Bryan Tells German-Americans U. S. Perfectly Neutral; Asks Aid for Peace

WASHINGTON, June 11.—W. J. Bryan's statement, addressed to the German-Americans, follows:

"To the German-Americans: 'Permit me to address a word to you as fellow American citizen speaking to fellow citizens in whose patriotism he has entire confidence.

Best Evidence of Neutrality. 'The president has been unjustly criticized by the partisans of both sides, the very best evidence of his neutrality.

The fact that the administration has received more criticism from German-Americans than from those in sympathy with the allies is due to the fact that while both sides are at liberty, under international law, to purchase ammunition in the United States, the allies, because of their control of the seas, have the advantage of being able to export it.

Cannot Change Laws. 'The administration's position has not only been perfectly neutral, but it could not have been otherwise without a palpable and intentional violation of the rules governing neutrality.

While the attacks upon the president by the extremists of both sides were very unjust, it was equally unjust to suspect the patriotism of those who took sides.

'A Grave Appeal.' LANSING SITS WITH CABINET. BIG BATTLE IS RAGING ON ISONZO

LONDON, June 11.—British observers of the war, forming their opinions on the latest dispatches from Russia, believe that the Austro-German forces threatening Lemberg from the southeast have been checked in their advance.

Lemberg Temporarily Safe. Thus for the moment Lemberg is thought to be safe, for nowhere else along the Galician front have the Teutonic allies been making progress recently, with the exception, of course, of their southern extension into Bukovina.

Nothing new has been heard in London concerning the fighting in the Baltic provinces. The Italians now are less than twenty miles from Trieste, the chief port of Austria.

On the western front the methodical French advance would appear for the moment to have ceased. But on the other hand, the German counter attacks do not seem to have been successful.
