President Crawford arrived home today from Hastings, where he held a conference with President Miles in regard to rearranging the supplementary schedule.

At a meeting of the directors last week it was unanimously decided not to abide by the new supplementary schedule, owing to Fairbury being discriminated against in favor of other teams. Schedule-maker Richard Groto of Omaha agreed to let Fairbury have a Sunday game here with Beatrice on June 20, but it is understood the directors will ask for other concessions or ask for the return of their forfeit money and withdraw from the circuit.

Burlington Finds Badwater Does Not Belie Reputation

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo., June 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The Burlington will be unable to operate through trains over its Wyoming line connecting the Colorado & Southern with the Northern Pacific before July 1, according to the latest estimates of engineers who are superintending the work of repairing the damage done by floods in the Badwater and other streams ten days ago. Twenty-three bridges and culverts on the Badwater alone must be replaced, and temporary structures cannot be put in place inside of the next fortnight. A large freight locomotive which went into the Badwater when a bridge collapsed, has disappeared with the exception of the tip of the smokestack, and it is probable that no attempt to salvage it will be made.

The experience of the Burlington with the Badwater justifies the advice given by old-timers when the road was built two years ago that it be carried up the bench parallel to the stream instead of up the valley. The old-timers informed the construction engineers that the Badwater derived its name from the fact that it often rose with such rapidity and to such a height that many Indians had lost their lives in the stream.

The engineers indicated that it was called Badwater because its water carried so much alkali. Marks left by the recent flood show that at many places the stream rose four feet higher than the bridges on which the railroad crossed it.

LINCOLN, June 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The State Pharmacy board met this morning and appointed Senator Will Brockley of Edgar as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy created to fill the place of President Eric Harper, whose term will soon expire. Sixteen Middies Now Defendants in the Exam Scandal

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 15.—The court of inquiry investigating irregularities in examinations at the naval academy announced today that in view of testimony, particularly that by Commander Trant, head of the modern language department, Midship G. D. Price of West Virginia and R. J. Walker of Pennsylvania, members of the former second class, had been made defendants. It was apparent from their examination papers, Commander Trant testified, that they had had unfair help in the form of advance information.

These two additions increased the number of defendants to sixteen. Evidence was offered today that there was tendency to show material difference in the value of information given to midshipmen in class room by instructors in various sections purporting the same course of studies in the modern languages department.

Admiral Pulliam in a letter to the court today assured that body that he would respect its suggestion regarding advice to prospective witnesses from among the midshipmen. He said that in view of the instructions made by counsel and interference which might be drawn from newspaper accounts he stood ready to appear before the court to make an explanation.

Dry Win at Superior. SUPERIOR, Neb., June 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The dry forces won in their remonstrance hearing before Judge Hurd in district court last night. Judge Hurd held that the dry ordinance passed by the people April 7, 1914, was in force and that the ordinance passed by the council March 4, this year, was void on account of being passed before a year's time had elapsed. This makes a victory for the dry forces in every case they have had at court since the saloon fight has been on.

Negro Taken from Sheriff by Mob

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 15.—Roy Haley, the negro who on Saturday shot and killed Roy Lester, a well known young planter of Lafayette county, was taken by a mob from Sheriff Boyett of Hempstead county today and hauled in the woods between Hope and Louisville. The mob nearly 300 strong, overtook the sheriff while he was in his automobile driving toward Little Rock to place the negro in the penitentiary for safe keeping.

Haley was delivered to Sheriff Boyett by Sheriff Jackson of Lafayette county, who captured him yesterday. After being chased twenty miles by several automobiles filled with citizens, Jackson eluded his pursuers and arrived at Hope. The mob learned that the negro was in jail there and several more cars were commandeered in the rush to the Hempstead county seat.

Sheriff Boyett started in his own car overpowered. NEW YORK, June 15.—The federal district court today granted immunity to John L. Billard, former director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, who was indicted with twenty other directors, past and present, for alleged criminal violation of the anti-trust law.

Mr. Billard claimed immunity on the ground that he had testified before the Interstate Commerce commission and the federal grand jury which in 1913 indicted Charles S. Mellen, then president of the New Haven road, President Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk Railroad company, and Chairman Withers on charges of conspiracy.

The court denied the government's motion that a judgment of conviction be entered against Edward D. Robbins, a director and former counsel of the New Haven road, because of the overruling of Mr. Dobbins' plea in bar to the indictment. This, it was assumed, would result in Mr. Robbins entering a plea to the indictment and standing trial.
