GAGE COUNTY HUNTS DODGERS OF TAXES

Owners of Valuable Personal Property Likely to Be Called Upon the Legal Carpet.

PETITION SENT TO THE ASSESSOR

BEATRICE, Neb., June 11.—(Special.)—A petition has been presented to County Assessor Enlow asking that official to present it to Judge Pemberton of the district court, requesting the latter to call a special grand jury for the purpose of investigating what is commonly called "tax dodging" in Gage county. The petition has been largely signed, but the assessor will not take any action until after the meeting of the board of equalization, which convenes June 15. A number of deputy assessors have reported that few people have given in diamonds owned by them, and also bank deposits and shares in building and loan associations.

Attorney F. O. McGill of this city has announced that he has made application to Governor Morehead to serve on the supreme court commission of Nebraska. He was formerly county attorney and is among the leading democrats of the county.

Lightning struck and killed a horse belonging to H. S. Tommemaker, living south of the city on Thursday morning. The animal was valued at $30.

Deputy Fire Commissioner Requisite of Lincoln, who has been in the city the last few days investigating the fire at the home of Charles Mates, which occurred last Saturday night, dropped the case on Thursday and returned to Lincoln. The house, according to evidence procured by the fire commissioner and Chief Woolke, was set on fire, but they were unable to make a case against the party suspected of the act.

Notes from Ord and Valley County

ORD, Neb., June 11.—(Special.)—About two months ago Stella Knudsen was assaulted near the North Loop river bridge. Two young men were arrested and one of them, Louis Kamarad, identified as the assailant. The case was tried before a jury last week, which failed to agree, ten being for acquittal and two for conviction. The case will be retried in the fall term of district court, although it is conceded that by that time it will be a difficult matter to empanel a jury. At present the Kamarad is out under heavy bonds.

The saloon case of Riley against Cronwell, wherein the former seeks to compel the city clerk to call a special election on the matter of license occupied the attention of Judge Paul in district court the last of the week. About a week after the regular spring election a petition with the signatures of 30 per cent of the voters attached was presented to the council asking that they pass an ordinance permitting saloon licenses or that a special election be called for the submission of the ordinance to the voters. The council refused to pass the ordinance and Clerk Cronwell was in New York state and refused to call the special election when he returned. A writ of mandamus was asked for by the petitioners. The judge has asked that he be given several days to read up on the matter before giving his decision.

W. W. Haskell, who was last week reported to have sold the Ord Quix, is once more back as editor, although the paper will be published as was the original intention, by the Quix Publishing company. Mr. Haskell has sold his gas plant to former County Treasurer Lalo Paist, who has already taken charge.

The city of Ord is about to take over the new city park recently donated by W. A. Andersen.

Deputy Auditor Insurance Head

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Deputy State Auditor W. B. Eastham was promoted today to the position of insurance commissioner by the insurance board, consisting of Governor Morehead, Auditor Smith and Attorney General Reed.

This makes a vacancy in the deputyship in the auditor's office which it will be up to the auditor to fill with a good democrat.

Luck appears to have come to Eastham after being defeated three or four times for land commissioner. He was first appointed deputy state treasurer, then switched to deputy auditor and now gets the insurance commissionership, all in less than five months. The latter position carries with it a raise of $500 over that of his former position of $1,500.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION IN MINDE

MINDEN, Neb., June 11.—The Christian Endeavor district convention just closed a three-day session in the First Presbyterian church in this city, with more than the usual delegate attendance, there being more than sixty accredited present from five counties. Greater efficiency in work was the principal theme discussed. Officers elected were: President, Harland Partwood, Edgar, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Effie Hatch Nelson, State officers who took part in the convention exercises were H. H. Fricke, state president of Friends, and Grace F. Hooper, state superintendent of juniors, Crete.

Store in Salem Robbed

FALLS CITY, Neb., June 11.—(Special.)—The M. L. Dowell general store at Salem was entered Tuesday night by burglars, who forced an entrance through a back window. The old-fashioned money till was broken and $2.56 in silver taken. Mr. Dowell has discovered the loss of two pairs of cheap trousers, some neckties, about half a dozen pairs of coarse socks and at least one can of oysterysters that was eaten in the store. Beatrice dogs were given a free hand. They started from the store and decimated around the village several blocks and then took the road to the Burlington depot, where another oyster can was found empty of its contents. It was from the stock of the Dowell store. This trick probably was turned by some of the numerous tramps now on the way west and north, running away from work in the Kansas harvest fields.

AUTO PLUNGES OVER RAIL

Edward Hunter of Cooper, Ia., Fatally Hurt When Machine Jumps Bridge.

DES MOINES, June 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Edward Hunter of Cooper, Ia., was probably fatally injured when an automobile he was driving plunged through the guard rails on the Eighteenth street bridge and fell twenty-five feet. The machine turned upside down and Hunter was pinned beneath it. It was reported from the Methodist hospital that chances for recovery were slight.

CUMMINS DOESN'T EXPECT WAR

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, June 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Edward Hunter of Cooper, Ia., was probably fatally injured when an automobile he was driving plunged through the guard rails on the Eighteenth street bridge and fell twenty-five feet. The machine turned upside down and Hunter was pinned beneath it. It was reported from the Methodist hospital that chances for recovery were slight.

Cummins Back Home.

Senator Cummins on his return from an extended Washington trip made a statement today on the war situation which summarized included:

There will be no war with Germany. There is no inconsistency between Wilson's note and Bryan's declaration of Principles. Issues between this nation and Germany are not such as to lead to a break in relationship.

Germany depends upon how the public in this country takes its Republican success in 1916.

It is only wild guess work to predict what the future course of Bryan will be.

State Farm Crops Not Good

The state farms are not in as good condition as usual, the superintendents who met here this week reported to the state board of control. At the hospitals for the insane are the largest of these farms—Cherokee, Independence, Clarinda and Mount Pleasant. Those in the northern part of the state plainly have had too much rain and the planting of all crops was held up. The corn crop was not nearly all planted at Independence when the rains stopped operations. At Clarinda the superintendent reports that the rain was really needed and that after several years of drought the ground was very much deficient in moisture. A very heavy rain fell all through southern Iowa last night and added to the difficulties of the farmers in getting into their fields.

New Candidate for Governor

Portina announcement has been made this week of the entrance into the field as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Senator J. H. Allen of Pocahontas county. Senator Allen has been devoted to legislation for farmers and shippers and is the special champion of woman suffrage in the legislature. He is a native of Iowa, a lawyer and banker, a man of great influence in his community and popular. This makes the second candidate to be announced for governor, the only other being the attorney general, it is expected, however, there will be a number some time during the coming year.

Hospital for Iowa Miners

A hospital for the miners of Iowa is to be established in Des Moines. At a conference held here Wednesday between representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Dr. J. M. Griffin, of Des Moines, options on the location of the hospital were signed. Dr. Griffin's plan is to make contracts with each of the local mine workers' unions, providing for the furnishing of all surgical and medical services, as well as hospital facilities, to members of the union and their families. It will also be a dispensary, to which miners living near Des Moines may come or write for medicine.

Two Appointments Made

Governor Clarke today announced the reappointment of Guy E. Logan to be adjutant general, a position he has held the last six years. He is a native of Red Oak. The position is that of actual head of the organized militia of the state. He has recently become ex-officio the custodian of the state capitol and public grounds.

Governor Clarke yesterday announced the appointment of Ora Williams to be document editor, an entire new bureau of the state government, having control of all publications of the state of every kind, and the distribution of documents. He will take charge in July. The bureau will edit all copy of all the state departments and supervise the printing and binding.

Interested in River Transportation

Business interests here are much interested in the work being undertaken to develop shipping on the Mississippi river and its tributaries. The fact that freight rates from New York to the Pacific coast are lower than they are from this region is sufficient reason, they say, to do everything possible to encourage competition by water.

The delegates appointed by Governor Clarke to attend the Dubuque meeting include some of the well known manufacturers of the state. They were: Hon. H. W. Spear, Hon. E. C. Johnson, Hon. F. L. Maytag of Newton, D. W. Morris, Jr. of Marshalltown; J. A. Gunn of Kellogg; John A. Baal, F. H. Luithe and M. S. Stokley of Des Moines; Joseph Dehn of Ottumwa; Thomas L. Wilkinson of Burlington; Hon. A. H. Frudden of Dubuque; Captain Walter Blair of Davenport.

At the Wednesday meeting in Dubuque, H. L. Luth of this city was made a member of a committee which is to cooperate with the Upper Mississippi River improvement association in forwarding the work of river shipping.

The manufacturers of Clinton at a meeting held June 5 declared themselves in favor of using the fleet of steel barges which will be put in operation by the Mississippi Navigation company within a few weeks. These barges will have a speed of fifteen miles an hour and will draw only four and one-half feet of water, carrying a cargo of 1,000 tons. Shipments are being planned by the Clinton manufacturers so that the barges will have loads both up and down the river. Other manufacturers in the river town are planning to give the river companies all the business possible.

There are many manufacturers in Iowa who sell large quantities of goods in the west. They are especially interested in securing lower rates and believe this can be done by way of the Mississippi river, New Orleans and the Panama canal.

Falls City Notes

FALLS CITY, Neb., June 11.—(Special.)—The St. Joseph Commercial club will visit this city with a representative body of seventy-five men June 15.

The Daughters of Isabella are arranging for a concert to be given at the Park auditorium by Miss Loreta De Lone, harpist, who was formerly with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.
