a conflict sooner or later.

POISONED HIMSELF AT 40!

Death by slow poison is killing many a man, young in years, who has made the fatal mistake of failing to understand the warnings of kidney trouble. When your kidneys begin to fail, in throwing off natural poisons that accumulate in your body, the first warning comes in little twinges, or stiffness across your back and hips. Urination may be too frequent; you may feel "tired" in the morning when you should feel your best.

The best known remedy for these troubles is GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This remedy has stood the test for more than 100 years since it was first produced in the ancient laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. It acts directly on the kidneys and bladder and gives relief at once, or your money will be refunded. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from Holland, and can be had at any drug store. Prices 25c, 50c and $1.00. Accept no substitute.

Throwing Your Voice Across the Continent

Talking by telephone 3,400 miles across the American Continent is now an accomplished fact. The celebration of this latest and greatest achievement in the art of telephony only recently took place.

This great triumph is the product of American brains, American initiative, and American scientific and technical skill. The service that is thus opened to the public is not equalled or approached in efficiency and comprehensiveness in any other country in the world.

The Bell System and its independent connecting companies now have 21,000,000 miles of wire and 9,000,000 telephones, or 65 per cent of all the telephones in the world, located in every nook and corner of the United States.

Truly, This is a Great American Achievement

Absolutely and Positively The Truth

That the man or woman who owns property is, by reason of the fact that he or she owns property, a more "important" citizen in the eyes of employers and friends.

There are people who spend their time envying the well-to-do and wishing that good luck would smile on them, too.

They forget that practically all the well-to-do and rich were once poor. They became well-to-do and rich by buying property and adding to their possessions year by year.

A splendid time to make a start on becoming a property holder is now when The Bee's 30-Day Buy-a-Lot campaign is starting.

Extraordinary inducements are being made by real estate firms and individuals right now.

Rock bottom prices are being made on hundreds of pieces of real estate in Greater Omaha.

Real estate is the one sure and safe investment. It can't "take wings and fly away" as money or stocks or bonds can. It is there and it has to stay there.

As the city grows—and grow it must—your property increases in value. And you have the satisfaction of owning it and the prestige that comes from owning it.

Be an owner of part of Omaha.
