Each section of the grandstand has 1500 reserved seats or a total of 12,000 for the eight sections.

Facts About the Omaha Speedway

The Omaha Speedway is one mile and one-quarter in circumference. It is built entirely of timber (3,000,000 feet being used) on concrete base, the surface being 2x4's laid on edge. The stretches are pitched at an angle of 10 degrees, and the turns at an angle of 42 degrees. This enables the drivers to keep their throttles wide open all the time instead of shutting down at the turns, as on other tracks and will greatly increase the speed average. Dust, mud and dirt are entirely eliminated, and weather conditions preceding the race cannot interfere or cause postponement. The spectators have a much better view on this track than on the two-mile tracks, as each driver can be plainly seen and followed at all times.
